Luckman Sets Jan. 1 Deadline For Food Goal

May Not Mean End Of Meatless Days

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens Food Committee, said today the voluntary food conservation program was going so well that its objective of saving 100,000,000 bushels of wheat and grain to feed Europe's hungry may be achieved before January 1.

Luckman also told a news conference after a talk to representatives of civic, fraternal, veterans and other national organizations that other conservation measures might be instituted by Congress but added that his committee probably would wind up its immediate emergency task on or before the year's end.

"It's my belief that we will be able to accomplish our objectives by the end of the year," Luckman said at the brief news conference before he left hurriedly for an airport to return to Washington.

Asked whether he meant by this comment that January 1 would bring an end to meatless, poultryless and eggless days, Luckman was understood by an Associated Press reporter to mean that it would.

Misinterpretation

A spokesman for Luckman denied, later, however, that the food committee chairman had meant to give this impression. The spokesman added that Luckman refused to predict what conservation methods will be necessary after January 1.

Luckman added that he could not tell what prior action might be taken by Congress.

(Later in Washington, Luckman said in a statement:

"If the Citizen's Food Committee is to help the hungry people of Europe during the coming winter, it must complete its task of grain conservation by January 1, with the continued co-operation of all people, of industry and of agriculture, we should be able to reach our goals by January 1.

"It is, of course, entirely possible that the world food situation may require further conservation measures after that time. If so, I am confident that Congress and the administration will find a solution.")

Luckman's voluntary program—which an associate estimated today has already achieved 35 percent of its grain-saving goal—is separate from other European financial aid proposals which President Truman will lay before Congress at its special session November 17.

At Boston, Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, asserted that the special session should give a single agency responsibility for preventing price increases at home, limiting exports and aiding Europe.

"Off Ground and Flying"

Taft complained in an address that no one in the government has overall responsibility for holding down prices and reconciling "reasonable aid to Europe with the interests of the American people."

Luckman, pointing to progress of the grain-saving drive, told a reporter here earlier: "We are off the ground and flying."

His optimism, on the fourth meatless Tuesday, coincided with another drop in hog prices at Chicago. Live

Clouds In Maine Fire Zone Will Be "Seeded"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Clouds hovering over Maine will be sown with dry ice tomorrow in hopes they will rain and extinguish forest fires which have cost 15 lives and millions in property damage.

Navy officials said two planes probably will be used in the first attempt to extinguish fires with the dry ice method that has been tried widely for aiding crops.

Weather Bureau officials said conditions for rain-making may be more favorable tomorrow or Thursday than on any day since the fire started. But they added "conditions won't be ideal."

Jury Frees Girl In Death Of Sister, 18

Hurled Scissors During Argument

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl screaming "I didn't mean it, Pa, I didn't mean it" was exonerated today by a coroner's jury of the fatal scissors stabbing of her sister.

Despite the jury's verdict of "accidental death" State's Attorney William J. Tuohy said the case would be investigated by the grand jury in its normal routine of business.

Nearly Hysterical

Police Lt. Joseph Mooney said Irene Zawistowski, small, brown-haired high school sophomore, would be released from the juvenile home and no charges would be placed against her.

Nearly hysterical, Irene told of her quarrel yesterday with her sister Adeline, 18, and how she threw the long pointed scissors at her.

"The trouble all started Saturday night. I wore one of Adeline's dresses at the rodeo Friday night, and Saturday night Adeline accused me of lending it to a friend because she couldn't find it. On Sunday we argued again about it," she testified.

Death Ends Argument

"Yesterday Adeline came into the kitchen wearing one of my blouses and I told her to take it off. She said again that I had lent her dress to a friend and that got us on the subject of friends, and then boy friends."

After several remarks about their respective friends Irene said she "picked up the scissors. They were lying on top of the sewing machine. I threw them at my sister."

Chinese Government Bans Democratic League

NANKING, Oct. 28 (AP) — The Chinese government today charged that the outlawed Democratic League was supported and subsidized by the Chinese Communist Party "in a rebellion against the government."

Quickly following up its banning of the league earlier today, the government named four party leaders whom it accused of acting as the Communist high command's brain trusters "directing a Communist-sponsored rebellion against the government from government areas."

The charges, contained in a 6,000-word statement in the form of an interview through the government's own Central News Agency, named the four as League Chairman Chang Lan, Attorneys Shen Chun-Yu and Chang Po-Chun, all in Shanghai, and League Spokesman Lo Lung-Chi.

However, there was no indication that orders for the arrest of any of the four had been issued.

Demos To Pick Site, Set Date For Convention

Philly, San Francisco Bid For 1948 Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Democrats will get to work selecting a 1948 party convention site tomorrow and it looks like Philadelphia. But San Francisco will be bidding for it, too.

The Democratic National Committee, facing other decisions for the presidential campaign year, will gather here for two sessions tomorrow. Besides picking a convention site, it will:

1. Select a convention date, expected to be in early July.

McGrath To Become Chairman

2. Elect Sen. J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, to succeed Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan as committee chairman. Hannegan, chairman since January, 1944, is giving up the committee post because of ill health.

3. Consider a recommendation of a subcommittee headed by Frank M. Hale, Indiana committeeman, to increase the convention delegate bonus for states which went Democratic in the last presidential election. Final approval of the delegate apportionment will be up to the convention itself. The 1944 convention had 1,176 delegates.

4. Act on resolutions praising the administration of President Truman, who is expected to be the party's presidential nominee next year.

GOP To Meet In Philadelphia

Philadelphia's bid for the Democratic convention—it has already won the Republican convention for the week starting June 21—will be presented by a group of 100 headed by Mayor Bernard Samuel, a Republican. Their offer will be the same as that made for the Republican meeting—$200,000, plus $50,000 for entertainment expenses and a free auditorium.

San Francisco interests will be handled by Mrs. Edward Heller, California national committeewoman. Mrs. Heller said she will "try to match" Philadelphia's bid, but will not campaign for the convention "in the sense of canvassing committee members." She said the California climate would be a factor in her bid.

Uprising Is Put Down In Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Oct. 28 (AP) — An uprising against the mayor of the small Bolivian border town of Guayara Mirim has been put down by local police, Minister of Government Alfredo Mollinedo said today.

Previous reports received by the Brazilian Ministry of Justice in Rio de Janeiro said the Bolivian town had been captured by Communist elements and had caused border guards to be alerted along Brazil's remote frontier with Bolivia.

Mollinedo, whose department exercises federal police powers, said that he had sent a police detachment to Guayara Mirim, situated on the headwaters of an Amazon tributary, this morning to prevent further disorders. He said there was no truth in the Brazilian reports of a Communist uprising.

The minister said members of the left-wing Revolutionary Party (Partido Izquierda Revolusionaria) had revolved against the right-wing mayor, Admundo Alpir. They attacked the town hall, but were dispersed by police, who arrested the leaders.

Ricardo Anaya, leader of the left-wing Revolutionary Party, said the Guayara Mirim disorders were entirely local in nature. He blamed the local police chief, who, he said, sided with Mayor Alpir when a local protest movement developed.

Howard Hughes Probe Will Resume Nov. 3

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—(AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said today that public hearings on the Senate War Investigating Committee dealing with the $40,000,000 in government airplane contracts with Howard Hughes will resume Monday, November 3.

Ferguson is chairman of the subcommittee which abruptly recessed hearings last August 11 as testimony bogged down.

The hearings previously were scheduled to resume November 17, but a special session of Congress has been ordered to convene that date.

Ferguson said in a statement that it was necessary to advance the reopening "due to the calling of a special session of the Congress and because of the contemplated press of work in the standing committees of the Senate."

McCormick's Stand

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, said today he would not support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, or Harold Stassen, former Minnesota governor as possible presidential candidates because they "are part of the Wall Street crowd."

More Contempt Actions Launched As Three Film Writers Defy Committee

Lawyer Won't Say He Told Witnesses Not To Answer Commie Questions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP) — In rapid-fire order, contempt actions were started against three more Hollywood screen writers today after they defiantly refused to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities whether they are Communists.

Following similar steps taken against John Howard Lawson yesterday, the congressional probers of the movie capital voted to recommend contempt citations against Dalton D. Trumbo, Albert Maltz and Alvah Bessie.

Loud sound effects punctuated the hearing—the crashing gavel of Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) a buzz of cameras, mingled boos and applause from spectators, who again included movie actors and actresses.

And through it all ran what appeared to be a definite pattern: The committee brings on a witness. The witness won't say whether he is a Communist, or ever has been. He is "excused" from the stand. The committee produces its records on him. Then comes the contempt action.

Conviction May Mean Jail

This is a recommendation to the full nine-member committee to cite the witnesses for contempt of Congress. A subcommittee of only three members has been sitting for two days.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) or the House itself can turn over a contempt citation to a United States attorney for prosecution. Conviction carries a top punishment of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

But Thomas failed to get an admission from Robert W. Kenney, lawyer representing Trumbo, Maltz, Bessie, Lawson and a dozen other prospective witnesses that he has advised them not to answer questions about Communism and to invite prosecution. Kenney said that to require him to say what he is telling the witnesses would be an invasion of the sacred field of lawyer-client relationships.

Thomas told him "you've squirmed out of this one temporarily."

"But—but—but—" he sputtered, "if the committee should determine there is a violation of the Conspiracy Act, we will refer it to the United States attorney."

McNutt Denies Thomas Charge

"I might say the committee squirmed out of one, too," Kenney replied softly. "Neither one of us is intimidating the other. Right, Mr. Chairman?"

The crowded day brought plenty of other developments. At one point or other:

Thomas said the committee "has found more evidence of Communist activities" in Hollywood "than any other place we have ever investigated."

Paul V. McNutt, attorney for the Motion Picture Association and the Motion Picture Producers Association, read a statement that "without proof and on the basis of insinuation and innuendo," Thomas had charged the industry with trying to stifle the inquiry.

"At no time did we want to stifle the inquiry," McNutt asserted.

Mass. Nominates Nicholson, Diniz For House Seat

Vacancy Was Caused By Gifford's Death

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 28 (AP)—Massachusetts Senate President Donald W. Nicholson, Wareham, tonight easily won the GOP nomination in a special Massachusetts primary for the vacant seat in the normally Republican 9th Congressional District.

Nicholson's victory in the Republican primary fulfilled the pre-balloting predictions of political observers.

The winner of the Democratic nomination, who will oppose Nicholson in the election November 18, is a fellow member of the State Legislature, Rep. Jacinto F. Diniz, New Bedford.

Death Causes Vacancy

The vacancy was caused by the death several months ago of Charles L. Gifford (R-Mass.), who held the seat for 25 years.

In the 1946 state primary, Gifford, who was unopposed, polled 13,399 votes while the three Democratic candidates had an aggregate of 7,420, for a combined total of 20,810.

The aggregate total of all candidates in today's primary was 28,826 and political observers attributed the larger Republican vote to this year's four-cornered contest.

The primary campaign was devoid of political issues. In the Republican contest the three leading candidates, who live in widely separated corners of the district, each ran strongest in his home territory.

The percentage balance of Republican to Democratic votes, according to political observers, was normal.

Perry Second In GOP Race

Nicholson carried the GOP primary with a vote of 8,449 against 6,221 for William B. Perry, Jr., New Bedford, and 5,216 for State Rep. Nathaniel Tilden, Scituate.

Churchill Makes Plea For British Free Enterprise

Demands That U. S. Lead Be Followed

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Winston Churchill demanded today that the Labor government cast aside Socialism as a failure and follow the lead of the United States in an effort to achieve prosperity through a system of free enterprise.

The opposition leader, making his fourth parliamentary attempt to unseat Prime Minister Attlee, accused the Labor government of "playing a low-down party game from start to finish," and declared it was time to hold new elections.

"False Theories"

He declared that "false theories" are leading the nation into an ever-darkening alley and praised the "astonishing feats of American mass production."

Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison replied to the attack on the government by calling Churchill's proposals "a plea for economic anarchy" and a "dreadfully reactionary speech."

"Where did this system of free competition and unbridled flow of profit motive land us between the wars?" Morrison asked. "It landed us with persistent depressions and persistent crises."

Morrison referred to a statement by Churchill that rising prices were "not a sign of evil but often of strength."

No-Confidence Vote Sought

"If it be true that all is not well with the controls coming off and the prices rising," Morrison asked, why had President Truman called Congress, "to deal with, among other things, this very question of the inflationary movement in prices consistent upon the removal of controls?"

Churchill's denunciation of the Socialist administration opened a two-day debate on an opposition resolution calling for a virtual vote

Russia Moves To Put Off U.N. Korea Decision

Troop Withdrawal By Jan. 1 Demanded

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 28 (AP) — The Soviet Union demanded today that the United Nations Assembly hear "truly elected representatives of the Korean people" before deciding on the Korean independence issue laid before the delegates by Secretary of State Marshall.

Some delegates said this amounted to a Soviet move for indefinite postponement of the question because of a likelihood that the United States and Russia could not agree on who would be "truly elected representatives."

Troops Withdrawal Demanded

Russia also demanded in the 57-member Political Committee of the Assembly that the United Nations order Russian and American troops out of Korea by next January 1.

The Russians made these twin moves as a followup to their original contention that the United Nations had no right to take up the question of Korean independence. But, noting that the issue is before the Assembly as the result of a majority vote, Andrei A. Gromyko, of Russia, raised the point that the delegates could not discuss the question until the "truly elected" representatives are present.

Yugoslav Resolution Assailed

Ernest Davies, of Britain, told the Assembly's Social Committee that there are both "deliberate distortion of truth" and "withholding" on top news in newspapers of the Soviet Union, White Russia and Yugoslavia.

He spoke against a Yugoslav resolution asking the United Nations members "to take urgent legislative measures to establish the responsibility of the owners of media of information who publish or spread false and tendentious reports calculated to aggravate relations between nations."

Court Challenges Food Committee

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 28—(AP)—Jefferson Circuit Judge W. Scott Miller ruled today that President Truman's Citizens Food Committee does not have the authority to stop production of whisky to save grain to feed Europe.

The jurist issued an injunction ordering Heaven Hill Distilleries, Bardstown, Ky., to resume operations and to fulfill its contract to supply 179 barrels of current production whisky a day to Haven Hill Company, Los Angeles, a sales concern.

The sales company had sued to force production and delivery on the ground that the Citizens Food Committee "is nothing more than a voluntary association without legal sanction or power" to stop whisky production. Its petition declared it was forced to breach contracts with its customers due to failure of the distillery to keep its contract with the sales firm.

In issuing the injunction, Judge Miller said: "I understand the national emergency has passed and this is the first time I ever heard of a European emergency impairing a contract over here. The only way a government, without law, can impair a contract is during a national emergency. Contracts are sacred things."

Judge Miller told attorneys, "If you can show me that the cimmittee has any authority, I will set the ruling aside."

Attorney Is Convicted Of Robbing Blind Man

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 28—(AP)—Harry Lieb, a Newark attorney, was convicted today by a Union County jury on two charges of stealing cigars from a stand in the county court house operated by a blind man.

As the jury of eight women and four men announced its verdict, the 36-year-old lawyer, married and the father of two children, broke down and wept. His weeping yesterday had interrupted the trial for 10 minutes.

Judge Walter L. Hetfield set sentencing for two weeks off and released Lieb on $500 bail. A previous trial had resulted in a jury disagreement.

Marine Gen. Vandegrift Requests Retirement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The man who led the United States Marines ashore at Guadalcanal and upset the Japanese timetable of conquest for the first time in World War II has asked to be retired.

Now past 60, Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift announced today that he has requested Secretary of the Navy Sullivan for release from active duty January 1, 1948.

'TWAS GOOD TRIP — Herman Van Eck, 16 months old, is made ready for a return trip to Amsterdam, Holland, from Philadelphia, where he was flown for removal of paint flakes from his windpipe and lungs. The successful operation was performed at Temple University Hospital. He'll make the transatlantic trip unaccompanied.

Elizabeth's Gifts Shown To Newsmen

Catalogued After Manner Of Museums

LONDON, Oct. 28—(AP)—Officials of the royal household today unveiled some 400 of Princess Elizabeth's wedding presents at a preview for several hundred news writers in St. James Palace.

The first of the gifts from well-wishers throughout the world were assembled in the huge Queen Anne room and picture gallery of the palace and catalogued after the manner of art museums.

Dozens of persons contributed items that are rationed or hard to get in British shops. Favorite among them was nylon or silk hosiery. Several women sent night gowns.

Mountbatten Baby Picture

One well-wisher gave the Princess a framed miniature of Mountbatten as a baby.

The radio station in Lausanne, Switzerland, offered one of those gifts—of which there were many—whose tangible value could hardly be assessed: An invitation for 50 London children to visit Switzerland.

John Masefield, Britain's ageing poet laureate, gave the Princess a poem written especially for her and bound in white vellum.

There was one present for the bridegroom, too. It was a big gold clock from youthful ex-King Peter of Yugoslavia and his wife.

Another Showing Nov. 17

Less than half of the gifts the Princess and her fiance will have received by the wedding day were on display today. Another special showing has been arranged for November 17, when photographers, who were barred today, will also be permitted to go to work.

Most of the costlier presents, the gold, silver and fine jewels, and most of the gifts from other members of the royal family and heads of foreign states are being withheld until the wedding week.

Gifts from President and Mrs. Truman and Ambassador and Mrs. Lewis Douglas—a bowl of engraved glass and a set of 12 Audubon plates of Steuben crystal—will also be on view subsequently.

Woodward, Okla., Fire Destroys Four Buildings

WOODWARD, Okla., Oct. 28 (AP)—Fire accompanied by two heavy explosions destroyed four business buildings in this Northwestern Oklahoma town of 5,500 today and threatened the entire business district before it finally was brought under control.

35,000 Reds Are Repulsed; Many Injured

Attempt To Break Up Meeting Fails

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 29—(AP)—Unofficial estimates of the injured ranged from 40 to 300 early today after a bloody street battle in which Paris police beat back nearly 35,000 Communists who attempted unsuccessfully to break up an anti-Communist meeting.

It was the first major political street battle in Paris since the bitter riots of 1936.

The Communists, responding to a call in their newspaper L'Humanite to break up the meeting in Wagram Hall in Place D'Etoile, sponsored by former Sen. Gustave Gautherot, besieged the meeting place and were routed only after they had broken through three police lines and a wooden barricade.

The riotous street scene began a few hours after Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier opened his government's fight for life in the National Assembly chamber.

Eight Policemen Hurt

An official police statement said eight policemen had been injured, although one foreign correspondent counted 10 being carried away from the fracas. Estimates in the Paris press ranged as high as 150 injured on each side.

There was no estimate on the number of police and mobile guard employed to protect the anti-Communist meeting which police permitted to begin its session after the fighting. More than 1,500 persons attended the meeting, which ended early today.

When the Communists first drew up their forces before the fight, there were about 25,000 of them massed at one end of Avenue Wagram and 8,000 at the other end.

Shouting "Les Soviets partout" (we want Soviets everywhere) the crowd seized the broken bits of the barricade and used them as clubs, until police rallied along a line of mobile guard trucks stretched across the avenue. After the fighting the scene looked like a battlefield.

Several photographers were injured in the melee. Jean Jacques Levy, Associated Press photographer, returned to his office with blood on his shirt and welts across his back from blows by police.

Cameramen Injured

Raymond and George Mejat, brothers who are Fox Movietone cameramen, were taken to the hospital for first aid. Two other Fox Movietone men were beaten. Richard Dale, Acme photographer, was pulled from an awning and beaten by police. Gerard Cheynet, an Associated Press cameraman, was struck by police when he tried to photograph the incident.

The meeting to which the Communists objected had been called by Gautherot "in memory of the states of Eastern Europe." Gen. Charles De Gaulle's new French Peoples Party denied reports that the party was behind the memorial rally.

Gautherot announced at the mass meeting the impending formation of an "international of oppressed peoples" to fight Sovietism.

Kimmel Shot During Pearl Harbor Attack

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 28 (AP) — Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, former Navy commander at Pearl Harbor, was shot above the heart in the Japanese attack on Honolulu, December 7, 1941, Marine Brig. Gen. Omar T. Pfeiffer said last night.

Gen. Pfeiffer, speaking at a Navy Day banquet, said he was standing with Kimmel when the Admiral was hit.

"Fortunately the bullet, a .50 caliber machine gun missile, was nearly spent when it struck the Admiral and he was not seriously injured," said Gen. Pfeiffer.

Sheriff Nonplused

Respected Businessman Turns Out To Be Life Termer Who Fled Prison

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Oct. 28—(AP)—Sheriff H. Raymond Ahlum looked at the picture of a bank robber who had escaped from an Alabama prison while serving a life sentence and exclaimed, "I can't believe it."

But it was true. The picture, Sheriff Ahlum declared today, was that of James Robert Collins, one of Bucks County's most respected businessmen who lived but a block from the sheriff.

Collins appeared in Bucks County about 10 years ago and established a prosperous well-digging firm. He even dug the sheriff's well. He later married a Quackertown, Pa., girl and lived with their two children four miles from Quakertown.

After receiving the picture from Mobile, Ala., signed W. L. Odiorne, identification officer for Mobile County, Sheriff Ahlum said, "I won't believe this until he tells me so himself."

So the sheriff today went out to a well digging project Collins was supervising.

"How are you Bob," said the sheriff, as he approached Collins.

And as Collins answered, a state trooper put handcuffs on his wrist.

"Don't be rough on me sheriff. I know what its all about."

Collins told this story:

In 1928 he was the lookout for a gang of robbers who held up a Mobile bank and killed a prominent banking official. The actual triggerman was executed. Collins was sentenced to live imprisonment. He became a model prisoner and was made a trusty. After seven years and one month he disappeared while driving a stone hauling truck.

Collins made his way north where he became the kind of a man as Sheriff Ahlum put it "who could go into a bank and borrow any amount of money within reason just on his own signature."

"Error" By Montgomery Led To Battle Of Bulge, Patton Wrote In Journal

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22 (INS)—The late Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., charged in his personal journal, published in part today by the Saturday Evening Post, that a "momentous error" by British Field Marshal Montgomery brought about the Battle of the Bulge.

As quoted by the Post, Patton wrote in his journal that World War Two "would have ended sooner and more lives would have been saved" if his Third Army had been permitted to drive directly across the Rhine in the late summer of 1944.

"Blood and Guts" wrote that Montgomery influenced Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to divert gasoline and munitions to the American First Army to help British forces.

Patton charged that his own army was stopped at a time when "we could have gone through and on across the Rhine within 10 days," thus averting the Battle of the Bulge.

"Gen. Omar Bradley called up... and in my opinion, crawfished quite flagrantly in forbidding me to use the 83rd Division," the Third Army chief wrote.

"I believe he had been overtalked, either by (Generals) Middleton or Hodges, or both. Had two combat teams of the 83rd been used to attack Saarburg, that town would have fallen on the 12th or 13th, and we would probably have captured Trier.

"With Trier in our hands, Von Rundstedt's break-through could not have occurred."

Patton also wrote:

"Bradley called to say that Monty wanted all the American troops to stop so that he, Monty, could make a 'dagger thrust with the 21st Army group at the heart of Germany.' Bradley said he thought it would be more like a 'butter-knife thrust.'"

Fliers Land At Shemya, Completing Longest Leg Of Their World Flight

ADAK, Alaska, Oct. 29 (AP) — Pilots Clifford Evans and George Truman landed at Shemya at 5:35 p. m. PST (8:35 p. m. EST) today from Japan on their round the world flight in two small planes. They left Nemuro airfield on Northeastern Hakkaido Island on the longest and probably most dangerous leg of their flight at 4:07 a. m. PST (7:07 a. m. EST) today.

Shemya is 420 miles west of here near the western end of the Aleutians and was prepared late in the war as a major B-29 base.

Pilots Evans, 39, Washington, D. C., and Truman, Los Angeles, left Teterboro, N. J., last August 10 and have made the flight in leisurely hops. They are both former Army pilots and were flying in 100-horsepower Cub planes.

They arrived at Nemuro yesterday after a 240-mile flight from the Army base at Chitose, Japan. The Far Eastern Air Force sent two flying Fortresses as escorts for the two planes on their long hop across the North Pacific.

Their tentative next stops east along the Aleutian chain will be at Amchitka, Adak, Fort Glenn and Anchorage, depending on the weather, a later message from Shemya said.

They flew approximately 1,500 miles on today's flight. Their planes each had a capacity for about 26 hours flight. On each leg of the journey, they had planned to fly within sight of each other if possible.

Weather Report

May Not Mean End Of Meatless Days

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens Food Committee, said today the voluntary food conservation program was going so well that its objective of saving 100,000,000 bushels of wheat and grain to feed Europe's hungry may be achieved before January 1.

Luckman also told a news conference after a talk to representatives of civic, fraternal, veterans and other national organizations that other conservation measures might be instituted by Congress but added that his committee probably would wind up its immediate emergency task on or before the year's end.

"It's my belief that we will be able to accomplish our objectives by the end of the year," Luckman said at the brief news conference before he left hurriedly for an airport to return to Washington.

Asked whether he meant by this comment that January 1 would bring an end to meatless, poultryless and eggless days, Luckman was understood by an Associated Press reporter to mean that it would.

Misinterpretation

A spokesman for Luckman denied, later, however, that the food committee chairman had meant to give this impression. The spokesman added that Luckman refused to predict what conservation methods will be necessary after January 1.

Luckman added that he could not tell what prior action might be taken by Congress.

(Later in Washington, Luckman said in a statement:

"If the Citizen's Food Committee is to help the hungry people of Europe during the coming winter, it must complete its task of grain conservation by January 1, with the continued co-operation of all people, of industry and of agriculture, we should be able to reach our goals by January 1.

"It is, of course, entirely possible that the world food situation may require further conservation measures after that time. If so, I am confident that Congress and the administration will find a solution.")

Luckman's voluntary program—which an associate estimated today has already achieved 35 percent of its grain-saving goal—is separate from other European financial aid proposals which President Truman will lay before Congress at its special session November 17.

At Boston, Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, asserted that the special session should give a single agency responsibility for preventing price increases at home, limiting exports and aiding Europe.

"Off Ground and Flying"

Taft complained in an address that no one in the government has overall responsibility for holding down prices and reconciling "reasonable aid to Europe with the interests of the American people."

Luckman, pointing to progress of the grain-saving drive, told a reporter here earlier: "We are off the ground and flying."

Clouds In Maine Fire Zone Will Be "Seeded"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Clouds hovering over Maine will be sown with dry ice tomorrow in hopes they will rain and extinguish forest fires which have cost 15 lives and millions in property damage.

Navy officials said two planes probably will be used in the first attempt to extinguish fires with the dry ice method that has been tried widely for aiding crops.

Weather Bureau officials said conditions for rain-making may be more favorable tomorrow or Thursday than on any day since the fire started. But they added "conditions won't be ideal."

Jury Frees Girl In Death Of Sister, 18

Hurled Scissors During Argument

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl screaming "I didn't mean it, Pa, I didn't mean it" was exonerated today by a coroner's jury of the fatal scissors stabbing of her sister.

Despite the jury's verdict of "accidental death" State's Attorney William J. Tuohy said the case would be investigated by the grand jury in its normal routine of business.

Nearly Hysterical

Police Lt. Joseph Mooney said Irene Zawistowski, small, brown-haired high school sophomore, would be released from the juvenile home and no charges would be placed against her.

Nearly hysterical, Irene told of her quarrel yesterday with her sister Adeline, 18, and how she threw the long pointed scissors at her.

"The trouble all started Saturday night. I wore one of Adeline's dresses at the rodeo Friday night, and Saturday night Adeline accused me of lending it to a friend because she couldn't find it. On Sunday we argued again about it," she testified.

Death Ends Argument

"Yesterday Adeline came into the kitchen wearing one of my blouses and I told her to take it off. She said again that I had lent her dress to a friend and that got us on the subject of friends, and then boy friends."

After several remarks about their respective friends Irene said she "picked up the scissors. They were lying on top of the sewing machine. I threw them at my sister."

Chinese Government Bans Democratic League

NANKING, Oct. 28 (AP) — The Chinese government today charged that the outlawed Democratic League was supported and subsidized by the Chinese Communist Party "in a rebellion against the government."

Quickly following up its banning of the league earlier today, the government named four party leaders whom it accused of acting as the Communist high command's brain trusters "directing a Communist-sponsored rebellion against the government from government areas."

The charges, contained in a 6,000-word statement in the form of an interview through the government's own Central News Agency, named the four as League Chairman Chang Lan, Attorneys Shen Chun-Yu and Chang Po-Chun, all in Shanghai, and League Spokesman Lo Lung-Chi.

However, there was no indication that orders for the arrest of any of the four had been issued.

Philly, San Francisco Bid For 1948 Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Democrats will get to work selecting a 1948 party convention site tomorrow and it looks like Philadelphia. But San Francisco will be bidding for it, too.

The Democratic National Committee, facing other decisions for the presidential campaign year, will gather here for two sessions tomorrow. Besides picking a convention site, it will:

1. Select a convention date, expected to be in early July.

McGrath To Become Chairman

2. Elect Sen. J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, to succeed Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan as committee chairman. Hannegan, chairman since January, 1944, is giving up the committee post because of ill health.

3. Consider a recommendation of a subcommittee headed by Frank Hale, Indiana committeeman, to increase the convention delegates for us for states which went Democratic in the last presidential election. Final approval of the delegate apportionment will be up to the convention itself. The 1944 convention had 1,176 delegates.

4. Act on resolutions praising the administration of President Truman, who is expected to be the party's presidential nominee next year.

GOP To Meet In Philadelphia

Philadelphia's bid for the Democratic convention — it has already won the Republican convention for the week starting June 21—will be presented by a group of 100 headed by Mayor Bernard Samuel, a Republican. Their offer will be the same as that made for the Republican meeting—$200,000, plus $50,000 for entertainment expenses and a free auditorium.

San Francisco interests will be handled by Mrs. Edward Heller, California national committeewoman. Mrs. Heller said she will "try to match" Philadelphia's bid, but will not campaign for the convention "in the sense of canvassing committee members." She said the California climate would be a factor in her bid.

Uprising Is Put Down In Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Oct. 28 (AP) — An uprising against the mayor of the small Bolivian border town of Guayara Mirim has been put down by local police, Minister of Government Alfredo Mollinedo said today.

Previous reports received by the Brazilian Ministry of Justice in Rio de Janeiro said the Bolivian town had been captured by Communist elements and had caused border guards to be alerted along Brazil's remote frontier with Bolivia.

Mollinedo, whose department exercises federal police powers, said that he had sent a police detachment to Guayara Mirim, situated on the headwaters of an Amazon tributary, this morning to prevent further disorders. He said there was no truth in the Brazilian reports of a Communist uprising.

The minister said members of the left-wing Revolutionary Party (Partido Izquierda Revolusionaria) had revolved against the right-wing mayor, Admundo Alpir. They attacked the town hall, but were dispersed by police, who arrested the leaders.

Ricardo Anaya, leader of the left-wing Revolutionary Party, said the Guayara Mirim disorders were entirely local in nature. He blamed the local police chief, who, he said, sided with Mayor Alpir when a local protest movement developed.

Howard Hughes Probe Will Resume Nov. 3

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—(AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said today that public hearings on the Senate War Investigating Committee dealing with the $40,000,000 in government airplane contracts with Howard Hughes will resume Monday, November 3.

Ferguson is chairman of the subcommittee which abruptly recessed hearings last August 11 as testimony bogged down.

The hearings previously were scheduled to resume November 17, but a special session of Congress has been ordered to convene that date.

Ferguson said in a statement that it was necessary to advance the reopening "due to the calling of a special session of the Congress and because of the contemplated press of work in the standing committees of the Senate."

McCormick's Stand

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, said today he would not support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, or Harold Stassen, former Minnesota governor as possible presidential candidates because they "are part of the Wall Street crowd."

More Contempt Actions Launched As Three Film Writers Defy Committee

Lawyer Won't Say He Told Witnesses Not To Answer Commie Questions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP) — In rapid-fire order, contempt actions were started against three more Hollywood screen writers today after they defiantly refused to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities whether they are Communists.

Following similar steps taken against John Howard Lawson yesterday, the congressional probers of the movie capital voted to recommend contempt citations against Dalton D. Trumbo, Albert Maltz and Alvah Bessie.

Loud sound effects punctuated the hearing—the chairman, J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) a buzz [illegible] boos and applause [illegible] who again [illegible] and actress [illegible]

And [illegible] appeal [illegible]

Jail

[illegible]tion to the committee to [illegible]s for contempt of [illegible]. A subcommittee of only [illegible] members has been sitting for two days.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) of the House itself can turn over a contempt citation to a United States attorney for prosecution. Conviction carries a top punishment of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

But Thomas failed to get an admission from Robert W. Kenney, lawyer representing Trumbo, Maltz, Bessie, Lawson and a dozen other prospective witnesses that he has advised them not to answer questions about Communism and to invite prosecution. Kenney said that to require him to say what he is telling the witnesses would be an invasion of the sacred field of lawyer-client relationships.

Thomas told him "you've spoken out of this one temporarily."

"But—but—but—" he sputtered, "if the committee should determine there is a violation of the Constitution? Ah, we will refer it to the United States attorney."

Thomas Charge

"I might say the committee [illegible] one of one, too," Kenney [illegible]tly. "Neither one of us is [illegible]idating the other. Right, Chairman?"

The crowded day brought plenty of other developments. At one point or other:

Thomas said the committee "has found more evidence of Communist activities" in Hollywood "than any other place we have ever investigated."

Paul V. McNutt, attorney for the Motion Picture Association and the Motion Picture Producers Association, read a statement that "without proof and on the basis of insinuation and innuendo," Thomas had charged the industry with trying to stifle the inquiry.

"At no time did we want to stifle the inquiry," McNutt asserted.

Vacancy Was Caused By Gifford's Death

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 28 (AP)—Massachusetts Senate President Donald W. Nicholson, Wareham, tonight easily won the GOP nomination in a special Massachusetts primary for the vacant seat in the normally Republican 9th Congressional District.

Nicholson's victory in the Republican primary fulfilled the pre-balloting predictions of political observers.

The winner of the Democratic nomination, who will oppose Nicholson in the election November 18, is a fellow member of the State Legislature, Rep. Jacinto F. Diniz, New Bedford.

Death Causes Vacancy

The vacancy was caused by the death several months ago of Charles L. Gifford (R-Mass.), who held the seat for 25 years.

In the 1946 state primary, Gifford, who was unopposed, polled 13,399 votes while the three Democratic candidates had an aggregate of 7,420, for a combined total of 20,810.

The aggregate total of all candidates in today's primary was 28,826 and political observers attributed the larger Republican vote to this year's four-cornered contest.

The primary campaign was devoid of political issues. In the Republican contest the three leading candidates, who live in widely separated corners of the district, each ran strongest in his home territory.

The percentage balance of Republican to Democratic votes, according to political observers, was normal.

Perry Second In GOP Race

Nicholson carried the GOP primary with a vote of 8,449 against 6,221 for William B. Perry, Jr., New Bedford, and 5,216 for State Rep. Nathaniel Tilden, Scituate.

Churchill Makes Plea For British Free Enterprise

Demands That U. S. Lead Be Followed

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Winston Churchill demanded today that the Labor government cast aside Socialism as a failure and follow the lead of the United States in an effort to achieve prosperity through a system of free enterprise.

The opposition leader, making his fourth parliamentary attempt to unseat Prime Minister Attlee, accused the Labor government of "playing a low-down party game from start to finish," and declared it was time to hold new elections.

"False Theories"

He declared that "false theories" are leading the nation into an ever-darkening alley and praised the "astonishing feats of American mass production."

Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison replied to the attack on the government by calling Churchill's proposals "a plea for economic anarchy" and a "dreadfully reactionary speech."

"Where did this system of free competition and unbridled flow of profit motive land us between the wars?" Morrison asked. "It landed us with persistent depressions and persistent crises."

Morrison referred to a statement by Churchill that rising prices were "not a sign of evil but often of strength."

No-Confidence Vote Sought

"If it be true that all is not well with the controls coming off and the prices rising," Morrison asked, why had President Truman called Congress, "to deal with, among other things, this very question of the inflationary movement in prices consistent upon the removal of controls?"

Churchill's denunciation of the Socialist administration opened a two-day debate on an opposition resolution calling for a virtual vote

"Error" By Montgomery Led To Battle Of Bulge, Patton Wrote In Journal

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22 (INS)—The late Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., charged in his personal journal, published in part today by the Saturday Evening Post, that a "momentous error" by British Field Marshal Montgomery brought about the Battle of the Bulge.

As quoted by the Post, Patton wrote in his journal that World War Two "would have ended sooner and more lives would have been saved" if his Third Army had been permitted to drive directly across the Rhine in the late summer of 1944.

"Blood and Guts" wrote that Montgomery influenced Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to divert gasoline and munitions to the American First Army to help British forces.

Patton charged that his own army was stopped at a time when "we could have gone through and on across the Rhine within 10 days," thus averting the Battle of the Bulge.

"Gen. Omar Bradley called up... and in my opinion, crawfished quite flagrantly in forbidding me to use the 83rd Division," the Third Army chief wrote.

"I believe he had been overtalked, either by (Generals) Middleton or Hodges, or both. Had two combat teams of the 83rd been used to attack Saarburg, that town would have fallen on the 12th or 13th, and we would probably have captured Trier.

"With Trier in our hands, Von Rundstedt's break-through could not have occurred."

Patton also wrote:

"Bradley called to say that Monty wanted all the American troops to stop so that he, Monty, could make a 'dagger thrust with the 21st Army group at the heart of Germany.' Bradley said he thought it would be more like a 'butter-knife thrust.'"

Russia Moves To Put Off U.N. Korea Decision

Troop Withdrawal By Jan. 1 Demanded

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 28 (AP) — The Soviet Union demanded today that the United Nations Assembly hear "truly elected representatives of the Korean people" before deciding on the Korean independence issue laid before the delegates by Secretary of State Marshall.

Some delegates said this amounted to a Soviet move for indefinite postponement of the question because of a likelihood that the United States and Russia could not agree on who would be "truly elected" representatives.

Troops Withdrawal Demanded

Russia also demanded in the 57-member Political Committee of the Assembly that the United Nations order Russian and American troops out of Korea by next January 1.

The Russians made these twin moves as a followup to their original contention that the United Nations had no right to take up the question of Korean independence. But, noting that the issue is before the Assembly as the result of a majority vote, Andrei A. Gromyko, of Russia, raised the point that the delegates could not discuss the question until the "truly elected" representatives are present.

Yugoslav Resolution Assailed

Ernest Davies, of Britain, told the Assembly's Social Committee that there are both "deliberate distortion of truth" and "withholding" on top news in newspapers of the Soviet Union, White Russia and Yugoslavia.

He spoke against a Yugoslav resolution asking the United Nations members "to take urgent legislative measures to establish the responsibility of the owners of media of information who publish or spread false and tendentious reports calculated to aggravate relations between nations."

Court Challenges Food Committee

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 28—(AP)—Jefferson Circuit Judge W. Scott Miller ruled today that President Truman's Citizens Food Committee does not have the authority to stop production of whisky to save grain to feed Europe.

The jurist issued an injunction ordering Heaven Hill Distilleries, Bardstown, Ky., to resume operations and to fulfill its contract to supply 179 barrels of current production whisky a day to Haven Hill Company, Los Angeles, a sales concern.

The sales company had sued to force production and delivery on the ground that the Citizens Food Committee "is nothing more than a voluntary association without legal sanction or power" to stop whisky production. Its petition declared it was forced to breach contracts with its customers due to failure of the distillery to keep its contract with the sales firm.

In issuing the injunction, Judge Miller said: "I understand the national emergency has passed and this is the first time I ever heard of a European emergency impairing a contract over here. The only way a government, without law, can impair a contract is during a national emergency. Contracts are sacred things."

Judge Miller told attorneys, "If you can show me that the cimmittee has any authority, I will set the ruling aside."

Attorney Is Convicted Of Robbing Blind Man

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 28—(AP)—Harry Lieb, a Newark attorney, was convicted today by a Union County jury on two charges of stealing cigars from a stand in the county court house operated by a blind man.

As the jury of eight women and four men announced its verdict, the 36-year-old lawyer, married and the father of two children, broke down and wept. His weeping yesterday had interrupted the trial for 10 minutes.

Judge Walter L. Hetfield set sentencing for two weeks off and released Lieb on $500 bail. A previous trial had resulted in a jury disagreement.

Marine Gen. Vandegrift Requests Retirement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The man who led the United States Marines ashore at Guadalcanal and upset the Japanese timetable of conquest for the first time in World War II has asked to be retired.

Now past 60, Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift announced today that he has requested Secretary of the Navy Sullivan for release from active duty January 1, 1948.

'TWAS GOOD TRIP — Herman Van Eck, 16 months old, is made ready for a return trip to Amsterdam, Holland, from Philadelphia, where he was flown for removal of paint flakes from his windpipe and lungs. The successful operation was performed at Temple University Hospital. He'll make the transatlantic trip unaccompanied.

Elizabeth's Gifts Shown To Newsmen

Catalogued After Manner Of Museums

LONDON, Oct. 28—(AP)—Officials of the royal household today unveiled some 400 of Princess Elizabeth's wedding presents at a preview for several hundred news writers in St. James Palace.

The first of the gifts from well-wishers throughout the world were assembled in the huge Queen Anne room and picture gallery of the palace and catalogued after the manner of art museums.

Dozens of persons contributed items that are rationed or hard to get in British shops. Favorite among them was nylon or silk hosiery. Several women sent night gowns.

Mountbatten Baby Picture

One well-wisher gave the Princess a framed miniature of Mountbatten as a baby.

The radio station in Lausanne, Switzerland, offered one of those gifts—of which there were many—whose tangible value could hardly be assessed: An invitation for 50 London children to visit Switzerland.

John Masefield, Britain's ageing poet laureate, gave the Princess a poem written especially for her and bound in white vellum.

There was one present for the bridegroom, too. It was a big gold clock from youthful ex-King Peter of Yugoslavia and his wife.

Another Showing Nov. 17

Less than half of the gifts the Princess and her fiance will have received by the wedding day were on display today. Another special showing has been arranged for November 17, when photographers, who were barred today, will also be permitted to go to work.

Most of the costlier presents, the gold, silver and fine jewels, and most of the gifts from other members of the royal family and heads of foreign states are being withheld until the wedding week.

Gifts from President and Mrs. Truman and Ambassador and Mrs. Lewis Douglas—a bowl of engraved glass and a set of 12 Audubon plates of Steuben crystal—will also be on view subsequently.

Woodward, Okla., Fire Destroys Four Buildings

WOODWARD, Okla., Oct. 28 (AP)—Fire accompanied by two heavy explosions destroyed four business buildings in this Northwestern Oklahoma town of 5,500 today and threatened the entire business district before it finally was brought under control.

Attempt To Break Up Meeting Fails

PARIS, Wednesday, Oct. 29—(AP)—Unofficial estimates of the injured ranged from 40 to 300 early today after a bloody street battle in which Paris police beat back nearly 35,000 Communists who attempted unsuccessfully to break up an anti-Communist meeting.

It was the first major political street battle in Paris since the bitter riots of 1936.

The Communists, responding to a call in their newspaper L'Humanite to break up the meeting in Wagram Hall in Place D'Etoile, sponsored by former Sen. Gustave Gautherot, besieged the meeting place and were routed only after they had broken through three police lines and a wooden barricade.

The riotous street scene began a few hours after Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier opened his government's fight for life in the National Assembly chamber.

Eight Policemen Hurt

An official police statement said eight policemen had been injured, although one foreign correspondent counted 10 being carried away from the fracas. Estimates in the Paris press ranged as high as 150 injured on each side.

There was no estimate on the number of police and mobile guard employed to protect the anti-Communist meeting which police permitted to begin its session after the fighting. More than 1,500 persons attended the meeting, which ended early today.

When the Communists first drew up their forces before the fight, there were about 25,000 of them massed at one end of Avenue Wagram and 8,000 at the other end.

Shouting "Les Soviets partout" (we want Soviets everywhere) the crowd seized the broken bits of the barricade and used them as clubs, until police rallied along a line of mobile guard trucks stretched across the avenue. After the fighting the scene looked like a battlefield.

Several photographers were injured in the melee. Jean Jacques Levy, Associated Press photographer, returned to his office with blood on his shirt and welts across his back from blows by police.

Cameramen Injured

Raymond and George Mejat, brothers who are Fox Movietone cameramen, were taken to the hospital for first aid. Two other Fox Movietone men were beaten. Richard Dale, Acme photographer, was pulled from an awning and beaten by police. Gerard Cheynet, an Associated Press cameraman, was struck by police when he tried to photograph the incident.

The meeting to which the Communists objected had been called by Gautherot "in memory of the states of Eastern Europe." Gen. Charles De Gaulle's new French Peoples Party denied reports that the party was behind the memorial rally.

Gautherot announced at the mass meeting the impending formation of an "international of oppressed peoples" to fight Sovietism.

Kimmel Shot During Pearl Harbor Attack

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 28 (AP) — Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, former Navy commander at Pearl Harbor, was shot above the heart in the Japanese attack on Honolulu, December 7, 1941, Marine Brig. Gen. Omar T. Pfeiffer said last night.

Gen. Pfeiffer, speaking at a Navy Day banquet, said he was standing with Kimmel when the Admiral was hit.

"Fortunately the bullet, a .50 caliber machine gun missile, was nearly spent when it struck the Admiral and he was not seriously injured," said Gen. Pfeiffer.

Sheriff Nonplused

Respected Businessman Turns Out To Be Life Termer Who Fled Prison

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Oct. 28—(AP)—Sheriff H. Raymond Ahlum looked at the picture of a bank robber who had escaped from an Alabama prison while serving a life sentence and exclaimed, "I can't believe it."

But it was true. The picture, Sheriff Ahlum declared today, was that of James Robert Collins, one of Bucks County's most respected businessmen who lived but a block from the sheriff.

Collins appeared in Bucks County about 10 years ago and established a prosperous well-digging firm. He even dug the sheriff's well. He later married a Quackertown, Pa., girl and lived with their two children four miles from Quakertown.

After receiving the picture from Mobile, Ala., signed W. L. Odiorne, identification officer for Mobile County, Sheriff Ahlum said, "I won't believe this until he tells me so himself."

So the sheriff today went out to a well digging project Collins was supervising.

"How are you Bob," said the sheriff, as he approached Collins.

And as Collins answered, a state trooper put handcuffs on his wrist.

"Don't be rough on me sheriff. I know what its all about."

Collins told this story:

In 1928 he was the lookout for a gang of robbers who held up a Mobile bank and killed a prominent banking official. The actual triggerman was executed. Collins was sentenced to live imprisonment. He became a model prisoner and was made a trusty. After seven years and one month he disappeared while driving a stone hauling truck.

Collins made his way north where he became the kind of a man as Sheriff Ahlum put it "who could go into a bank and borrow any amount of money within reason just on his own signature."

Had B-17 Escorts

Fliers Land At Shemya, Completing Longest Leg Of Their World Flight

ADAK, Alaska, Oct. 29 (AP) — Pilots Clifford Evans and George Truman landed at Shemya at 5:35 p. m. PST (8:35 p. m. EST) today from Japan on their round the world flight in two small planes. They left Nemuro airfield on Northeastern Hakkaido Island on the longest and probably most dangerous leg of their flight at 4:07 a. m. PST (7:07 a. m. EST) today.

Shemya is 420 miles west of here near the western end of the Aleutians and was prepared late in the war as a major B-29 base.

Word of their arrival at Shemya was messaged here by the Army Signal Corps representative at Shemya.

Pilots Evans, 39, Washington, D. C., and Truman, Los Angeles, left Teterboro, N. J., last August 10 and have made the flight in leisurely hops. They are both former Army pilots and were flying in 100-horsepower Cub planes.

They arrived at Nemuro yesterday after a 240-mile flight from the Army base at Chitose, Japan. The Far Eastern Air Force sent two flying Fortresses as escorts for the two planes on their long hop across the North Pacific.

Their tentative next stops east along the Aleutian chain will be at Amchitka, Adak, Fort Glenn and Anchorage, depending on the weather, a later message from Shemya said.

They flew approximately 1,500 miles on today's flight. Their planes each had a capacity for about 26 hours flight. On each leg of the journey, they had planned to fly within sight of each other if possible.

Labor Party Head Has Fled Poland

WARSAW, Oct. 28 (AP)—Associates of Karol Popiel, 55, leader of the opposition Christian Labor Party, said tonight that Popiel had left Poland for France a day before the disappearance eight days ago of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, leader of the anti-Communist Polish Peasant Party.

Friends of Popiel quoted him as saying he did not intend to return until "conditions improve." He had obtained a passport two days prior to his departure.

His Catholic-supported Labor Party, like the Peasants, was in opposition to the Communist-led Warsaw regime. He had attacked the security police for alleged repressive action. Subsequently, Popiel and seven deputies walked out of Parliament and a new pro-government Labor Party was formed.

Meanwhile, lack of definite news about Mikolajczyk raised fears in some quarters as to the reasons for his continued "disappearance" and speculation that he was possibly arrested while attempting to leave Poland.

Mikolajczyk left Warsaw by automobile Monday night, October 20. His political foes then said they believed he had left the country.

There have been a dozen versions of his whereabouts, but the most generally accepted story here was that he had gone to the Baltic coast, hired a small boat, landed in Sweden and was now in Stockholm.

Weather In Nearby States

WEST VIRGINIA — Scattered showers and cooler today. Tomorrow partly cloudy.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA — Occasional rain today probably ending early tomorrow. Cooler tonight.

QUIZZED ABOUT PAST—James Robert Collins is shown above with his wife, Agnes, at the Bucks County jail, Doylestown, Pa., where Collins is being held for questioning. Sheriff H. Raymond Ahlum, of Bucks County, said Collins is wanted by Mobile, Ala., authorities who advised a man answering his description escaped prison 10 years ago while serving a life term for bank robbery.

Halloween Becoming More Diluted In State

[By The Associated Press]

Halloween, the signal in the past for unadulterated mischief, is becoming more and more diluted in Maryland.

Moving to cut down destructive pranks, at least seven Maryland communities will get into the fun this year.

Youngsters in these cities will be given a chance to dress up to their heart's content and put their "treat or tricks" on a major scale by competing for big money prizes in organized parades.

Berlin, Easton, Frederick, St. Michael's, Hagerstown, Elkton and Frostburg are sponsoring the parades which are designed to keep the youngsters concentrated in the downtown sections where they will be under watchful eyes.

Man Freed In Wife's Mysterious Death

CHEVY CHASE, Md., Oct. 28 (AP)—Charles G. Perkins, Army electrical engineer, was released by Montgomery County police today after several hours of questioning about the death of his 40-year-old wife whose body apparently lay in her home for several days.

States Attorney Walter W. Dawson, announcing Perkins release, emphasized that an investigation will be continued.

The body of Mrs. Bernice Perkins was sent to Baltimore for an autopsy after being found in the bedroom of her home yesterday. Dr. Earl L. Royer, assistant Baltimore medical examiner, said examination disclosed she had been dead for "several days" and that there were no signs of internal or external violence on the body.

Baltimore-York Road Planned, Lane Reveals

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 28—(AP)—Gov. W. Preston Lane announced tonight Maryland expects to start constructing a Baltimore-York road next year and at the same time invited Pennsylvania to take part in a shad restoration program.

In a speech prepared for delivery before a joint meeting of the Baltimore Association of Commerce and the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, the Governor said, "In a large measure the location of this proposed new artery north from Baltimore City to the Pennsylvania line will depend on the steps taken by Baltimore City to receive traffic from this highway and feed traffic to it."

hogs slipped 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds. This is a total sag of $4 since the first meatless day when top-quality animals commanded $30 a hundred. However, wheat hovered at the 83 level.

Sen. Lucas (D-Ill) told reporters at the White House that Mr. Truman is at work on the double-barreled program which he will present to the special session of Congress. He has appealed for emergency winter aid for Europe and inflation curbs.

Mass. Nominates

Fourth in the field was Harry L. Avery, Bourne, with 691.

Diniz, in winning the Democratic nomination, defeated another legislator—there were four in all among the candidates—State Sen. Edward L. Peirce, New Bedford.

Diniz polled 4,125 to 3,077 for Peirce.

Larger Counties May Seek Wider Taxing Authority

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 28—(AP)—Whatever broadened taxing power the Legislature gives to big Baltimore City probably will be sought by some of the larger counties, the Legislative Council learned today.

While Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., and Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Jr., of Baltimore, conferred in Annapolis on a bill to satisfy the city's revenue needs, legislators gathered in Baltimore let it be known they wanted to see the measure and determine what the big counties might want to do.

Lane yesterday called a special session for November 5 to pass a tax bill for Baltimore.

The Governor and the Mayor ended their conference without a statement, but it has been made clear that the city would be allowed extended taxing powers which are not in conflict with any of those exercised by the state.

Council To Meet Monday

A draft of the tax bill may be completed by Thursday, the Legislative Council was told, and will be the subject of a discussion at another meeting here next Monday.

A lengthy discussion on the propriety of "inviting" counties to seek broadened tax powers just now was precipitated after Senate President Joseph H. Byrnes advised the council that Gov. Lane has said he had no objection to counties asking for the same revenue privileges as Baltimore City.

Byrnes said he understood that Baltimore County, Montgomery County and possibly Allegany County, might want to avail themselves of the privilege.

Both Byrnes and Senate Majority Leader Harold Sothoron (D-Prince George's) were emphatic that no "invitation" was intended but that if counties found themselves in financial troubles they should be allowed to ask for means of solving their problems.

Sales Tax Battle Looms

Although the special session was called mainly to help Baltimore, from 30 to 40 "emergency" measures were before the council today, and there was new evidence that a battle over the state's two per cent sales tax was on its way.

Delegate Pollack (D-Balto 4th) said in a statement he had 45 House votes lined up for repeal of the sales tax, which he has opposed from the start.

Pollack said that as an alternative he would offer a program similar in part to one placed recently before the council by Attorney Hyman Pressman, Baltimore. Among other things, Pollack advocates a law to license bookmakers.

Congressman Reports U.S. Casualties In Trieste

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — (AP) — A congressman recently returned from Europe today charged Communists with 63 "incidents of armed aggression" resulting in many casualties to United States forces in the Trieste area.

Rep. Marion T. Bennett (R-Mo.) said in a statement that the incidents had hitherto been kept secret by Army censorship but that he had been furnished the information by American Military Intelligence officers while on a six-week tour of the Balkan area and the Near East.

The Army, in answer to questions, said officially:

"The Army has no information of any soldier wounded or killed in the Trieste area except those already published. (It was explained that the published casualties referred to resulted when an American transport plane was shot down by Yugoslavian forces over Yugoslavia early this year).

"A cable has been sent to Maj. Gen. Bryant Moore, the commander at Trieste, as a further check for more information."

Boys Given Head Start Over Cops Are Acquitted

YORK, Pa., Oct. 28 (AP) — Two Maryland youths, who were given a 15-minute head start over Pennsylvania police by a Baltimore judge and then later gave themselves up, today were acquitted with three others of charges of stealing a quantity of airplane parts.

The five acquitted were William H. Miller, 18, and George Miller, 20, cousins, Manchester, Md.; Robert W. Green, 34, Reistertown, Md.; Donald May, 17, Manchester, and Philip Knatz, 21, Greenmount, Md.

The Miller boys used the 15-minute leeway given them by the judge to evade Pensylvania police who had gone to Maryland to arrest them in connection with the case.

HONOLULU, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Air Force Public Relations Office said today the War Department had placed a secrecy ban on findings in the Flying Fortress crash August 16 which killed Ambassador George Atcheson, Jr., and nine others.

Baltimore Police Capture Burglary Suspects After Running Gun Battle

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28 (AP) — An alert policeman today broke up the burglarizing of a vending machine office and detectives "held for investigation" six New Yorkers flushed from an apartment house after a running gun battle through downtown streets.

Patrolman William McGee started that chase after noticing several men acting suspiciously around the vending machine office, right across from police headquarters.

Six men climbed into a car with New York license plates. McGee commandered a cab and took out after them. After several blocks, one of the car's occupants fired two shots. McGee returned them. Several more shots were exchanged before the cab fell behind. Edward J. Smith, the cabbie, said it was too risky for him—"I've got a family".

McGee turned in an alarm. When the crew of a prowl car relayed it to Patrolman James Glenn, he reported a car with New York license plates and six occupants just had parked in front of the Perkins housing project, a development several blocks southeast of the main business section.

Glenn and the patrol crew summoned help and started a house-to-house canvass.

At the tenth house, after residents along the block were routed from their 4:30 a. m. slumbers, a woman shouted from a second floor window her refusal to let the police in.

Then she changed her mind and opened the door, saying only she and her husband were inside.

With drawn guns, the riot squad went in. They found two men in one closet, one in another, two under a bed and one under a divan. All wore kid gloves and were fully dressed. Lt. Ralph Amrein said he confiscated several boxes of ammunition but could find no guns.

Hungary Asked To Explain AP Secretary's Arrest

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 28 (AP)—The American Legation demanded tonight that the Hungarian Ministry of Foreign Affairs disclose specifically the police charges against Miss Elizabeth Pallos, 31-year-old American citizen arrested at her apartment late last night and held incommunicado.

Miss Pallos, a secretary here for the Associated Press, is a former secretary to the headquarters commandant of the United States military mission in Hungary.

She was the second American citizen to be arrested here within two months. Stephen Thuransky, 54, a businessman, was seized by police for alleged anti-Communist expressions but was rescued when he fell into an American car and was driven off by an American official.

Labor Party Head Has Fled Poland

WARSAW, Oct. 28 (AP)—Associates of Karol Popiel, 55, leader of the opposition Christian Labor Party, said tonight that Popiel had left Poland for France a day before the disappearance eight days ago of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, leader of the anti-Communist Polish Peasant Party.

Friends of Popiel quoted him as saying he did not intend to return until "conditions improve." He had obtained a passport two days prior to his departure.

His Catholic-supported Labor Party, like the Peasants, was in opposition to the Communist-led Warsaw regime. He had attacked the security police for alleged repressive action. Subsequently, Popiel and seven deputies walked out of Parliament and a new pro-government Labor Party was formed.

Meanwhile, lack of definite news about Mikolajczyk raised fears in some quarters as to the reasons for his continued "disappearance" and speculation that he was possibly arrested while attempting to leave Poland.

Mikolajczyk left Warsaw by automobile Monday night, October 20. His political foes then said they believed he had left the country.

There have been a dozen versions of his whereabouts, but the most generally accepted story here was that he had gone to the Baltic coast, hired a small boat, landed in Sweden and was now in Stockholm.

Halloween Becoming More Diluted In State

[By The Associated Press]

Halloween, the signal in the past for unadulterated mischief, is becoming more and more diluted in Maryland.

Moving to cut down destructive pranks, at least seven Maryland communities will get into the fun this year.

Youngsters in these cities will be given a chance to dress up to their heart's content and put their "treat or tricks" on a major scale by competing for big money prizes in organized parades.

Berlin, Easton, Frederick, St. Michael's, Hagerstown, Elkton and Frostburg are sponsoring the parades which are designed to keep the youngsters concentrated in the downtown sections where they will be under watchful eyes.

Man Freed In Wife's Mysterious Death

CHEVY CHASE, Md., Oct. 28 (AP)—Charles G. Perkins, Army electrical engineer, was released by Montgomery County police today after several hours of questioning about the death of his 40-year-old wife whose body apparently lay in her home for several days.

States Attorney Walter W. Dawson, announcing Perkins release, emphasized that an investigation will be continued.

The body of Mrs. Bernice Perkins was sent to Baltimore for an autopsy after being found in the bedroom of her home yesterday. Dr. Earl L. Royer, assistant Baltimore medical examiner, said examination disclosed she had been dead for "several days" and that there were no signs of internal or external violence on the body.

Larger Counties May Seek Wider Taxing Authority

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 28—(AP)—Whatever broadened taxing power the Legislature gives to big Baltimore City probably will be sought by some of the larger counties, the Legislative Council learned today.

While Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., and Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Jr., of Baltimore, conferred in Annapolis on a bill to satisfy the city's revenue needs, legislators gathered in Baltimore let it be known they wanted to see the measure and determine what the big counties might want to do.

Lane yesterday called a special session for November 5 to pass a tax bill for Baltimore.

The Governor and the Mayor ended their conference without a statement, but it has been made clear that the city would be allowed extended taxing powers which are not in conflict with any of those exercised by the state.

Council To Meet Monday

A draft of the tax bill may be completed by Thursday, the Legislative Council was told, and will be the subject of a discussion at another meeting here next Monday.

A lengthy discussion on the propriety of "inviting" counties to seek broadened tax powers just now was precipitated after Senate President Joseph H. Byrnes advised the council that Gov. Lane has said he had no objection to counties asking for the same revenue privileges as Baltimore City.

Byrnes said he understood that Baltimore County, Montgomery County and possibly Allegany County, might want to avail themselves of the privilege.

Both Byrnes and Senate Majority Leader Harold Sothoron (D-Prince George's) were emphatic that no "invitation" was intended but that if counties found themselves in financial troubles they should be allowed to ask for means of solving their problems.

Sales Tax Battle Looms

Although the special session was called mainly to help Baltimore, from 30 to 40 "emergency" measures were before the council today, and there was new evidence that a battle over the state's two per cent sales tax was on its way.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Man Tries To Reshape Present Life To Accommodate Past Romance

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

An interesting situation is described in a letter received from a man in his late 30s who is trying to reshape the pattern of his present life to accommodate a past romance.

This is what he says:

"Eighteen years ago, I was engaged to a girl with whom I was deeply in love. Six months after we became engaged, she broke off with me to return to her childhood sweetheart. For five years, I was not interested in any other girl and couldn't get her out of my mind.

"Time passed and the man for whom this woman left me died and she never married. Neither did I. We saw each other occasionally after her boy friend died, but I never brought up the subject of love. When the war broke out, I went overseas. She wrote me a friendly letter apologizing for the grief she had caused me in the past and during my 28 months overseas she wrote regularly and sent me gifts. I wrote back, but my letters were always bitter ones, reminding her of what she did to me and poking fun at her for never having married.

"When I came home, I went to see her. She was very kind and I began to see her more often. I felt that perhaps I still loved her, but not in the way I did so many years ago. We have discussed marriage, and I have promised to marry her, but I don't really feel like marrying her or anybody else. She says she loves me now more than she loved me years ago and she does everything to please me. I wish I could love her as I once did. What is your advice?

As a general rule, my feeling has always been that the past can never successfully be revived; that it is always better to keep turning over new leaves and looking for new adventures in living.

There are rare instances, however, when it may be possible to revamp the past into a successful present, and I am inclined to believe that this young man may be in a situation where it can be done.

The heroine of this romantic drama seems rather an unusual person to have retained her feeling for him in spite of the verbal abuse he admittedly heaped upon her in his letters from overseas. Apparently, she had sufficient insight to be able to look to the bottom of his bitterness and understand it. This would seem to indicate that she might be a person who would continue to apply the same understanding to any problems that may arise in their married life. Presumably, she should understand his feeling that he did not at the moment love her as much as he once did and would be willing to give him her own love and devotion while waiting for his to catch up with her. Because of this, it seems likely that she would make him a good wife, and he might be missing a good marital bet if he let her go.

On his side, while he may not have been able to recapture his youthful emotion toward this woman, the fact that he has never become interested in any other makes it look as though he might perhaps have more feeling left for her than he thinks. If he were completely uninterested, he would hardly have continued to see her as he has done since returning from overseas.

I think there is more to be said for this marriage than against it, and I think it has a very good chance of developing into a happy relationship as time goes on.

Hair Removal By X-Ray Can Cause Cancer

AP Newsfeatures

CHICAGO—The Journal of the American Medical Association has published an appeal to health authorities, chambers of commerce, better business bureaus and legislative committees of all civic organizations to warn the public against X-rays for removing superfluous hair.

These rays, says the warning, can lead to cancer, and if not, often to disfigurement worse than the hair. In the '20s X-rays were used in varying amounts on women and girls for hair removal.

The article summarizes the bad results, 20 years afterward. It declares that either one large dose of X-ray for this purpose, or numerous small doses, are dangerous.

The present appeal is made because, the article says, the hair-removing tactics of the '20s are now being revived. The instruments used do not always indicate that X-rays are the hair removers.

The report is made by Doctors Anthony C. Cipollard of New York City and Marcus B. Einhorn of Albany, N. Y. It is printed as an authorized publication of the AMA Council on Physical Medicine.

There is no question, the doctors say, that X-rays can remove hair, and make the removal permanent. But they assert it cannot be done without risk.

They warn also that although no devices of the sort yet have appeared, the radioactive atoms produced by atomic ovens can also remove hair. These atoms, they declare, are equally dangerous.

Carloadings Increase

Carloads handled by the Baltimore and Ohio during the week ended October 25, 1947, totaled 70,110, made up of 44,890 loaded on line and 25,220 received from connections. For the same week of last year the total was 67,795, with 40,948 loaded on line and 26,847 received from connections. During the previous week (the week ended October 18), the total was 71,121, including 44,902 loaded on line and 26,219 received from connections.

Apparently, she had sufficient insight to be able to look to the bottom of his bitterness and understand it. This would seem to indicate that she might be a person who would continue to apply the same understanding to any problems that may arise in their married life. Presumably, she should understand his feeling that he did not at the moment love her as much as he once did and would be willing to give him her own love and devotion while waiting for his to catch up with her. Because of this, it seems likely that she would make him a good wife, and he might be missing a good marital bet if he let her go.

On his side, while he may not have been able to recapture his youthful emotion toward this woman, the fact that he has never become interested in any other makes it look as though he might perhaps have more feeling left for her than he thinks. If he were completely uninterested, he would hardly have continued to see her as he has done since returning from overseas.

I think there is more to be said for this marriage than against it, and I think it has a very good chance of developing into a happy relationship as time goes on.

Hair Removal By X-Ray Can Cause Cancer

AP Newsfeatures

CHICAGO—The Journal of the American Medical Association has published an appeal to health authorities, chambers of commerce, better business bureaus and legislative committees of all civic organizations to warn the public against X-rays for removing superfluous hair.

These rays, says the warning, can lead to cancer, and if not, often to disfigurement worse than the hair. In the '20s X-rays were used in varying amounts on women and girls for hair removal.

The article summarizes the bad results, 20 years afterward. It declares that either one large dose of X-ray for this purpose, or numerous small doses, are dangerous.

The present appeal is made because, the article says, the hair-removing tactics of the '20s are now being revived. The instruments used do not always indicate that X-rays are the hair removers.

The report is made by Doctors Anthony C. Cipollard of New York City and Marcus B. Einhorn of Albany, N. Y. It is printed as an authorized publication of the AMA Council on Physical Medicine.

There is no question, the doctors say, that X-rays can remove hair, and make the removal permanent. But they assert it cannot be done without risk.

They warn also that although no devices of the sort yet have appeared, the radioactive atoms produced by atomic ovens can also remove hair. These atoms, they declare, are equally dangerous.

Carloadings Increase

Carloads handled by the Baltimore and Ohio during the week ended October 25, 1947, totaled 70,110, made up of 44,890 loaded on line and 25,220 received from connections. For the same week of last year the total was 67,795, with 40,948 loaded on line and 26,847 received from connections. During the previous week (the week ended October 18), the total was 71,121, including 44,902 loaded on line and 26,219 received from connections.

Opporunity To Give To Community Chest Is Yours

Just Imagine: Looking up, and there before you and behind you, and on both sides, are boys and girls and babies, husbands without their wives, and wives without their husbands, aunts and uncles and grandparents and in-laws—people who are the victims of broken homes. Unhappy, confused persons. Persons who need help—quick!

Not a happy thought—victim after victim asking you what they should do, now that they're alone, without income.

Sort of ruin your day, wouldn't it? Sort of make you feel that life wasn't worth living. And what would you do? How would you, how could you give guidance and help and support to the many victims of broken homes?

You prevent that situation from ever happening. For once a year you invest in your community's proudest possession—its Community Chest. A group of nine Red Feather Services—people who know their work, who do a kindly, helpful job well.

One, single investment, and you rescue a great group who otherwise would suffer no end of troubles as a result of broken homes . . . who otherwise would have to hit the streets, pleading and praying for guidance, for friendship, for advice.

For your own sake, block this tragedy! Make this Community of Cumberland worthwhile—by helping those who need you, through your Community Chest.

That opportunity is being offered every man and woman in Cumberland today, as an army of solicitors for this year's campaign went forth this morning to call on you and thereby make your giving easy. The goal, this year, is not much greater than last. It has been held to the minimum to meet anticipated continuance of present service at a higher expense level. So it need not prove a burden to anyone in matching his contribution last year, and adding just a little more to take care of the higher cost the various agencies must meet in order to continue services to the less fortunate or to make possible the carrying on by organizations and institutions within the Chest of tasks which have as their goal the providing of wholesome recreation and training for the building of strong bodies and character.

Let it never be said Cumberland failed them.

Hallowe'en As It Was And What It Is Today

Halloween formerly was an occasion when the excess zeal of youngsters meant no more harm than the loss of a few gates, the overturning of certain small structures and the discovery that somebody's buggy was standing in the middle of the creek.

But now the playful activities that marked the event in former days have become virtually a reign of terror that begins long before Halloween and continues after the ghosts and goblins have doffed their costumes and resumed normal pursuits.

It is gratifying to learn, however, that the season's pranks and other acts of vandalism in Cumberland are decreasing, probably because police are keeping a more careful lookout for persons who might have the inclination to indulge in such mischief, and again, probably, due to the fact that those who might be expected to do devilment have come to the conclusion that, after all, there is really little fun in it.

The removal of gates—one resident of the city has already experienced this type of annoyance—is not a serious thing in itself, unless it is destroyed or disposed of in such a manner the owner cannot recover it. Another prank to which youngsters have been resorting has been the removal of filled garbage and ash cans from curbs, and lining them up across thoroughfares to halt the movement of traffic.

Special measures taken by the police to hold vandalism to its minimum will be appreciated by residents. It cannot but help give them a feeling of greater security against damage to their property during the next few nights.

One of the difficulties about dealing with the element that has become so utterly vicious is the feeling that their activities should be excused as pranks. This sort of treatment in former years has encouraged the juvenile offenders to become bolder. Now they wreck trains, destroy public property, break street lights, beat up innocent and inoffensive citizens and stop little short of homicide in their efforts to outdo each other and achieve new thrills.

The passing of the woodshed, where a razor strap, a hairbrush or a hickory limb was applied effectively may account for the enormous increase in this type of delinquency—this excursion into realms that actual criminals formerly shunned. The woodsheds are gone beyond recall, but the parental authority they once typified should be demonstrated again before it is everlastingly too late.

And if parents shun their plain duty, the task of breaking up these gangs and protecting the public against their depredations certainly becomes a job for the police.

"All The World . . ."

So American brides-to-be want to know what Princess Elizabeth is going to wear on her wedding day! That's the revelation of a consultant in a New York bridal shop.

It is a normal curiosity, spurred no doubt by the natural charm of happiness and glamor in a world of dark uncertainty. What American girl does not like to think of herself as a princess, and what man doesn't think of his future wife in those terms, too?

Undoubtedly the personal charm of the royal couple and their attractiveness have a great deal to do with interest in their wedding. This has none of the earmarks of those royal matches of history, in which frowsy members of the peerage are paired off in a manner convenient to the state. This is a storybook romance, and the Princess and Lieutenant Mountbatten are young and gay in an England that is old and overburdened.

But if the girls are envious of the Princess, how about the men? What struggling young bridegroom would resent the fact that his new wife has a few palaces on the string here and there?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

THE CASE HISTORY

MOST physicians have had this experience; a patient walks into the office and, after introducing herself, is invited to sit down. To break the ice, the medico leans over the desk and says, "And what is the matter, Mrs. R.?"

"That is what I came here to find out," she replies.

This type of individual probably thinks that all a physician has to do is to glance at the visitor to decide what is wrong. Naturally, he can see obvious defects but the state of the internal organs is not televised.

Perhaps snap judgments were possible in ancient times but not today. After all, his opening remark was merely a means of starting the conversation. On other accasions he may ask, "What can I do for you?" or "What are your complaints?" he does not expect his patient to make the diagnosis but would like to know her symptoms.

This part of the examination, called the "history," is of great importance in solving the problem. It is here that the first clew is received as to the patient's conditions and, by cooperating in this respect, more can be accomplished in order to get well. The methods employed by medical men in obtaining these data will vary. Many prefer to let the patient talk first, describing all his difficulties. Here much valuable time can be saved if the individual begins by saying, "I was perfectly well until one week ago, when I first noticed pain in the chest."

From there the story unfolds itself and a clearer picture is obtained of the nature of the complaint. Some persons wander from the point, bringing in Aunt Myra's gallstones or what happened to a friend of a friend who had pain something like this but on the other side, etc. This merely confuses the issue as the physician is interested only in the case in question.

When this part of the history is taken, the doctor will ask specific questions to fill in the gaps. Exactly where is the aching located? Is it related to meals or exercise? Is it sharp or dull; continuous or intermittent? He will probably inquire about other organs which were not mentioned so that nothing will be omitted.

If the patient is a stranger, a record of past illnesses such as measles, rheumatic fever, or other maladies of childhood and youth will be investigated. All the minor details associated with the diseases are not essential but their occurrence may have a bearing on the present disturbance.

The family history is discussed because some disorders are hereditary. Eating habits are considered as well as the amount of tobacco, coffee, tea, or alcohol used. Living conditions, occupation, and the private life give an insight into emotional factors. Once the form is completed the physician has a wealth of confidential information that will give him assistance. The physical checkup follows and, if necessary, laboratory tests. The end result is the diagnosis.

TOO MANY RIBS

V. M. writes: I have an extra rib, which affects my neck and arms. When I move them there is a cracking sound and a feeling of pulling. What can be done?

REPLY

You probably refer to a cervical rib, which is short in length and located in the neck. Sometimes this extra structure crowds certain nerves and blood vessels. When symptoms appear, surgery is necessary for complete relief.

NOT USUALLY

W. K. writes: is vitamin K of any value in preventing excessive bleeding during menstruation?

REPLY

The preparation is sometimes used for this purpose but its value is questionable unless there is an associated liver disturbance.

SHIFTING

A. S. writes: What does "metastasis" mean?

REPLY

Spread of a disease from one area to another via the blood stream or lymph channels. The word is employed commonly in cancer.

VARIOUS NAMES

M. D. writes: Is leprosy ever called by another name?

REPLY

Yes, it is known as lepra, elephantaisis Graecorum, and Hansen's disease.

TOO LITTLE

Mrs. D. writes: Is it usual for an infant of eight months to sleep only 11 hours out of 24?

REPLY

Yes, but even at this age the need for rest is less in some than others

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

The radio season surely is in full swing . . . I thought there was an earthquake this evening when I heard the walls rumble . . . Then I remembered "Fibber" had a closet.

This radio season is pretty much like the last. All the critics are complaining about the same old idea . . . And the comedians are complaining about the same old critics.

All the big shows are back . . . Benny and Allen are feudin' . . . Winchell and Vishinsky are fightin' . . . And my sponsors standing over my contract with a blow torch, fussin' . . .

I hear President Truman is very happy that all the big comedy shows are back on the air. He figures now maybe the nation's chickens will get a little inspiration.

And Jolson has a radio show this year. He could have gone on the stage, but he wanted to get back on his feet.

And Drew Pearson is back on the air with his predictions. Last Sunday he said we can expect a crisis . . . I still don't know if he means prices or Little Abner.

Soaring Prices Argue For Special Session; Backstage Byplay Livens Convention-City Battle; Best Lines of Hollywood Probe Lost To Public

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—When President Truman called in Capitol Hill leaders to explain his decision to summon a special session of Congress, one of his arguments was supplied by a Commerce Department chart. It showed trends of prices and exports in recent months.

Giving his "classroom" of Senators and Congressmen a lecture on living costs, Truman pointed to the "price line." It disappeared at the top of the chart. Meanwhile, exports showed a definite decline.

"A lot of people believe that the less we ship abroad for relief, the lower prices will be at home," the President commented as he passed the chart over to Senator Taft. "However, the opposite is now true, as you can see. Our exports have actually gone down in the last several months, yet domestic prices have increased."

"I suggest, Mr. President," interrupted Taft, "that you give us comparable figures on the increase of wages."

Truman then went on to point out that increased prices were solely repsonsible for the increased cost of relief to Europe. The original estimate of funds needed to carry needy Europeans through March 31, 1948, was $580,000,000, the President explained. Now it is $642,000,000 and, he added grimly, it may go higher unless Congress does something about prices

"We've got to remember that the higher prices go, the greater our relief costs are going to be," he said.

House G.O.P. Majority Leader Charles Halleck inquired as to just what the President wanted Congress to do about prices. He said that Congress never would approve restoration of price controls and that if this issue took priority over relief appropriations at the special session, Congress might argue all winter before any funds were voted for Europe's starving.

Truman replied that he had no intention of asking Congress to restore general price controls, partly because it would cost too much to set up the necessary machinery; also, it would take too long to get the program under way, even if Congress gave its approval.

Allocation of key materials, greater export-import controls, and price ceilings on certain key commodities (at the producer instead of the consumer level) were some of the things he had in mind, Truman revealed. However, he did not clarify what materials should be allocated or what effect allocations would have on the over-all price picture.

All these questions would be answered at his next meeting with the congressional leaders, the President promised, at which time he would have a specific program to recommend to Congress.

Two Conventions at Philadelphia

Some highly interesting byplay took place behind the scenes in high Democratic circles before the Democratic National Committee met today to select the city for the national convention.

Both President Truman and Postmaster General Hannegan strongly favored San Francisco. Hannegan went even further and suggested Oakland and San Francisco as joint sponsors for the convention.

However, the hotel men at San Francisco turned thumbs down. Overcrowded, they actually discouraged the Democratic delegates. Jimmy Roosevelt and Ed Pauley, meanwhile, urged Los Angeles. In fact, that has been about the only thing they've agreed on lately. But they wanted to hold the meeting outdoors in the coliseum, and Democratic bigwigs in Washington were afraid both of the weather and the idea that the coliseum might be picketed by Henry Wallaceites.

Meanwhile, Philadelphia came forward with some attractive offers. Holding the Democratic convention in the same hall right after the Republicans, they pointed out, would cut down expenses. Hannegan, however, was still skeptical. He figured that with the Democrats sure to nominate Truman, the convention would be minus fireworks, suspense, and drama. Also he was afraid that, in steaming hot weather, too many delegates would be off to Atlantic City and television would show up the empty seats in the Convention Hall.

However, inertia in the Far West, plus the fact that Senator Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, new Democratic chairman, favored Philadelphia, means that the City of Brotherly Love will get two political conventions next summer.

Unspoken Hollywood Lines

Not all the dramatic dialogue of the Hollywood un-American show gets into the official stenograp... s script. More revealing than the official testimony are some of the remarks that pass back and forth behind the congressmen's bench which they don't want the public to hear.

On the day screen-lover Robert Taylor testified, headline-conscious Chairman Parnell Thomas of New Jersey beckoned to him.

"Did you see the terrific job Menjou (actor Adolphe Menjou) did for us the other day?"

Thomas whispered.

Then he coached: "Go ahead and say just what you told us in Hollywood."

However, Chairman Thomas is not the only Congressman who pulls interesting backstage remarks.

The classical suggestion of Georgia's John Wood (made publicly), to pass a law authorizing employers to dismiss anyone whose views might be detrimental to the United States, caused G.O.P. Congressman John McDowell of Pennsylvania to whisper about his colleague:

"Did you hear the egg that Judge Wood laid? I'll tell you who would be even worse than Wood. That's if Rankin should get back."

Rootin'-tooting' Rankin, a member of the committee, has been campaigning for Bilbo's senate seat in Mississippi.

Chilliest un-American reception was given to statuesque Paul McNutt, former governor of Indiana, high commissioner to the Philippines, and powerful counsel for the movie producers. McNutt walked up to the bench twice to plead for permission to let Producer Sam Goldwyn testify. The first time, Thomas snapped: "It looks very doubtful."

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

Sixteen To One

ERNEST BEVIN, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Great Britain and Chairman of the Committee of European Economic Cooperation (the 16 to One Plan), has written a voluminous report of 138 printed pages to explain why the United States should invest $20,000,000,000, more or less, in the rehabilitation of Europe. This document clarifies the so-called Marshall Plan, which, it may be remembered, was an expression of hope that Europe would find a program of self-help.

In pursuance of this plan, the President has reconvened Congress for Noyember 17. This Congress can appropriate the entire amount or enough for one fiscal year. It cannot bind subsequent Congresses which may or may not accept its judgment.

The Bevin report makes it clear that Europe is in difficulties because a "highly developed and delicate" machine of "international trade and the uninterrupted flow of goods and services" broke down during the war and has not been rehabilitated among the 16 countries that seek United States aid. Of course, the United States did not make this war nor is it responsible for the events which led up to it. Nevertheless, this is the situation that Bevin describes:

". . . The agriculture, trade and industry of European countries had been twisted out of shape by their own war effort or by policies imposed by armies of occupation. Great numbers of workers were displaced or deported. Oversea importers, deprived of the normal flow of supplies from Europe, transferred an increased part of their trade to the United States. Many of the main sources of supply of these sixteen countries were laid waste; the devastation in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union cut off a major source of food and timber; the extension of the war into South East Asia upset Europe's trade balance with the United States which was partly financed by exports from South East Asia, and in addition led to a double loss to the European food supply; for the countries of South East Asia not only became incapable of sending their normal share of food exports to Europe but required and obtained food which would normally have come to Europe."

In spite of the havoc and devastation, some countries did not do so badly after the war. In fact, recovery was swifter than after World War I, due to assistance from the United States directly and through UNRRA—to which the United States contributed more than 70 percent.

Bevin says:

". . . So successful were these efforts that by the end of 1946 industrial production in Belgium, France and the Netherlands had recovered to 85-95 per cent of the pre-war level, whilst Italian industrial production was back to 60 per cent of pre-war level. In the United Kingdom the process of demobilization of the war economy had been accomplished smoothly and the pre-war level of national output had been fully restored. In the Scandinavian countries production was steadily rising . . ."

However, during the Winter of 1946-47, Europe suffered a setback, due to the shortage of coal, to the increased cost of primary products, food shortages, etc. So they want help.

What faces the United States is the question as to how much help and upon what terms and conditions. Shall we give help as a loan, as charity, as a grant-in-aid, condtional or unconditional? How is the aid to be distributed; by whom and by what procedures?

Bevin's program is to be completed by 1951. If not—what then? Great Britain is experimenting with socialism; France and Italy are in danger of Communism. No one can foretell the consequences of these revolutionary experiments. We may believe, and it may or may not prove to be correct, that our contributions may save these and other countries from Communism, but obviously if money is all that will save them, they are indeed far gone. As saviours, we are not very competent: World War I produced the hegemony of Hitler over Europe and World War II the colossal shadow of Stalin.

This plan requires study and analysis. It requires more than anything else that this country shall not be rushed to disaster by violent propaganda bearing the names of distinguished citizens. The subject is now open to scrutiny and debate by the Congress.

Marshall Plan Faces Rough Road Without Limitations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — Although "stopgap" aid to Europe will be voted, it may be taken for granted that the Marshall Plan on a long-range basis will require considerable discussion and will not be passed without specific safeguards.

Opinion is crystallizing among the businses men of the nation on these points:

First, there can be no commitment of funds beyond the coming year, and further appropriations must await the execution of the first year of the program.

Second, American goods should not be sent abroad to build up certain industries for competition with American sellers in other parts of the world, specially in South America.

Third, so far as possible, funds should not be made available to foreign governments directly for their own discretionary use but should be used for the shipment of goods to business units designated by some kind of central agency abroad on which business men of this country shall be represented.

Fourth, anything resembling a dole should not be countenanced, and production goals and quotas should be set and all further aid made dependent on how nearly such goals or quotas shall have been attained within the time designated.

There are several other points under discussion throughout the country. The committee appointed to advise Secretary of Commerce Harriman has been discussing various items in the proposed program and has been consulting business men in different industries. It is apparent that the Administration, while presenting persuasive evidence that Europe must be helped, has not as yet shown clearly how American money and goods can really be effective in rebuilding Europe.

There seems to be an almost unanimous sentiment behind the idea of conserving food and even allocating necessities for the relief program, but there is a wide divergence of opinion on how the domestic economy of America shall be restricted to make way for the adoption of a highly theoretical program of doubtful effectiveness.

Incidentally, Secretary of the Interior Krug's report has made an unfavorable impression because of that portion of his statement in which he says that America should export certain quantities of goods. In the middle west the suggestion by Mr. Krug that, in effect, American farmers should wait for tractors while 50 per cent more of the farm equipment now being manufactured is sent abroad is looked upon as unwise in view of the fact that current export is already about 12 to 15 per cent of production. The administration is going to find the Republicans critical of any program which does not take into consideration the rehabilitation necessary on American farms.

Against Dismantling German Plants

Also there is a growing sentiment in favor of retaining many of the industrial plants in Germany which it has been proposed to dismantle. While there is agreement with the idea of destroying tools and machinery which were devoted to the making of arms and ammunition, there is no sense, it is repeatedly argued, in dismantling plants that can help Germany to produce goods for her own consumption and for export.

The chances are the Marshall Plan will have hard sledding in Congress unless the Administration is ready to accept some of the many limitations on the program being advocated by business men, primarily because of their belief that Europe cannot digest the billions of aid so extravagantly promised by the theorists and those diplomats who think the days of new deal "pump priming" are to be revived.

If the program is practical and appears to have some chance of being made effective in Europe on a business basis, it will command support in Congress. Otherwise, after several weeks of debate next winter, a second "stopgap" aid program will be voted and a final decision deferred until after the November 1948 elections. This may mean that the Marshall Plan will be an issue in the campaign.

Price Controls Are Legalized Plunder; Decrease Production

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Thank you, President Truman, for agreeing that price, wage and rent controls are the methods of a "police state." Your frankness has distressed some who fear your words will bounce back on them. And consumers' groups have sent you indignant telegrams demanding the return of the police state, but under a different, more beautiful name.

But stand your ground, Mr. President. You are right from the viewpoint of government, economics, and public morals. You, perhaps, are fed up with the hypocrisy of those who demand price controls on what they buy, but no controls on the goods or labor they sell. Pressure groups which shoulder each other out of the political hog-trough are unpleasant sights. But when they grunt "the common good," or the "general welfare," as cover-ups for their self-interests, they must sometimes nauseate you.

Wrong On One Point

You were wrong on one point, however, Mr. President. You said that anything that has to be enforced by a system of punishments is the mark of a police state. But that it not the difference between a police state and a free government. All governments use punishments. The distinction is whether the offense and the punishment are set forth in some statute, or whether they rest on the caprice of the bureaucrat. In short, it is the difence between a government by law, or a government by men, as the Constitution of Massachusetts puts it.

The prohibition era was not an example of police government. The Constitution and the Volstead Act laid down the law; the offense was clearly stated; the punishments were clearly prescribed and the citizens had the right to a jury trial. Federal prohibition may have been a mistaken policy, but it was not a "police government."

To prohibit the sale of a single commodity, such as liquor or a dangerous drug, is something that can be done by law. But, to fix a compulsory price on all the articles in a Sears Roebuck catalogue, or even a tenth of them, or the rent of a million different houses, is a job no legislature can perform. Nor could it constantly change those prices from day to day as frost or drought or strikes or the new demand of a Marshall Plan for feeding Europe upset the balance of supply and demand.

No, outside of a free market, this job can be done, if at all, only by an economic czar who rules by decree and from whose orders there is no appeal to the courts. Braintrusters know well enough. When they draft a Presidential order appointing an economic czar, they fight like wildcats against any right of injunction or appeal from his decrees.

Power To Be Arbitrary

As the Supreme Court has said, the power to fix prices involves the power to be arbitrary. It is the absence of rule by law that makes price and wage and rent fixing the characteristic of a police state. When, Mr. President, you said a year ago that you had contemplated sending out federal cattle rustlers so rabitrarily seize meat from the farmers, you were clearly describing a police state activity.

From the standpoint of economics, price fixing is equally a fake. Canadian and French and Argentine farmers have already curtailed wheat planting because of price fixing. To expect anyone to produce as much of anything for a price less than a free market would give, is a confession of economic illiteracy. It has never been done without bayonets, and poorly then.

Price controls are legalized plunder. When some use their voting power to get more goods by paying fewer dollars, they force others to take fewer dollars by giving up more goods.

Those who demand price controls for other people do so because they want to work harder, but because they want to get more by not working harder. Hence, Price controls always curtail the production of wealth. Witness the tremendous increases in production since O. P. A. was discarded.

Definite Things To Do

We often look upon those who have wealth and means, and who feel free to go and wander as they please, with nothing in particular to do, as the happy people. They are not happy! Most of them become bored and restless. The happy people are those who work, get enjoyment out of that work, and who value their social and personal opportunities to be a Somebody in this world.

People with definite things to do each day, wake up in the morning with a zest and with spirit. Their mental and physical makeup is alert. Their outlook upon life is stimulating. Life is worthwhile to such.

Even for those of us who have a certain routine each day, there may be made opportunities for varied things to do. No matter what position we may be in there are always opportunities yet untouched --and perhaps those just ahead of us. All of us should constantly be thinking ahead—looking to something better, something perhaps fitting our talents and inclinations to better advantage.

Definite things to do always save waste of time and strength. There is always an uplift to anticipations. The active dreamer is an asset to himself and to those with whom he may work. Every enterprise started with a dream!

The path to all efficiency, and happiness in work, is to make what you do interesting. If you can't do that it is better to make a change and get into something that will give you interest and the will to put your best efforts into what you do.

The planned day is the good day. It's the day that makes you want to live another day! We can all sprinkle our lives with novel engagements—doing things outside our regular employment—a hobby, a course of reading, some phase of religious work, or civic service. Something definitely interesting and useful, even beyond the sphere of our own enjoyment. Every one of us should endeavor to dodge the vacant hours! Too many people are already in them.

Soil conservation farming methods also save water. This is important when we realize that it takes 50 gallons of water to produce one ear of corn and approximately 1,300 gallons of water for a one-pound steak. Thirty-seven gallons of water go into our crops for each slice of bread and 14 gallons of water into a helping of potatoes.

The farm land of Pennsylvania is so situated as to permit the cultivation of a great variety of crops. The elevation ranges from practically sea level to 3,000 feet, and the crop growing season from 80 to 207 days. This range makes possible the general cultivation of fruits, vegetables, cereals and grasses.

The only tomb of an unknown soldier of the Revolutionary war is located in Pennsylvania. The sight is the Single Brethrens' House—used as a military hospital at the time—at Bethlehem, Pa.

About 567 tons of water are required to produce a ton of dry clover.

Opporunity To Give To Community Chest Is Yours

Just Imagine: Looking up, and there before you and behind you, and on both sides, are boys and girls and babies, husbands without their wives, and wives without their husbands, aunts and uncles and grandparents and in-laws—people who are the victims of broken homes. Unhappy, confused persons. Persons who need help—quick!

Not a happy thought—victim after victim asking you what they should do, now that they're alone, without income.

Sort of ruin your day, wouldn't it? Sort of make you feel that life wasn't worth living. And what would you do? How would you, how could you give guidance and help and support to the many victims of broken homes?

You prevent that situation from ever happening. For once a year you invest in your community's proudest possession—its Community Chest. A group of nine Red Feather Services—people who know their work, who do a kindly, helpful job well.

One, single investment, and you rescue a great group who otherwise would suffer no end of troubles as a result of broken homes . . . who otherwise would have to hit the streets, pleading and praying for guidance, for friendship, for advice.

For your own sake, block this tragedy! Make this Community of Cumberland worthwhile—by helping those who need you, through your Community Chest.

That opportunity is being offered every man and woman in Cumberland today, as an army of solicitors for this year's campaign went forth this morning to call on you and thereby make your giving easy. The goal, this year, is not much greater than last. It has been held to the minimum to meet anticipated continuance of present service at a higher expense level. So it need not prove a burden to anyone in matching his contribution last year, and adding just a little more to take care of the higher cost the various agencies must meet in order to continue services to the less fortunate or to make possible the carrying on by organizations and institutions within the Chest of tasks which have as their goal the providing of wholesome recreation and training for the building of strong bodies and character.

Let it never be said Cumberland failed them.

Hallowe'en As It Was And What It Is Today

Halloween formerly was an occasion when the excess zeal of youngsters meant no more harm than the loss of a few gates, the overturning of certain small structures and the discovery that somebody's buggy was standing in the middle of the creek.

But now the playful activities that marked the event in former days have become virtually a reign of terror that begins long before Halloween and continues after the ghosts and goblins have doffed their costumes and resumed normal pursuits.

It is gratifying to learn, however, that the season's pranks and other acts of vandalism in Cumberland are decreasing, probably because police are keeping a more careful lookout for persons who might have the inclination to indulge in such mischief, and again, probably, due to the fact that those who might be expected to do devilment have come to the conclusion that, after all, there is really little fun in it.

The removal of gates—one resident of the city has already experienced this type of annoyance—is not a serious thing in itself, unless it is destroyed or disposed of in such a manner the owner cannot recover it. Another prank to which youngsters have been resorting has been the removal of filled garbage and ash cans from curbs, and lining them up across thoroughfares to halt the movement of traffic.

Special measures taken by the police to hold vandalism to its minimum will be appreciated by residents. It cannot but help give them a feeling of greater security against damage to their property during the next few nights.

One of the difficulties about dealing with the element that has become so utterly vicious is the feeling that their activities should be excused as pranks. This sort of treatment in former years has encouraged the juvenile offenders to become bolder. Now they wreck trains, destroy public property, break street lights, beat up innocent and inoffensive citizens and stop little short of homicide in their efforts to outdo each other and achieve new thrills.

The passing of the woodshed, where a razor strap, a hairbrush or a hickory limb was applied effectively may account for the enormous increase in this type of delinquency—this excursion into realms that actual criminals formerly shunned. The woodsheds are gone beyond recall, but the parental authority they once typified should be demonstrated again before it is everlastingly too late.

And if parents shun their plain duty, the task of breaking up these gangs and protecting the public against their depredations certainly becomes a job for the police.

"All The World . . ."

So American brides-to-be want to know what Princess Elizabeth is going to wear on her wedding day! That's the revelation of a consultant in a New York bridal shop.

It is a normal curiosity, spurred no doubt by the natural charm of happiness and glamor in a world of dark uncertainty. What American girl does not like to think of herself as a princess, and what man doesn't think of his future wife in those terms, too?

Undoubtedly the personal charm of the royal couple and their attractiveness have a great deal to do with interest in their wedding. This has none of the earmarks of those royal matches of history, in which frowsy members of the peerage are paired off in a manner convenient to the state. This is a storybook romance, and the Princess and Lieutenant Mountbatten are young and gay in an England that is old and overburdened.

But if the girls are envious of the Princess, how about the men? What struggling young bridegroom would resent the fact that his new wife has a few palaces on the string here and there?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

THE CASE HISTORY

MOST physicians have had this experience; a patient walks into the office and, after introducing herself, is invited to sit down. To break the ice, the medico leans over the desk and says, "And what is the matter, Mrs. R.?"

"That is what I came here to find out," she replies.

This type of individual probably thinks that all a physician has to do is to glance at the visitor to decide what is wrong. Naturally, he can see obvious defects but the state of the internal organs is not televised.

Perhaps snap judgments were possible in ancient times but not today. After all, his opening remark was merely a means of starting the conversation. On other accasions he may ask, "What can I do for you?" or "What are your complaints?" he does not expect his patient to make the diagnosis but would like to know her symptoms.

This part of the examination, called the "history," is of great importance in solving the problem. It is here that the first clew is received as to the patient's conditions and, by cooperating in this respect, more can be accomplished in order to get well. The methods employed by medical men in obtaining these data will vary. Many prefer to let the patient talk first, describing all his difficulties. Here much valuable time can be saved if the individual begins by saying, "I was perfectly well until one week ago, when I first noticed pain in the chest."

From there the story unfolds itself and a clearer picture is obtained of the nature of the complaint. Some persons wander from the point, bringing in Aunt Myra's gallstones or what happened to a friend of a friend who had pain something like this but on the other side, etc. This merely confuses the issue as the physician is interested only in the case in question.

When this part of the history is taken, the doctor will ask specific questions to fill in the gaps. Exactly where is the aching located? Is it related to meals or exercise? Is it sharp or dull; continuous or intermittent? He will probably inquire about other organs which were not mentioned so that nothing will be omitted.

If the patient is a stranger, a record of past illnesses such as measles, rheumatic fever, or other maladies of childhood and youth will be investigated. All the minor details associated with the diseases are not essential but their occurrence may have a bearing on the present disturbance.

The family history is discussed because some disorders are hereditary. Eating habits are considered as well as the amount of tobacco, coffee, tea, or alcohol used. Living conditions, occupation, and the private life give an insight into emotional factors. Once the form is completed the physician has a wealth of confidential information that will give him assistance. The physical checkup follows and, if necessary, laboratory tests. The end result is the diagnosis.

TOO MANY RIBS

V. M. writes: I have an extra rib, which affects my neck and arms. When I move them there is a cracking sound and a feeling of pulling. What can be done?

REPLY

You probably refer to a cervical rib, which is short in length and located in the neck. Sometimes this extra structure crowds certain nerves and blood vessels. When symptoms appear, surgery is necessary for complete relief.

NOT USUALLY

W. K. writes: is vitamin K of any value in preventing excessive bleeding during menstruation?

REPLY

The preparation is sometimes used for this purpose but its value is questionable unless there is an associated liver disturbance.

SHIFTING

A. S. writes: What does "metastasis" mean?

REPLY

Spread of a disease from one area to another via the blood stream or lymph channels. The word is employed commonly in cancer.

VARIOUS NAMES

M. D. writes: Is leprosy ever called by another name?

REPLY

Yes, it is known as lepra, elephantaisis Graecorum, and Hansen's disease.

TOO LITTLE

Mrs. D. writes: Is it usual for an infant of eight months to sleep only 11 hours out of 24?

REPLY

Yes, but even at this age the need for rest is less in some than others

It Says Here

The radio season surely is in full swing . . . I thought there was an earthquake this evening when I heard the walls rumble . . . Then I remembered "Fibber" had a closet.

This radio season is pretty much like the last. All the critics are complaining about the same old idea . . . And the comedians are complaining about the same old critics.

All the big shows are back . . . Benny and Allen are feudin' . . . Winchell and Vishinsky are fightin' . . . And my sponsors standing over my contract with a blow torch, fussin' . . .

I hear President Truman is very happy that all the big comedy shows are back on the air. He figures now maybe the nation's chickens will get a little inspiration.

And Jolson has a radio show this year. He could have gone on the stage, but he wanted to get back on his feet.

And Drew Pearson is back on the air with his predictions. Last Sunday he said we can expect a crisis . . . I still don't know if he means prices or Little Abner.

Soaring Prices Argue For Special Session; Backstage Byplay Livens Convention-City Battle; Best Lines of Hollywood Probe Lost To Public

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—When President Truman called in Capitol Hill leaders to explain his decision to summon a special session of Congress, one of his arguments was supplied by a Commerce Department chart. It showed trends of prices and exports in recent months.

Giving his "classroom" of Senators and Congressmen a lecture on living costs, Truman pointed to the "price line." It disappeared at the top of the chart. Meanwhile, exports showed a definite decline.

"A lot of people believe that the less we ship abroad for relief, the lower prices will be at home," the President commented as he passed the chart over to Senator Taft. "However, the opposite is now true, as you can see. Our exports have actually gone down in the last several months, yet domestic prices have increased."

"I suggest, Mr. President," interrupted Taft, "that you give us comparable figures on the increase of wages."

Truman then went on to point out that increased prices were solely repsonsible for the increased cost of relief to Europe. The original estimate of funds needed to carry needy Europeans through March 31, 1948, was $580,000,000, the President explained. Now it is $642,000,000 and, he added grimly, it may go higher unless Congress does something about prices

"We've got to remember that the higher prices go, the greater our relief costs are going to be," he said.

House G.O.P. Majority Leader Charles Halleck inquired as to just what the President wanted Congress to do about prices. He said that Congress never would approve restoration of price controls and that if this issue took priority over relief appropriations at the special session, Congress might argue all winter before any funds were voted for Europe's starving.

Truman replied that he had no intention of asking Congress to restore general price controls, partly because it would cost too much to set up the necessary machinery; also, it would take too long to get the program under way, even if Congress gave its approval.

Allocation of key materials, greater export-import controls, and price ceilings on certain key commodities (at the producer instead of the consumer level) were some of the things he had in mind, Truman revealed. However, he did not clarify what materials should be allocated or what effect allocations would have on the over-all price picture.

All these questions would be answered at his next meeting with the congressional leaders, the President promised, at which time he would have a specific program to recommend to Congress.

Two Conventions at Philadelphia

Some highly interesting byplay took place behind the scenes in high Democratic circles before the Democratic National Committee met today to select the city for the national convention.

Both President Truman and Postmaster General Hannegan strongly favored San Francisco. Hannegan went even further and suggested Oakland and San Francisco as joint sponsors for the convention.

However, the hotel men at San Francisco turned thumbs down. Overcrowded, they actually discouraged the Democratic delegates. Jimmy Roosevelt and Ed Pauley, meanwhile, urged Los Angeles. In fact, that has been about the only thing they've agreed on lately. But they wanted to hold the meeting outdoors in the coliseum, and Democratic bigwigs in Washington were afraid both of the weather and the idea that the coliseum might be picketed by Henry Wallaceites.

Meanwhile, Philadelphia came forward with some attractive offers. Holding the Democratic convention in the same hall right after the Republicans, they pointed out, would cut down expenses. Hannegan, however, was still skeptical. He figured that with the Democrats sure to nominate Truman, the convention would be minus fireworks, suspense, and drama. Also he was afraid that, in steaming hot weather, too many delegates would be off to Atlantic City and television would show up the empty seats in the Convention Hall.

However, inertia in the Far West, plus the fact that Senator Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, new Democratic chairman, favored Philadelphia, means that the City of Brotherly Love will get two political conventions next summer.

Unspoken Hollywood Lines

Not all the dramatic dialogue of the Hollywood un-American show gets into the official stenograp... script. More revealing than the official testimony are some of the remarks that pass back and forth behind the congressmen's bench which they don't want the public to hear.

On the day screen-lover Robert Taylor testified, headline-conscious Chairman Parnell Thomas of New Jersey beckoned to him.

"Did you see the terrific job Menjou (actor Adolphe Menjou) did for us the other day?"

Thomas whispered.

Then he coached: "Go ahead and say just what you told us in Hollywood."

However, Chairman Thomas is not the only Congressman who pulls interesting backstage remarks.

The classical suggestion of Georgia's John Wood (made publicly), to pass a law authorizing employers to dismiss anyone whose views might be detrimental to the United States, caused G.O.P. Congressman John McDowell of Pennsylvania to whisper about his colleague:

"Did you hear the egg that Judge Wood laid? I'll tell you who would be even worse than Wood. That's if Rankin should get back."

Rootin'-tooting' Rankin, a member of the committee, has been campaigning for Bilbo's senate seat in Mississippi.

Chilliest un-American reception was given to statuesque Paul McNutt, former governor of Indiana, high commissioner to the Philippines, and powerful counsel for the movie producers. McNutt walked up to the bench twice to plead for permission to let Producer Sam Goldwyn testify. The first time, Thomas snapped: "It looks very doubtful."

THESE DAYS By George E. Sokolsky

Sixteen To One

ERNEST BEVIN, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Great Britain and Chairman of the Committee of European Economic Cooperation (the 16 to One Plan), has written a voluminous report of 133 printed pages to explain why the United States should invest $20,000,000,000, more or less, in the rehabilitation of Europe. This document clarifies the so-called Marshall Plan, which, it may be remembered, was an expression of hope that Europe would find a program of self-help.

In pursuance of this plan, the President has reconvened Congress for Noyember 17. This Congress can appropriate the entire amount or enough for one fiscal year. It cannot bind subsequent Congresses which may or may not accept its judgment.

The Bevin report makes it clear that Europe is in difficulties because a "highly developed and delicate" machine of "international trade and the uninterrupted flow of goods and services" broke down during the war and has not been rehabilitated among the 16 countries that seek United States aid. Of course, the United States did not make this war nor is it responsible for the events which led up to it. Nevertheless, this is the situation that Bevin describes:

". . . The agriculture, trade and industry of European countries had been twisted out of shape by their own war effort or by policies imposed by armies of occupation. Great numbers of workers were displaced or deported. Oversea imperters, deprived of the normal flow of supplies from Europe, transferred an increased part of their trade to the United States. Many of the main sources of supply of these sixteen countries were laid waste; the devastation in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union cut off a major source of food and timber; the extension of the war into South East Asia upset Europe's trade balance with the United States which was partly financed by exports from South East Asia, and in addition led to a double loss to the European food supply; for the countries of South East Asia not only became incapable of sending their normal share of food exports to Europe but required and obtained food which would normally have come to Europe."

In spite of the havoc and devastation, some countries did not do so badly after the war. In fact, recovery was swifter than after World War I, due to assistance from the United States directly and through UNRRA—to which the United States contributed more than 70 percent.

Bevin says:

". . . So successful were these efforts that by the end of 1946 industrial production in Belgium, France and the Netherlands had recovered to 85-85 per cent of the pre-war level, whilst Italian industrial production was back to 60 per cent of pre-war level. In the United Kingdom the process of demobilization of the war economy had been accomplished smoothly and the pre-war level of national output had been fully restored. In the Scandinavian countries production was steadily rising . . ."

However, during the Winter of 1946-47, Europe suffered a setback, due to the shortage of coal, to the increased cost of primary products, food shortages, etc. So they want help.

What faces the United States is the question as to how much help and upon what terms and conditions. Shall we give help as a loan, as charity, as a grant-in-aid, condtional or unconditional? How is the aid to be distributed; by whom and by what procedures?

Bevin's program is to be completed by 1951. If not—what then? Great Britain is experimenting with socialism; France and Italy are in danger of Communism. No one can foretell the consequences of these revolutionary experiments. We may believe, and it may or may not prove to be correct, that our contributions may save these and other countries from Communism, but obviously if money is all that will save them, they are indeed far gone. As saviours, we are not very competent: World War I produced the hegemony of Hitler over Europe and World War II the colossal shadow of Stalin.

This plan requires study and analysis. It requires more than anything else that this country shall not be rushed to disaster by violent propaganda bearing the names of distinguished citizens. The subject is now open to scrutiny and debate by the Congress.

Marshall Plan Faces Rough Road Without Limitations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — Although "stopgap" aid to Europe will be voted, it may be taken for granted that the Marshall Plan on a long-range basis will require considerable discussion and will not be passed without specific safeguards.

Opinion is crystallizing among the businses men of the nation on these points:

First, there can be no commitment of funds beyond the coming year, and further appropriations must await the execution of the first year of the program.

Second, American goods should not be sent abroad to build up certain industries for competition with American sellers in other parts of the world, specially in South America.

Third, so far as possible, funds should not be made available to foreign governments directly for their own discretionary use but should be used for the shipment of goods to business units designated by some kind of central agency abread on which business men of this country shall be represented.

Fourth, anything resembling a dole should not be countenanced, and production goals and quotas should be set and all further aid made dependent on how nearly such goals or quotas shall have been attained within the time designated.

There are several other points under discussion throughout the country. The committee appointed to advise Secretary of Commerce Harriman has been discussing various items in the proposed program and has been consulting business men in different industries. It is apparent that the Administration, while presenting persuasive evidence that Europe must be helped, has not as yet shown clearly how American money and goods can really be effective in rebuilding Europe.

There seems to be an almost unanimous sentiment behind the idea of conserving food and even allocating necessities for the relief program, but there is a wide divergence of opinion on how the domestic economy of America shall be restricted to make way for the adoption of a highly theoretical program of doubtful effectiveness.

Incidentally, Secretary of the Interior Krug's report has made an unfavorable impression because of that portion of his statement in which he says that America should export certain quantities of goods. In the middle west the suggestion by Mr. Krug that, in effect, American farmers should wait for tractors while 50 per cent more of the farm equipment now being manufactured is sent abroad is looked upon as unwise in view of the fact that current export is already about 12 to 15 per cent of production. The administration is going to find the Republicans critical of any program which does not take into consideration the rehabilitation necessary on American farms.

Against Dismantling German Plants

Also there is a growing sentiment in favor of retaining many of the industrial plants in Germany which it has been proposed to dismantle. While there is agreement with the idea of destroying tools and machinery which were devoted to the making of arms and ammunition, there is no sense, it is repeatedly argued, in dismantling plants that can help Germany to produce goods for her own consumption and for export.

The chances are the Marshall Plan will have hard sledding in Congress unless the Administration is ready to accept some of the many limitations on the program being advocated by business men, primarily because of their belief that Europe cannot digest the billions of aid so extravagantly promised by the theorists and those diplomats who think the days of new deal "pump priming" are to be revived.

If the program is practical and appears to have some chance of being made effective in Europe on a business basis, it will command support in Congress. Otherwise, after several weeks of debate next winter, a second "stopgap" aid program will be voted and a final decision deferred until after the November 1948 elections. This may mean that the Marshall Plan will be an issue in the campaign.

Price Controls Are Legalized Plunder; Decrease Production

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Thank you, President Truman, for agreeing that price, wage and rent controls are the methods of a "police state." Your frankness has distressed some who fear your words will bounce back on them. And consumers' groups have sent you indignant telegrams demanding the return of the police state, but under a different, more beautiful name.

But stand your ground, Mr. President. You are right from the viewpoint of government, economics, and public morals. You, perhaps, are fed up with the hypocrisy of those who demand price controls on what they buy, but no controls on the goods or labor they sell. Pressure gfoups which shoulder each other out of the political hog-trough are unpleasant sights. But when they grunt "the common good," or the "general welfare," as cover-ups for their self-interests, they must sometimes nauseate you.

Wrong On One Point

You were wrong on one point, however, Mr. President. You said that anything that has to be enforced by a system of punishments is the mark of a police state. But that it not the difference between a police state and a free government. All governments use punishments. The distinction is whether the offense and the punishment are set forth in some statute, or whether they rest on the caprice of the bureaucrat. In short, it is the difference between a government by law, or a government by men, as the Constitution of Massachusetts puts it.

The prohibition era was not an example of police government. The Constitution and the Volstead Act laid down the law; the offense was clearly stated; the punishments were clearly prescribed and the citizens had the right to a jury trial. Federal prohibition may have been a mistaken policy, but it was not a "police government."

To prohibit the sale of a single commodity, such as liquor or a dangerous drug, is something that can be done by law. But, to fix a compulsory price on all the articles in a Sears Roebuck catalogue, or even a tenth of them, or the rent of a million different houses, is a job no legislature can perform. Nor could it constantly change those prices from day to day as frost or drought or strikes or the new demand of a Marshall Plan for feeding Europe upset the balance of supply and demand.

No, outside of a free market, this job can be done, if at all, only by an economic czar who rules by decree and from whose orders there is no appeal to the courts. Braintrusters know well enough. When they draft a Presidential order appointing an economic czar, they fight like wildcats against any right of injunction or appeal from his decrees.

Power To Be Arbitrary

As the Supreme Court has said, the power to fix prices involves the power to be arbitrary. It is the absence of rule by law that makes price and wage and rent fixing the characteristic of a police state. When, Mr. President, you said a year ago that you had contemplated sending out federal cattle rustlers so rabitrarily seize meat from the farmers, you were clearly describing a police state activity.

From the standpoint of economics, price fixing is equally a fake. Canadian and French and Argentine farmers have already curtailed wheat planting because of price fixing. To expect anyone to produce as much of anything for a price less than a free market would give, is a confession of economic illiteracy. It has never been done without bayonets, and poorly then.

Price controls are legalized plunder. When some use their voting power to get more goods by paying fewer dollars, they force others to take fewer dollars by giving up more goods.

Those who demand price controls for other people do so because they want to work harder, but because they want to get more by not working harder. Hence, Price controls always curtail the production of wealth. Witness the tremendous increases in production since O. P. A. was discarded.

Definite Things To Do

We often look upon those who have wealth and means, and who feel free to go and wander as they please, with nothing in particular to do, as the happy people. They are not happy! Most of them become bored and restless. The happy people are those who work, get enjoyment out of that work, and who value their social and personal opportunities to be a Somebody in this world.

People with definite things to do each day, wake up in the morning with a zest and with spirit. Their mental and physical makeup is alert. Their outlook upon life is stimulating. Life is worthwhile to such.

Even for those of us who have a certain routine each day, there may be made opportunities for varied things to do. No matter what position we may be in there are always opportunities yet untouched—and perhaps those just ahead of us. All of us should constantly be thinking ahead—looking to something better, something perhaps fitting our talents and inclinations to better advantage.

Definite things to do always save waste of time and strength. There is always an uplift to anticipations. The active dreamer is an asset to himself and to those with whom he may work. Every enterprise started with a dream!

The path to all efficiency, and happiness in work, is to make what you do interesting. If you can't do that it is better to make a change and get into something that will give you interest and the will to put your best efforts into what you do.

The planned day is the good day. It's the day that makes you want to live another day! We can all sprinkle our lives with novel engagements—doing things outside our regular employment—a hobby, a course of reading, some phase of religious work, or civic service. Something definitely interesting and useful, even beyond the sphere of our own enjoyment. Every one of us should endeavor to dodge the vacant hours! Too many people are already in them.

Soil conservation farming methods also save water. This is important when we realize that it takes 50 gallons of water to produce one ear of corn and approximately 1,300 gallons of water for a one-pound steak. Thirty-seven gallons of water go into our crops for each slice of bread and 14 gallons of water into a helping of potatoes.

The farm land of Pennsylvania is so situated as to permit the cultivation of a great variety of crops. The elevation ranges from practically sea level to 3,000 feet, and the crop growing season from 80 to 207 days. This range makes possible the general cultivation of fruits, vegetables, cereals and grasses.

The only tomb of an unknown soldier of the Revolutionary war is located in Pennsylvania. The sight is the Single Brethrens' House—used as a military hospital at the time—at Bethlehem, Pa.

About 567 tons of water are required to produce a ton of dry clover.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

There's an interesting set of people rattling around New York these days. I don't think you've heard much about them. I doubt if you ever will.

Billy Rose

One of them came into my office this afternoon to play me some melodies she had composed. It was obvious from the way she fingered the practice arpeggios that the lady knew her way around a piano.

"I wish you would be frank about my music," she said in a charming Mittel-Europa accent. "Please do not say nice things you do not mean."

For the next half hour I listened. Her tunes were pleasant enough, but they couldn't seem to make up their minds whether they were Heidelberg or Hotcha.

"They're pretty good," I said when she had finished, "but I doubt whether they're Hit Parade stuff.

Evidently I wasn't the first person in this country who had said "No" to her music. "Thank you," she smiled. "Could I come back in a few months? Maybe by that time I'll have the feel of your American tempo."

I asked the lady if any of her songs had been published.

She said, "Yes, a great many," and told me the titles of some of her compositions. I remembered a couple of them. They were gay little waltzes which had set all Austria humming before the Horst Wessel Song became the first ten tunes on the Danube Hit Parade.

As we said our goodbyes, I told her to keep trying. I knew she would anyway. But I also knew that her changes of getting hep to our American beat were not particularly good. For several years now, Broadway has been the unhappy hunting ground for much of the theatrical talent which fled from Der Schoener Adolph. Producers have been giving ear-time to big-name playwrights, directors, actors and composers from every nation between Petrovsk and the Pyrenees. I'm afraid it hasn't added up to much.

In Europe before the war, these gay and talented folk lived in fancy apartments and ate their goulash out of pedigreed porcelain. Here they live in furnished rooms, cook on hot plates, and spend most of their waking hours trying to adapt themselves to our runaway rhythms. I'd like to see them make the grade, but I'm afraid most of them are in for tough times. Much as I would be if I moved to Budapest and tried to make a living writing tzigane music.

In spite of the doors which have banged in their faces, these Continental katzenjammers are still able to laugh it up. Some of the brightest conversation in Manhattan these nights is to be heard in the coffee houses and delicatessens where they congregate. Some of their best jokes are on themselves and on their ability to adjust themselves to Yankee razzmatazz. Where schnitzel is never served without a piece of lemon, the sad little tale which follows is the current favorite.

Kleffenbach, one of the mainstays of the old Salzberg, was engaged to conduct a series of concerts in New York. Before boarding the plane with his wife, he bought the four-volume edition of "American Manners and Mores" by an anthropologist from the University of Leipzig.

"A strange land, mamma," mused Kleffenbach as he turned the pages. "Nevertheless a land abounding in sausage and strudel."

Kleffenbach led his wife the story of a talented fellow named Oscar Levant who made big money out of music only after he started telling jokes on the radio. The couple were even more impressed by the story of Salvador Dali, the surrealist painter who jumped into prominence by jumping through thep late glass window of a Fifth Avenue department store.

"In America it is not enough to have talent," Kleffenbach told his wife, "A man must also be spectacular."

The directors of the New York orchestra Kleffenbach had been engaged to conduct were astonished to find that his first program included a number called "The Firemen's Quadrille." The librarian looked it up and reported back that this old-time favorite hadn't been played by an important orchestra since McKinley was President. The directors registered a mild beef, but they subsided when the great man from Salzberg frowned at them over his bifocals.

During the first half of his concert, Kleffenbach more than lived up to his reputation. Then came "The Fireman's Quadrille." In the middle of the piece, the audience suddenly heard the wailing of sirens and the ringing of bells. Black clouds of smoke billowed up from behind the percussion section. A minute later the stage was filled with firemen brandishing axes and dragging long lines of hose. One of them silenced the orchestra and stepped to the podium. "Be calm!" he bellowed at the audience. "Walk, don't run, to the nearest exit!"

That night, after the directors bailed Kleffenbach out of the hoosegow, the poor little man explained that he had only tried to give America what he thought it wanted. Right after the downbeat on "The Firemen's Quadrille," he had had his wife light a tar pot backstage and then ring every fire alarm in the neighborhood.

Arbee Club To Inaugurate Season With Dinner-Dance

Officers Will Be Installed Tonight

The Arbee Club, composed of employes of Rosenbaum Brothers Store, will hold its annual fall dinner-dance tonight at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

H. C. Hoffman will serve as toastmaster and introduce the new officers. They are David Scollick, president; Richard Kendall, vice president; Miss Helen McKenzie, treasurer; and Miss Irene Llewellyn secretary.

Dinner is to be served at 7 o'clock, followed by dancing, with music by the Aristocrats from 9 until midnight. During the short business session, Mr. Scollick will name various committees for the year and plans will be formulated for other activities during the winter.

Elmer E. Welsh is chairman of the committee of arrangements. He is being assisted by David Scollick, Raymond Evans and Jennings House.

Dorothy Wolfe Is Bride Of W. H. Sandy

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Wolfe to William H. Sandy, Centralia, W. Va., has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Wolfe, Ridgeley, W. Va., parents of the bride. The ceremony was performed October 22, in St. Anthony's Catholic Church by Rev. Robert Kilgannon. Miss Mary Frances Hill was the maid of honor and only attendant.

The bride is a graduate of Ursuline Academy and Allegany Hospital School of Nursing. She served with the Army Nurse Corps in both theaters during the war.

The bridegroom is a veteran of four years service with the Army in the ETO, and was wounded in the Normandy campaign.

Samuel B. Riddick Weds Mrs. Katharine E. Byron

The marriage of Mrs. Katharine Edgar Byron, former congresswoman from this district, to Samuel Bynum Riddick, Washington, was performed Saturday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Clinton Goodloe Edgar, nead Williamsport. Rev. W. B. Stehl, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Hagerstown, officiated.

The bridal party included Mrs. Richard P. Glass, Washington, matron of honor; Miss Virginia Carmichael, Hagerstown, maid of honor and Emily Devereaux Byron and William Edgar, niece and nephew of the bride, flower girl and ring bearer. Commodore Glass served as best man and the ushers were James Edgar Byron, Goodloe Byron, David W. Byron, Sedgwick Byron and Lt. Jack Lightner.

The bride is a granddaughter of the late United States Senator Louis G. McComas, who was also representative of the sixth district in Congress. The bridegroom, a native of Smithfield, Va., is public relations chief for the F.H.A. in Washington. A graduate of William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., he was a commander in the Navy during the war.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Honolulu Mr. and Mrs. Riddick will reside in Washington.

Oldtown Homemakers Mark Achievements

Ten different exhibits of bread were on display at the Achievement Day meeting of the Oldtown Homemakers Club held recently at the Oldtown School cafeteria.

Honors were won by Mrs. Jeannie Nixon for a sugar plum coffee cake; Mrs. John House for a cinnamon tulip roll; Mrs. William Davis, clover rolls and Mrs. Wilbur McFarland, muffins.

The meeting opened with the singing of "Beautiful Dreamer." Announcement was made that the November meeting would consist of the electing of officers. A social hour concluded the meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. Lily Confer, Mrs. Sadie Athey and Mrs. William Davis.

There were 15 members and four guests present.

Individuality Masks Worn By Brownie Scouts

Twelve new Brownie Girl Scouts were enrolled in Troop, No. 33, sponsored by Mount Royal Parent-Teachers Association, at the Halloween party held yesterday afternoon in the school recreation room.

Each child wore a mask which she had been taught how to make at a previous meeting. The masks, reflecting the individuality of the children, ranged from a caricature of "Little Lulu" to a replica of a very dignified old gentleman.

Mothers of the Brownies were special guests at the party. Mrs. Henry Jammer, troop leader, was assisted by Mrs. H. C. Hoffman, troop committee chairman; Mrs. Garland Johnston, Mrs. W. Earle Cobey, Mrs. J. L. Symons and Mrs. J. Wallace Close, troop committee members, in arranging the party.

Marks Husband's Birthday

Mrs. James A. Lowery, 327 City View Terrace, entertained with a spaghetti dinner in honor of her husband, celebrating his birthday, Sunday night.

Guests were Mrs. Blanche Rodenhauser, Harry W. Rodenhauser, Fred Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Rosser, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hokamp, Mary Margaret, Kathleen and Betty Ann Hokamp.

LaSalle 1942 Class Plans 5th Reunion Dance On Dec. 29

Plans for the reunion dinner and reunion dance as well as naming various committees featured the meeting of members of the LaSalle High School Class of 1942, Monday night at the Conlon office, Liberty Trust building.

Continuing the annual reunions begun last year when members of the class returned from service and were together for the first time since graduation, the class will hold it's annual dinner December 28, at which time Brother Edmund, who was principal throughout their high school years and home room teacher their senior year, will be one of the speakers. Plans for reorganizing the LaSalle Alumni will be discussed also. Thomas Conlon, Jr., and Donald Palmer are co-chairmen for the dinner.

The fifth anniversary of their graduation will be celebrated with a dance, December 29. It will be semi-formal and is to be held at the Knights of Columbus home, with music by Arty Brill's Orchestra from 9 until 1 o'clock.

John P. Moffatt is reunion chairman and the Dance committee consists of Robert Mackert, Clarence Engelbach, Edward McMahon, Thomas Lippold and Paul Weisenmiller.

Mr. Conlon, class president, appointed Robert Brown and John Glick a committee to draw up a constitution and present it at the reunion dinner meeting. The next business session is to be held November 10, at the Conlon office at which time a Nominating committee is to be named. Officers will be elected and installed at the dinner meeting.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Berry, New York, are spending several days visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Berry, 311 Washington Street.

Arbee Club To Inaugurate Season With Dinner-Dance

Officers Will Be Installed Tonight

The Arbee Club, composed of employes of Rosenbaum Brothers Store, will hold its annual fall dinner-dance tonight at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

H. C. Hoffman will serve as toastmaster and introduce the new officers. They are David Scollick, president; Richard Kendall, vice president; Miss Helen McKenzie, treasurer; and Miss Irene Llewellyn secretary.

Dinner is to be served at 7 o'clock, followed by dancing, with music by the Aristocrats from 9 until midnight. During the short business session, Mr. Scollick will name various committees for the year and plans will be formulated for other activities during the winter.

Elmer E. Welsh is chairman of the committee of arrangements. He is being assisted by David Scollick, Raymond Evans and Jennings House.

Dorothy Wolfe Is Bride Of W. H. Sandy

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Wolfe to William H. Sandy, Centralia, W. Va., has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Wolfe, Ridgeley, W. Va., parents of the bride. The ceremony was performed October 22, in St. Anthony's Catholic Church by Rev. Robert Kilgannon. Miss Mary Frances Hill was the maid of honor and only attendant.

The bride is a graduate of Ursuline Academy and Allegany Hospital School of Nursing. She served with the Army Nurse Corps in both theaters during the war.

The bridegroom is a veteran of four years service with the Army in the ETO, and was wounded in the Normandy campaign.

Samuel B. Riddick Weds Mrs. Katharine E. Byron

The marriage of Mrs. Katharine Edgar Byron, former congresswoman from this district, to Samuel Bynum Riddick, Washington, was performed Saturday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Clinton Goodloe Edgar, nead Williamsport. Rev. W. B. Stehl, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Hagerstown, officiated.

The bridal party included Mrs. Richard P. Glass, Washington, matron of honor; Miss Virginia Carmichael, Hagerstown, maid of honor and Emily Devereaux Byron and William Edgar, niece and nephew of the bride, flower girl and ring bearer. Commodore Glass served as best man and the ushers were James Edgar Byron, Goodloe Byron, David W. Byron, Sedgwick Byron and Lt. Jack Lightner.

The bride is a granddaughter of the late United States Senator Louis G. McComas, who was also representative of the sixth district in Congress. The bridegroom, a native of Smithfield, Va., is public relations chief for the F.H.A. in Washington. A graduate of William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., he was a commander in the Navy during the war.

Oldtown Homemakers Mark Achievements

Ten different exhibits of bread were on display at the Achievement Day meeting of the Oldtown Homemakers Club held recently at the Oldtown School cafeteria.

Honors were won by Mrs. Jeannie Nixon for a sugar plum coffee cake; Mrs. John House for a cinnamon tulip roll; Mrs. William Davis, clover rolls and Mrs. Wilbur McFarland, muffins.

The meeting opened with the singing of "Beautiful Dreamer." Announcement was made that the November meeting would consist of the electing of officers. A social hour concluded the meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. Lily Confer, Mrs. Sadie Athey and Mrs. William Davis.

There were 15 members and four guests present.

Individuality Masks Worn By Brownie Scouts

Twelve new Brownie Girl Scouts were enrolled in Troop, No. 33, sponsored by Mount Royal Parent-Teachers Association, at the Halloween party held yesterday afternoon in the school recreation room.

Each child wore a mask which she had been taught how to make at a previous meeting. The masks, reflecting the individuality of the children, ranged from a caricature of "Little Lulu" to a replica of a very dignified old gentleman.

Mothers of the Brownies were special guests at the party. Mrs. Henry Jammer, troop leader, was assisted by Mrs. H. C. Hoffman, troop committee chairman; Mrs. Garland Johnston, Mrs. W. Earle Cobey, Mrs. J. L. Symons and Mrs. J. Wallace Close, troop committee members, in arranging the party.

LaSalle 1942 Class Plans 5th Reunion Dance On Dec. 29

Plans for the reunion dinner and reunion dance as well as naming various committees featured the meeting of members of the LaSalle High School Class of 1942, Monday night at the Conlon office, Liberty Trust building.

Continuing the annual reunions begun last year when members of the class returned from service and were together for the first time since graduation, the class will hold it's annual dinner December 28, at which time Brother Edmund, who was principal throughout their high school years and home room teacher their senior year, will be one of the speakers. Plans for reorganizing the LaSalle Alumni will be discussed also. Thomas Conlon, Jr., and Donald Palmer are co-chairmen for the dinner.

The fifth anniversary of their graduation will be celebrated with a dance, December 29. It will be semi-formal and is to be held at the Knights of Columbus home, with music by Arty Brill's Orchestra from 9 until 1 o'clock.

John P. Moffatt is reunion chairman and the Dance committee consists of Robert Mackert, Clarence Engelbach, Edward McMahon, Thomas Lippold and Paul Weisenmiller.

Mr. Conlon, class president, appointed Robert Brown and John Glick a committee to draw up a constitution and present it at the reunion dinner meeting. The next business session is to be held November 10, at the Conlon office at which time a Nominating committee is to be named. Officers will be elected and installed at the dinner meeting.

Home Furnishing Program Planned

A review of the home furnishing program for the state and selection of parts to use in the Allegany county Homemaker Clubs featured the meeting of Miss Florence Mason, home furnishing specialist from the University of Maryland, with Miss Maude A. Bean, Miss Gloria Bohn, Mrs. Wilbur Parker, representing the 4-H local leaders, Mrs. Albert Smouse, representing the Homemakers, Mrs. Paul Strouk and Mrs. W. O. Wolford, representing other homemakers.

As one of the four projects for the year it was decided to give two meetings to home furnishing, at which time design in furniture will be discussed and feature straight and easy chairs. There will be also a special meeting on storage in the living area, to be held later in the year.

Home furnishing from the economic and social factors which underlie any educational program, were also discussed.

Plans Monthly Party

Maryland Alpha Chapter, Delta Theta Chi met Monday night at Central YMCA with Mrs. Helen Burke presiding. It was decided to hold its monthly party, November 14, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Miss Doris See, Miss Mary Lee Winebrenner and Miss Frances Snowberger will serve as the hostesses.

To Send Basket To Strawbridge Home

Circle No. 3, of the First Methodist Church formulated plans for filling a basket for the Strawbridge home, at the meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Earl Sills, 623 Lincoln Street.

Various kinds of canned food will be used in the basket, and contributions are to be taken to the church basement not later than November 7. Members also discussed having a rummage sale in the near future.

The program opened with devotionals by Mrs. Louis Dickerhoff and consisted of reports by Mrs. Dent Rice and Mrs. Dickerhoff. Mrs. Rice gave the closing prayer.

A social hour concluded the meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. Sills and Mrs. Anna Long, co-hostesses. Eight members and one guest attended. Others present were Mrs. Madelyn Alkire, Miss Ina Keister, Mrs. George Sullivan, Mrs. Albert Marcle and Mrs. Edna McFarland.

Rev. And Mrs. Bridges Are Honored At Party

A reception, in the form of a pound party, was given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Bridges, under the sponsorship of the Ladies Aid Society of Potomac Park Evangelical United Brethren Church, earlier in the week. The party was in celebration of Rev. Mr. Bridges re-appointment as pastor of the church.

The entertainment program featured the history of the church, since its organization about 14 years ago. Mrs. Charles Grove, Mrs. Lee Roy, Mrs. W. L. Shumaker, Harry Waybright and Mrs. Robert Haines, among the first members of the church, each spoke of the early history of the organization. There were brief remarks by Rev. and Mrs. Bridges, also, and group singing.

Mrs. Joseph Nicodemus and Mrs. Horace Mill were co-chairmen in charge of the program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Garland Paxton, Mrs. Edward Shaffer and Mrs. John Zink.

Flag Unit To Hold Halloween Dance

The Flag Unit of Ali Ghan Temple will entertain with a Halloween dance, Friday night, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Round and square dancing will feature the entertainment.

The dance, which is to be informal, will begin at 9 o'clock with music by Arty Brill's Orchestra. Edward Muir wil call the figures for the square dancing from 9 until 10 o'clock.

Refreshments appropriate to the Halloween season will be served during intermission.

Charles U. Wiebel, Blair Welch and Charles Yergan are in charge of arrangements.

Home Furnishing Program Planned

A review of the home furnishing program for the state and selection of parts to use in the Allegany county Homemaker Clubs featured the meeting of Miss Florence Mason, home furnishing specialist from the University of Maryland, with Miss Maude A. Bean, Miss Gloria Bohn, Mrs. Wilbur Parker, representing the 4-H local leaders, Mrs. Albert Smouse, representing the Homemakers, Mrs. Paul Strouk and Mrs. W. O. Wolford, representing other homemakers.

As one of the four projects for the year it was decided to give two meetings to home furnishing, at which time design in furniture will be discussed and feature straight and easy chairs. There will be also a special meeting on storage in the living area, to be held later in the year.

Home furnishing from the economic and social factors which underlie any educational program, were also discussed.

Plans Monthly Party

Maryland Alpha Chapter, Delta Theta Chi met Monday night at Central YMCA with Mrs. Helen Burke presiding. It was decided to hold its monthly party, November 14, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Miss Doris See, Miss Mary Lee Winebrenner and Miss Frances Snowberger will serve as the hostesses.

To Send Basket To Strawbridge Home

Circle No. 3, of the First Methodist Church formulated plans for filling a basket for the Strawbridge home, at the meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Earl Sills, 623 Lincoln Street.

Various kinds of canned food will be used in the basket, and contributions are to be taken to the church basement not later than November 7. Members also discussed having a rummage sale in the near future.

The program opened with devotionals by Mrs. Louis Dickerhoff and consisted of reports by Mrs. Dent Rice and Mrs. Dickerhoff. Mrs. Rice gave the closing prayer.

A social hour concluded the meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. Sills and Mrs. Anna Long, co-hostesses. Eight members and one guest attended. Others present were Mrs. Madelyn Alkire, Miss Ina Keister, Mrs. George Sullivan, Mrs. Albert Marcle and Mrs. Edna McFarland.

Rev. And Mrs. Bridges Are Honored At Party

A reception, in the form of a pound party, was given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Bridges, under the sponsorship of the Ladies Aid Society of Potomac Park Evangelical United Brethren Church, earlier in the week. The party was in celebration of Rev. Mr. Bridges re-appointment as pastor of the church.

The entertainment program featured the history of the church, since its organization about 14 years ago. Mrs. Charles Grove, Mrs. Lee Roy, Mrs. W. L. Shumaker, Harry Waybright and Mrs. Robert Haines, among the first members of the church, each spoke of the early history of the organization. There were brief remarks by Rev. and Mrs. Bridges, also, and group singing.

Mrs. Joseph Nicodemus and Mrs. Horace Mill were co-chairmen in charge of the program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Garland Paxton, Mrs. Edward Shaffer and Mrs. John Zink.

Flag Unit To Hold Halloween Dance

The Flag Unit of Ali Ghan Temple will entertain with a Halloween dance, Friday night, at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Round and square dancing will feature the entertainment.

The dance, which is to be informal, will begin at 9 o'clock with music by Arty Brill's Orchestra. Edward Muir wil call the figures for the square dancing from 9 until 10 o'clock.

Refreshments appropriate to the Halloween season will be served during intermission.

Charles U. Wiebel, Blair Welch and Charles Yergan are in charge of arrangements.

Celebrates Birthday

Various games were played and refreshments were served.

Visitors were Miss Margaret Levin, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hager, Mr. and Mrs. John Roy, Mr. and Mrs. John Crone, Mrs. Clara Hager and Mr. and Mrs. John Hager.

County Unable To Aid Charity Unit Appeals

A request of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children for a donation from the county was turned down yesterday by the Allegany County Commissioners when Lewis M. Wilson, board attorney, informed the members that under the law the county is not permitted to make donations of the taxpayers money for charitable purposes.

Miss Henrietta Schwarzenbach, president of the league, informed the board in her letter that due to 14 cases of polio during the past 60 days the added expenses involved in combatting the disease have placed a heavy drain on league funds.

Hyndman Masons To Honor Ladies At Dinner Today

By LILLIAN CRABTREE

HYNDMAN, Pa., — The Masons of Hyndman Lodge No. 589 will entertain their wives at a turkey dinner today at 6:30 p. m. The banquet will be served in the recently opened dining room of the Londonderry Township School cafeteria.

Prof. Lloyd H. Hinkle, former superintendent of Bedford County Schools, will be the speaker of the evening.

Birthday Party Held

Mrs. Paul Logue entertained with a party in honor of the third birthday of her son, Paul, Jr., recently at her home. Those present were Norma Jean Shaffer, Gertrude Shaffer, Larry Clites, Donald Geissler, Gordon Diehl, Jimmie Golden and Eddie Emerick.

Becomes Bride

Miss Margaret Sager and Russell May, both of Hyndman, were married Sunday, October 19, in Emmanuel Methodist Church by Rev. Gorden G. Jones. The single ring ceremony was used.

Mrs. Eugene May, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor and Eugene May, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride was attired in a powder blue suit dress with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of chrysanthemums. The matron of honor was attired in a brown dress with brown accessories and wore a corsage of chrysanthemums.

Miss Jeanne Emerick, niece of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Fred Porter.

Attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Ross May, Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Christner and son, Linwood, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leydig, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Harbert and son, Ray, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Shaffer and son, Carl, Mrs. Myrtle Leydig, Mrs. Cora Evans, Mrs. Theodore Twigg, Mrs. Della Shierer, Mrs. Richard Leonard and son, Kim, Mrs. Fuller Barclay and daughter, Janet, Mrs. William Jamison, Miss Eileen Stahlman, Mrs. Hilda Stuby, Eugene, Jr., Bruce, Sandra and Katherine Ann May, Terry Stuby, Donald Brennan and John Sager.

Personal Items

Relief Payments Will Be Checked

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners has been notified by Governor William Preston Lane, Jr., that he will order an investigation into subsistency payments received by needy, aged and indigent in this county, in reply to a request from the county.

Last week, Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson explained he has been informed that reduced payments have created a desperate situation for some persons on the County and State Welfare rolls, and funds made available make only a starvation diet possible, in view of the high costs of food products.

Gov. Lane assured the Board a thorough study of the situation will begin at once.

Frostburg Miner Hurt In Fall Of Rock

Henry Bowers, 50, 121 Hill Street, Frostburg, was reported in fair condition last night in Memorial Hospital where he was admitted yesterday morning for treatment of possible serious back injuries suffered in a rock fall at Eckhart Mine No. 10 of the Consolidated Fuel Company.

Attaches said Bowers complained of severe pain after he was struck by falling rock. X-rays will be taken to determine the extent of injuries.

County Opens Bids On Re-Roofing Job

The bid of the Tri State Roofing Company to re-roof the Union Street County Building was accepted yesterday at a meeting of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

The Company was low bidder at a figure of $983 for a built up asphalt roof with a 10-year guarantee. The only other bid for this specification was Harry W. Young, at $1,773.

The Tri State firm also bid $390 for a 65-pound rolled roof, while Alex J. Shute bid $860, with a 10-year guarantee provided the roof is painted each third year.

It was indicated work will begin on the project within a few days.

Fall is the best time of the year in which to lime, manure, and fertilize pastures for improvement. Maximum production of pastures this coming year will help to release grain for human consumption both at home and abroad and will also aid in checking inflation.

Americans Favor Accord With Russia But Advocate Firmness

Many Think U. S. Soft With Reds

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 28—If James V. Forrestal and W. Averill Harriman are "warmongers" in the eyes of Russia's Andrei Vishinsky, then with equal logic the majority of the American people would have to be condemned as warmongers. The general views of those two cabinet members are in accord with the public's own views.

But, on the basis of evidence from public opinion surveys the American people cannot be described as warmongers. There is widespread desire for peace. The public is hopeful that ways can be worked out to get along better with Russia. Despite noisy and mounting tension between the two countries, the American public is not giving way to hysteria, and is showing very little desire to see the United States pull out of the United Nations because of Russia's continued bucking of the majority will.

To achieve accord, the American people need to understand the Russians better. By the same token, the Russian leaders and people need to have a sounder grasp of American thinking. Specifically, Stalin, Vishinsky and other Soviet leaders seem to be misreading American public opinion on at least two counts:

1—The Kremlin is misjudging the mood or temper of the American people if it believes that Henry A. Wallace, with his sharp criticism of our foreign policy represents any considerable bloc of public opinion.

2—Soviet leaders are also misinformed if they suppose that there is any serious cleavage between the public's views on Russia and the State Department's current so-called "tough" policy toward Russia. Attempts at driving a wedge between the American people and the governmnet so far as Russia is concerned do not at present hold out much promise of success.

In fact, the mood of the public today is one favoring an even tougher policy toward the Soviets than the State Department is following.

What are the reasons for this attitude? The American people have a list of specific grievances, real or fancied, against Russia which will be given in detail in a forthcoming report by the Institute. But aside from the specific criticisms, one underlying fact which colors American attitudes toward the Soviets is a deep-seated fear of the consequences of appeasement.

Many Americans feel that Uncle Sam got his fingers burned by giving in to Hitler in the years prior to 1939. The memory of what happened and the realization that giving in did not make for peace has produced a sharp reaction in the American public mind. The majority of voters now believe that peace is more likely to be maintained if we make clear to the world where we will make our stand.

The extent to which the people back up the government in its present foreign policy is shown in a series of polls by the Institute covering various aspects of the situation, as follows:

"Do you think that in dealing with Russia and other countries the United States is insisting too much on having its own way?"

The vote:

|---|---|
| Yes | 12% |
| No | 78 |
| No opinion | 10 |

"Do you think the United States is being too soft or too tough in its policy toward Russia?"

| | |
|---|---|
| Too soft | 62% |
| Too tough | 6 |
| About right | 24 |
| No opinion | 8 |

"Do you think Secretary of State Marshall has been doing a good or a poor job in handling our relations with Russia?"

| | |
|---|---|
| Good | 63% |
| Fair | 20 |
| Poor | 2 |
| No opinion | 15 |

It seems clear that Henry Wallace and others who have been critical of our foreign policy are speaking only for a minority. In Wallace's case, poll figures are available on his personal popularity as a political figure. In June it was found that if Wallace were to start a new political party only about one voter in 10 (13 per cent) said he would support such a party.

ALL-AMERICAN HONOR ROLL

BILL SWIACKI, star end of the Columbia Lions, caught eight passes, several of them spectacular snatches, to lead the Lions to a 21-20 upset win over Army. Swiacki is 22 and lives at Southbridge, Mass.

BOB DE MOSS, Purdue's aerial arm, connected on four of five passes and set up both of his team's touchdowns in the Boilermakers' 14-7 upset victory over previously unbeaten Illinois. (International)

BILLY BYE, 158-pound halfback of the Minnesota Gophers, was a standout for the Minneapolis eleven in his team's great battle with Michigan. Bye ran the Michigan ends ragged and played sensational defensive ball to give the Wolves a scare before they put on steam to win by 13 to 6.

BOB CHAPPUIS, Michigan's All-American backfield hope, ran, passed and punted in all-star style to lead the undefeated Wolverines to a 13-6 win over Minnesota. Chappuis completed eight of 12 passes for 131 yards and a touchdown. He was a very busy man all afternoon. (International)

Michigan Still Holds Leadership In Yards Gained

Wolverines' Average Is 436.6 Per Game

By GAIL FOWLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—Once-mighty Minnesota may not be going anywhere this fall, but if the Gophers can dig any holes for the ambitions of others, they'll do it.

They proved that last week when they put a serious crimp in Michigan's bid for a new football record in total offense—gains both rushing and passing.

Michigan won the game all right, 13-6, but was outgained on the ground by the Gophers and had nearly 50 yards clipped from the Wolverine total offensive average of 484.5 roasted the previous week.

However, National Collegiate Athletic Bureau Statistics today show that the Big Nine leader still is substantially ahead in total offense rankings with 436.6 yards per game upstairs and down.

Michigan's forward passing offense leadership still was maintained, too, although it shrank from 220 per game to 202.2. In rushing offense Michigan, 11th last week, tumbled clear out of the first 15.

Thus the Wolverines lost ground in their quest of Army's record 462.7 total offense average established in 1945.

Penn State's Nittany Lions, 21-14 victors over West Virginia, increased their average in continuing to lead the nation's major teams in rushing offense, jumping from 322 yards per game last week to 326.6 for this week's compilations. The rugged Penn State defense also tumbled West Virginia from second place in total offense listings down to 10th.

Detroit, on the strength of 547 yards amassed against Duquesne, jumped from 15th to 2nd in rushing offense. Wichita climbed from sixth to third by rolling up 405 yards in a 55-7 rout of Flagstaff state.

Five of the first six total offense leaders are undefeated—Michigan, Penn State, Georgia Tech, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

EDDIE STANKY SAYS BROOKLYN FANS ARE WORLD'S GREATEST

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 28 (AP) — Does the roar of the faithful at Ebbets Field have any effect on the winning habits of the Brooklyn Dodgers?

"It mostly certainly does," says Eddie Stanky, the Dodgers scrapping little second sacker, who credits that old college try with a big assist in the Dodgers' 1947 successes.

Stanky, quite a sparkplug himself, rates those Brooklyn fans as tops.

"They're the world's greatest," he said. "They're with you win, lose or draw, and you feel like a heel to let them down."

When the six piece band in left field, the symphony, gets going and the fans start whooping it up for the home side, Stanky said something unexplainable happens to you.

That "something" is best explained, he said, by the fact that the Dodgers played something like .700 ball in the friendly confines of Ebbets Field.

"And if we could have played one more game in Ebbets Field instead of Yankee Stadium it would have been a different story in the world series," he added, which the New York Yankees won in seven games.

North Carolina lists 33 out-of-staters on its 1947 football squad.

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — Throughout the long, drama-saturated afternoon Lou Little had paced up and down, up and down in front of the Columbia bench.

His boys, resembling dead-end kids with their faded, pale-blue jersies and lumpy padding, were battling the spruce West Pointers to a standstill and now held a one-point lead, although Little must have died just a little bit a dozen times before the one-point lead was achieved.

The sweaty, dirty, sometimes blood-caked lads would run to him for instructions before darting on the field. He would place a hand on a grimy shoulder and give a gentle shove, or speak an encouraging word as a weary, puffing kid came in to plop heavily on the bench.

Now it was over, and Baker Field fairly exploded with a wild confusion of noise and aimlessly racing figures. For a moment Little was lost in the wild scene, then as suddenly he appeared, leaping over the fence behind the bench and rusing to the stands. There he embraced his wife, kissed her, and as quickly turned to vault the fence again.

Straight across the middle of the field marched a tall, handsome man in brown tweeds. His face was impassive, inscrutable. Occasionally he'd be forced to pause to keep from being overrun by semi-hysterical fans. But he had set his course and he would resume the march, ignored in the bedlam.

Little saw him coming and ran to meet him, grasping him warmly by the hand. What the Columbia coach said to Red Blaik only they know. It was the first time in nearly four years that the Army tutor had been forced to make such a journey to congratulate a victor, but he made it with shoulders squared, hiding any disappointment. A one-point defeat ending a string of 32 games without a setback isn't easy to swallow.

He isn't the kind to offer an alibi if it were possible, which in this case it wasn't. His Cadets were beaten fairly, and had only their inept pass defense to blame.

It's sure they were up against a passing combination in Gene Rossides and Bill Swiacki which was practically out of this world on this particular afternoon, but a more alert defense most certainly would have killed at least some of those 20 completions.

Just as a guess we'd say Army was a little smug when it left the field at the half with a 20 to 7 lead. In the first half the Cadets functioned smartly, with almost the military precision of the marching corps.

They seemed to lose a little of this drive as the third period opened, to be content with their advantage. Then, when Rossides started pitching and Swiacki started making his miraculous catches in the final period, the West Pointers became alarmed, then downright panicky.

The game they had tucked away was slipping from them, and there was nothing they could do about it. When they spread out to stop the aerial thrusts, the Lions ran the ball. When they tightened up to stop the running, Rossides pitched and Swiacki caught.

Army's line appeared adequate, but the backfield was a far cry from the superb comination of recent years when every play, from anywhere, was a potential touchdown play.

The defeat might take a little of the polish off a Notre Dame victory, which everyone seems to expect, but at the same time it will make the Notre Dame victory a little more difficult to achieve. If the Cadets didn't profit through that affair in snug Baker Bowl last Saturday they wouldn't be smart enough to be at West Point.

Barton Battles Central Booters To Scoreless Tie

Bruce Cops WMI Final From Flintstone, 9-0

Barton High School battled Central of Lonaconing to a scoreless tie and Bruce High School of Westernport rolled over Flintstone to the tune of 9 to 0 yesterday in the final games of the 1947 season in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League.

In the contest played on a muddy field in Barton, both teams had opportunities to score from the field and penalty line but muffed them. Capt. Lamberson of Barton missed a try for penalty goal in the second period and A. Stafford of Central did likewise in the third quarter. Both shots were blocked by the goalies.

Warnick, Metz and Inskeep played best for Barton while Groves, P. Green and McKenzie were outstanding for Central.

Central won the series opener by the score of 2-1 on a fluke goal October 10. With the score knotted at 1-1, a Central shot caromed off the foot of a Barton halfback and bounded between the uprights for the winning score.

The Westernport eleven played minus the services of Davisson, Wilt, Broadwater, who are out because of scholastic difficulties.

Goals by Fitzgerald and Howard gave Bruce a 2-0 lead in the first quarter. Hanna and Parsons booted goals in the second period, Hanna and Harmon registered in the third stanza and Moran racked up three fielders in the final canto.

Navy Man Discharged For Irregularities In Handling Tickets

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 28 (AP)—A Naval Academy spokesman announced tonight Midshipman Frederick W. Lauer, Jr. (843 Sheridan Road) Wilmette, Ill., had been discharged from naval service chiefly for "irregularities in the handling of tickets for the Penn-Navy game of last week-end."

The spokesman said, "careful investigation by the Naval Academy authorities indicated that Mr. Lauer was the only midshipman who stood to profit by the transaction and who was involved in major irregularities."

Lauer, a first classman or senior, was confined at the academy after a man who identified himself as Harry Rubin of (5630 Wyndale Avenue) Philadelphia, was apprehended Oct. 15 at the main gate carrying 400 tickets to the Penn game, the spokesman said.

He added "Mr. Lauer obtained the tickets from individual midshipmen of the junior classes who turned over their applications to him in good faith.

"The midshipmen were entitled to purchase a maximum of four tickets for the Penn-Navy game if they so applied."

The spokesman said Rubin "of his own free will stated another Philadelphian 'asked me to come down to the U. S. Naval Academy to pick up a bundle from Midshipman Lauer.'"

Lauer entered the Naval Academy August 4, 1944, and had served previously in the naval reserve officers training corps at Notre Dame.

No rule specifically prohibits a midshipman from reselling tickets. Application forms state, however, "a member will be held accountable for tickets falling into the hands of speculators."

Football Officials Hold Final Session

Nine officials and coaches attended the regular meeting of the Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia Football Officials Association last night at the Allegany County Board of Education Building. It was probably the last session of the current season.

Those attending were John Angellatta, R. L. Bigler, William P. Hahn, William M. "Huck" Miers, Ed Milbrada, John R. Shelton, C. William Spangler, Daniel R. Staley and John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh.

Meet The Coach

By JACK SORDS

Since 1932, when Bernie Bierman arrived on the University of Minnesota campus, the Gopher football teams have won four national championships, six Western Conference crowns and have gone undefeated five times.

The nation's foremost exponent of the single-wing style of offensive play, Bierman long has been considered one of the nation's top football coaches.

Bierman was a Minnesota star in his college days. He participated in track and football. He was captain of the 1915 grid team.

He started coaching at Butte, Mont., high school in 1916 and then quit to enter the service. He rose from private to captain in the Marines and returned to coaching in 1919 as head man at Montana U. He moved to Tulane in 1923 as assistant to Clark Shaughnessy and then coached at Mississippi A. & M. He returned to Tulane in 1927 as head coach, and stayed there until he resigned to take over at Minnesota.

Bierman went into the service in 1941 and stayed until 1944 when he was discharged as a lieutenant colonel in the Marines.

Keyser Expects Largest Crowd For Friday Game

Moorefield To Play Tornado 18th Time

KEYSER, Oct. 28 — Keyser High School is preparing to handle the largest crowd of the season on Friday when Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's sends his Golden Tornado into action against the Moorefield High School Yellow Jackets in an important Potomac Valley Conference football contest.

It will mark Moorefield's last showing in Keyser with their ace halfback, George Hott, and the visitors' lineup also will include John Sherman, who attended Keyser High School last year, at a tackle position. Sherman undoubtedly would have played the same position had he stayed at Keyser High School.

Moorefield's record in the P.V.C. is four wins and one defeat while Keyser has won two games and lost one.

The series between the Hardy and Mineral county schools was launched back in 1927 and in 17 games played to date Keyser has won 11 and Moorefield 6. The most one-sided game was played in 1942 when Moorefield won by the score of 60-0. Last fall Coach Johnny Paugh's team scored a 22 to 7 victory.

Coach Clark today stated that the Keyser team will be in good shape for the game with the exception of Johnny Spitzer. It is doubtful if he will start because of a recurrence of a shoulder injury in the Allegany game.

Keyser is expected to turn out for this game as the championship of the PVC may hinge on the outcome. Ridgeley, undefeated in three conference starts, may run into plenty of trouble on the same day when it meets the Romney Pioneers (2-2) on the latter's field.

BIG IF, LONG SHOT, WINS HANDICAP RACE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—Mrs. J. T. Maloney's Big If, a $24.20 for $2 shot, won the $20,000 Remsen Handicap at Jamaica today, defeating nine other juveniles in a photo finish.

W. L. Brann's Escadru was second and Ben Whitaker's My Request third, with all three horses only heads apart at the end of the mile and one-sixteenth race.

Big If completed the distance over a fast track in 1:47 flat to earn first money of $17,450 and returned $24.20, $10.40 and $5.50 across the board. Escadru paid $8.10 and $4.50 while My Request returned $3.50 for the show.

Ohioan Scores KO

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — Joe Carkido, 136½, Youngstown, Ohio, stopped Ross Anzalone, 142½, New York at 1:33 of the sixth round of a scheduled eight-round bout at the Park Arena tonight.

Wildlife Group Meets Thursday In Westernport

Bottle Run Project Up For Discussion

A special meeting of the legislative committee of the Western Maryland Wildlife Federation will be held at Westernport tomorrow at 7 p. m., for the purpose of discussing the proposed postponement of the Bottle Run fishing rearing project for Allegany county and the proposal to open Evitt's Creek to fishing for species other than trout during the regular open season for such species.

A public hearing on these proposals will be conducted by the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission on Monday, November 3, at Salisbury, Md.

One of the proposals, offered by the League of Maryland Sportsmen, Inc., urges the postponement of the expenditure of $45,000 on trout and bass rearing ponds on Bottle Run, until the Beaver Creek Hatchery in Washington County is completed.

Bottle Run has been approved as an ideal site for a rearing station for both bass and trout and sportsmen of Western Maryland feel that it is needed for Allegany and Garrett counties.

The Evitt's Creek proposal while offered by the L.M.S. has been discussed before by Allegany county sportsmen.

Fred Crowe and Jonathan Sleeman of the Allegany and Garrett Sportsmen's Association; George Walters of the Eckhart Square Circle Club, who is also president of the federation; Ellsworth Boal and Clyde Michael of the Upper Potomac Rod and Gun Club. Michael is secretary of the federation.

Friday's meeting will be held at the Boal Funeral Home, Church Street, Westernport.

Forty May Start In Cambridgeshire Handicap Today

Mighty Maharatta Is Choice At Newmarket

By BILL MACKLIN

LONDON, Oct. 28—(AP)—Bookmakers will lose a pile of pounds—on top of the weight they've already lost worrying—if one of the favorites wins the nine-furlong Cambridgeshire Handicap tomorrow at Newmarket, the capital of Britain's racing empire.

Forty probable starters promise a cavalry charge start at 8:45 a. m. (EST) in the weight-for-age race, which pays a relatively small prize—$13,808—but is one of the season's most important turf event because of its place in the betting market.

The third and final Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes this year is based on the finish.

It is the second leg of the big national autumn double and many of the favored runners are coupled with the winner of the October 15 Cesarewitch — Whiteway — on bets that could pay tremendous odds.

A London star columnist reported that one professional backer has double bets on Whiteway and Mighty Maharatta which, if successful, will return him $1,200,000.

Mighty Maharatta, a three-year-old for whom the Maharaja of Baroda paid a world record price as a yearling, is the steady favorite. The winner of his last four races, Mighty will carry only 118 pounds.

But the Cambridgeshire, with its huge field, a dozen apprentice jocks, potential bumps and squeezes, is not a "favorite's race." Palais Royal II was the last favorite winner—and that was back in 1928.

Among the longshot aspirants is an American runner—the chestnut filly, Singing Grass, from the British stable of Robert Sterling Clark of New York. A three-year-old, carrying only 97 pounds, she has won twice and been third in her last three outings.

RYDER CUP MATCHES TO START SATURDAY

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 28 (INS)—British and American golf aces alike blasted par today in practice rounds for the Ryder Cup matches Saturday and Sunday, but the best American scores were lower than the sharpest British marks recorded.

How much of the difference was due to the bigger American ball and links unfamiliar to the visiting pros will become apparent in the next few days.

Each of the 10 American wizards has played in at least one tournament over the rolling, tree-studded Portland golf links. The Britons had not seen it until yesterday afternoon.

If earnestness is a factor, the invaders are sure to make a good showing in the match as they strive for the first British victory on American soil since the series began in 1927. They are almost pathetically determined to take the cup home.

American pros have won four times and the British twice. This week's match is the first since 1937.

Ellerslie Gridders Seek Third Victory

The Ellerslie Eagles football team will play the South End Boys on Sunday, November 2, at 2 p. m. in Ellerslie.

Ellerslie will be seeking its third straight win of the season.

Arcaro To Pilot Loyal Legion In Pimlico Special

Winner-Take-All Race Is Scheduled Friday

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28 (AP)—There was some maneuvering around today in an attempt to block Warren Wright's cagey Calumet outfit from winning a fourth Pimlico Special come Friday, thereby bringing up these questions: Can Eddie Arcaro do it? Will Stymie try it?

Eddie will have a shot at it aboard Walter M. Jeffords' three-year-old Loyal Legion, one of the bright stars in the meeting which closes at nearby Laurel tomorrow.

Trainer Oscar White announced today that Eddie had agreed to come down from New York for the mile and three-sixteenths, $25,000-winner-take-all classic.

Al Snider has been riding the Legion, racking up wins in the $15,000 Maryland and $25,000 Washington Handicaps at Laurel. But he's already committed to wear the Calumet silks on Friday atop Fervent, another three-year-old and second half of Wright's entry in the special.

Armed, of course, is the horse to beat. Doug Dodson will ride Calumet's 6-year-old star as the other half of the entry. If he's first to the wire, it will be Armed's second victory in the special. If either Armed or Fervent come on top, it will be Calumet's fourth. Whirlaway did it in a walkover in 1942, Twilight Tear in 1944 and Armed in 1945.

Then there's the Stymie question. Will Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs pass up the Scarsdale Saturday at Empire-Jamaica for a fling at the Special?

Officials at the Maryland Jockey Club had hoped to have the answer from Trainer Hirsch Jacobs today after he took a look at the weights for the Scarsdale.

Stymie, also a 6-year-old, was assigned 130 pounds for the Long Island go. The old hill toppers figured Jacobs might prefer the weight-for-age special's distance to the Scarsdale's mile and a sixteenth. Six-year-olds carry 126 pounds in the Special, the three-year-olds 120.

If Armed and Stymie do renew their rivalry, there won't be a chance for the Calumet racer to overtake the $816,060 all-time money winning record set by Stymie when he romped off with the Gallant Fox Handicap at Jamaica last Saturday.

Armed's winnings now stand at $761,500 and the Jones Boys—Ben and Jim—have indicated they will probably retire him for the year after the Special, win or lose.

Wildcats To Drill

The South End Wildcats football team will practice Thursday at 4 p. m. on Taylor Field.

Fearer Will Head "Y" Sunday School Basketball League

13 Teams Represented, Loop Will Open Dec. 6

Harold Fearer of St. Paul's Lutheran Church was elected president of the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League at a meeting held last night at the "Y."

Jack Kreiling of Zion Reformed Church was elected vice president and Clifton Van Roby, physical director of the Central YMCA was re-elected treasurer.

Thirteen teams were represented at last night's session, the largest opening turnout in the history of the circuit which will open its 19th season on Saturday, December 6. The group included spokesmen for 13 of the 16 teams that were in the league last season and First Baptist Church which was not represented during the 1946-47 race.

All team forfeit fees and player application forms, signed by parents, to make teams and players eligible for the opening date, must be in the hands of the league's secretary-treasurer by November 24.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the YMCA on November 25 at 8 p. m.

BUTTIN IN — Vice Buttin, 28-year-old French boxer, who claims the light heavyweight championship of France, has arrived in New York for ring warfare and a few good old American dollars.

ALL AMERICAN HONOR ROLL

BILL SWIACKI, star end of the Columbia Lions, caught eight passes, several of them spectacular snatches, to lead the Lions to a 21-20 upset win over Army. Swiacki is 22 and lives at Southbridge, Mass.

BOB DE MOSS, Purdue's aerial arm, connected on four of five passes and set up both of his team's touchdowns in the Boilermakers' 14-7 upset victory over previously unbeaten Illinois. (International)

BILLY BYE, 158-pound halfback of the Minnesota Gophers, was a standout for the Minneapolis eleven in his team's great battle with Michigan. Bye ran the Michigan ends ragged and played sensational defensive ball to give the Wolves a scare before they got on steam to win by 13 to 6.

BOB CHAPPUIS, Michigan's All-American backfield hope, ran, passed and punted in all-star style to lead the undefeated Wolverines to a 13-6 win over Minnesota. Chappuis completed eight of 12 passes for 131 yards and a touchdown. He was a very busy man all afternoon. (International)

Michigan Still Holds Leadership In Yards Gained

Wolverines' Average Is 436.6 Per Game

By GAIL FOWLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—Once-mighty Minnesota may not be going anywhere this fall, but if the Gophers can dig any holes for the ambitions of others, they'll do it.

They proved that last week when they put a serious crimp in Michigan's bid for a new football record in total offense—gains both rushing and passing.

Michigan won the game all right, 13-6, but was outgained on the ground by the Gophers and had nearly 50 yards clipped from the Wolverine total offensive average of 484.5 roasted the previous week.

However, National Collegiate Athletic Bureau Statistics today show that the Big Nine leader still is substantially ahead in total offense rankings with 436.6 yards per game upstairs and down.

Michigan's forward passing offense leadership still was maintained, too, although it shrank from 220 per game to 202.2. In rushing offense Michigan, 11th last week, tumbled clear out of the first 15.

Thus the Wolverines lost ground in their quest of Army's record 462.7 total offense average established in 1945.

Penn State's Nittany Lions, 21-14 victors over West Virginia, increased their average in continuing to lead the nation's major teams in rushing offense, jumping from 322 yards per game last week to 326.6 for this week's compilations. The rugged Penn State defense also tumbled West Virginia from second place in total offense listings down to 10th.

Detroit, on the strength of 547 yards amassed against Duquesne, jumped from 15th to 2nd in rushing offense. Wichita climbed from sixth to third by rolling up 405 yards in a 55-7 rout of Flagstaff state.

Five of the first six total offense leaders are undefeated—Michigan, Penn State, Georgia Tech, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

EDDIE STANKY SAYS BROOKLYN FANS ARE WORLD'S GREATEST

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 28 (AP) — Does the roar of the faithful at Ebbets Field have any effect on the winning habits of the Brooklyn Dodgers?

"It mostly certainly does," says Eddie Stanky, the Dodgers scrapping little second sacker, who credits that old college try with a big assist in the Dodgers' 1947 successes.

Stanky, quite a sparkplug himself, rates those Brooklyn fans as tops.

"They're the world's greatest," he said. "They're with you win, lose or draw, and you feel like a heel to let them down."

When the six piece band in left field, the symphony, gets going and the fans start whooping it up for the home side, Stanky said something unexplainable happens to you.

That "something" is best explained, he said, by the fact that the Dodgers played something like .700 ball in the friendly confines of Ebbets Field.

"And if we could have played one more game in Ebbets Field instead of Yankee Stadium it would have been a different story in the world series," he added, which the New York Yankees won in seven games.

North Carolina lists 33 out-of-staters on its 1947 football squad.

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — Throughout the long, drama-saturated afternoon Lou Little had paced up and down, up and down in front of the Columbia bench.

His boys, resembling dead-end kids with their faded, pale-blue jersies and lumpy padding, were battling the spruce West Pointers to a standstill and now held a one-point lead, although Little must have died just a little bit a dozen times before the one-point lead was achieved.

The sweaty, dirty, sometimes blood-caked lads would run to him for instructions before darting on the field. He would place a hand on a grimy shoulder and give a gentle shove, or speak an encouraging word as a weary, puffing kid came in to plop heavily on the bench.

Now it was over, and Baker Field fairly exploded with a wild confusion of noise and aimlessly racing figures. For a moment Little was lost in the wild scene, then as suddenly he appeared, leaping over the fence behind the bench and rusing to the stands. There he embraced his wife, kissed her, and as quickly turned to vault the fence again.

Straight across the middle of the field marched a tall, handsome man in brown tweeds. His face was impassive, inscrutable. Occasionally he'd be forced to pause to keep from being overrun by semi-hysterical fans. But he had set his course and he would resume the march, ignored in the bedlam.

Little saw him coming and ran to meet him, grasping him warmly by the hand. What the Columbia coach said to Red Blaik only they know. It was the first time in nearly four years that the Army tutor had been forced to make such a journey to congratulate a victor, but he made it with shoulders squared, hiding any disappointment. A one-point defeat ending a string of 32 games without a setback isn't easy to swallow.

He isn't the kind to offer an alibi if it were possible, which in this case it wasn't. His Cadets were beaten fairly, and had only their inept pass defense to blame.

It's sure they were up against a passing combination in Gene Rossides and Bill Swiacki which was practically out of this world on this particular afternoon, but a more alert defense most certainly would have killed at least some of those 20 completions.

Just as a guess we'd say Army was a little smug when it left the field at the half with a 20 to 7 lead. In the first half the Cadets functioned smartly, with almost the military precision of the marching corps.

They seemed to lose a little of this drive as the third period opened, to be content with their advantage. Then, when Rossides started pitching and Swiacki started making his miraculous catches in the final period, the West Pointers became alarmed, then downright panicky.

The game they had tucked away was slipping from them, and there was nothing they could do about it. When they spread out to stop the aerial thrusts, the Lions ran the ball. When they tightened up to stop the running, Rossides pitched and Swiacki caught.

Army's line appeared adequate, but the backfield was a far cry from the superb combination of recent years when every play, from anywhere, was a potential touchdown play.

The defeat might take a little of the polish off a Notre Dame victory, which everyone seems to expect, but at the same time it will make the Notre Dame victory a little more difficult to achieve. If the Cadets didn't profit through that affair in snug Baker Bowl last Saturday they wouldn't be smart enough to be at West Point.

Barton Battles Central Booters To Scoreless Tie

Bruce Cops WMI Final From Flintstone, 9-0

Barton High School battled Central of Lonaconing to a scoreless tie and Bruce High School of Westernport rolled over Flintstone to the tune of 9 to 0 yesterday in the final games of the 1947 season in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Soccer League.

In the contest played on a muddy field in Barton, both teams had opportunities to score from the field and penalty line but muffed them. Capt. Lamberson of Barton missed a try for penalty goal in the second period and A. Stafford of Central did likewise in the third quarter. Both shots were blocked by the goalies.

Warnick, Metz and Inskeep played best for Barton while Groves, P. Green and McKenzie were outstanding for Central.

Central won the series opener by the score of 2-1 on a fluke goal October 10. With the score knotted at 1-1, a Central shot caromed off the foot of a Barton halfback and bounded between the uprights for the winning score.

Bruce scored in every period in walloping Flintstone.

The Westernport eleven played minus the services of Davisson, Wilt, Broadwater, who are out because of scholastic difficulties.

Goals by Fitzgerald and Howard gave Bruce a 2-0 lead in the first quarter. Hanna and Parsons booted goals in the second period, Hanna and Harmon registered in the third stanza and Moran racked up three fielders in the final canto.

Navy Man Discharged For Irregularities In Handling Tickets

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 28 (AP)—A Naval Academy spokesman announced tonight Midshipman Frederick W. Lauer, Jr. (843 Sheridan Road) Wilmette, Ill., had been discharged from naval service chiefly for "irregularities in the handling of tickets for the Penn-Navy game of last week-end."

The spokesman said, "careful investigation by the Naval Academy authorities indicated that Mr. Lauer was the only midshipman who stood to profit by the transaction and who was involved in major irregularities."

Lauer, a first classman or senior, was confined at the academy after a man who identified himself as Harry Rubin of (5630 Wyndale Avenue) Philadelphia, was apprehended Oct. 15 at the main gate carrying 400 tickets to the Penn game, the spokesman said.

He added "Mr. Lauer obtained the tickets from individual midshipmen of the junior classes who turned over their applications to him in good faith.

"The midshipmen were entitled to purchase a maximum of four tickets for the Penn-Navy game if they so applied."

The spokesman said Rubin "of his own free will stated another Philadelphian 'asked me to come down to the U. S. Naval Academy to pick up a bundle from Midshipman Lauer.'"

Lauer entered the Naval Academy August 4, 1944, and had served previously in the naval reserve officers training corps at Notre Dame.

No rule specifically prohibits a midshipman from reselling tickets. Application forms state, however, "a member will be held accountable for tickets falling into the hands of speculators."

Football Officials Hold Final Session

Nine officials and coaches attended the regular meeting of the Western Maryland and Eastern West Virginia Football Officials Association last night at the Allegany County Board of Education Building. It was probably the last session of the current season.

Those attending were John Angellatta, R. L. Bigler, William P. Hahn, William M. "Huck" Miers, Ed Milbrada, John R. Shelton, C. William Spangler, Daniel R. Staley and John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh.

Meet The Coach

By JACK SORDS

Since 1932, when Bernie Bierman arrived on the University of Minnesota campus, the Gopher football teams have won four national championships, six Western Conference crowns and have gone undefeated five times.

The nation's foremost exponent of the single-wing style of offensive play, Bierman long has been considered one of the nation's top football coaches.

Bierman was a Minnesota star in his college days. He participated in track and football. He was captain of the 1915 grid team.

He started coaching at Butte, Mont., high school in 1916 and then quit to enter the service. He rose from private to captain in the Marines and returned to coaching in 1919 as head man at Montana U. He moved to Tulane in 1923 as assistant to Clark Shaughnessy and then coached at Mississippi A. & M. He returned to Tulane in 1927 as head coach, and stayed there until he resigned to take over at Minnesota.

Bierman went into the service in 1941 and stayed until 1944 when he was discharged as a lieutenant colonel in the Marines.

Keyser Expects Largest Crowd For Friday Game

Moorefield To Play Tornado 18th Time

KEYSER, Oct. 28 — Keyser High School is preparing to handle the largest crowd of the season on Friday when Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's sends his Golden Tornado into action against the Moorefield High School Yellow Jackets in an important Potomac Valley Conference football contest.

It will mark Moorefield's last showing in Keyser with their ace halfback, George Hott, and the visitors' lineup also will include John Sherman, who attended Keyser High School last year, at a tackle position. Sherman undoubtedly would have played the same position had he stayed at Keyser High School.

Moorefield's record in the P.V.C. is four wins and one defeat while Keyser has won two games and lost one.

The series between the Hardy and Mineral county schools was launched back in 1927 and in 17 games played to date Keyser has won 11 and Moorefield 6. The most one-sided game was played in 1942 when Moorefield won by the score of 60-0. Last fall Coach Johnny Paugh's team scored a 22 to 7 victory.

Coach Clark today stated that the Keyser team will be in good shape for the game with the exception of Johnny Spitzer. It is doubtful if he will start because of a recurrence of a shoulder injury in the Allegany game.

Keyser is expected to turn out for this game as the championship of the PVC may hinge on the outcome. Ridgeley, undefeated in three conference starts, may run into plenty of trouble on the same day when it meets the Romney Pioneers (2-2) on the latter's field.

BIG IF, LONG SHOT, WINS HANDICAP RACE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—Mrs. J. T. Maloney's Big If, a $24.20 for $2 shot, won the $20,000 Remsen Handicap at Jamaica today, defeating nine other juveniles in a photo finish.

W. L. Brann's Escadru was second and Ben Whitaker's My Request third, with all three horses only heads apart at the end of the mile and one-sixteenth race.

Big If completed the distance over a fast track in 1:47 flat to earn first money of $17,450 and returned $24.20, $10.40 and $5.50 across the board. Escadru paid $8.10 and $4.50 while My Request returned $3.50 for the show.

Ohioan Scores KO

Wildlife Group Meets Thursday In Westernport

Bottle Run Project Up For Discussion

A special meeting of the legislative committee of the Western Maryland Wildlife Federation will be held at Westernport tomorrow at 7 p. m., for the purpose of discussing the proposed postponement of the Bottle Run fishing rearing project for Allegany county and the proposal to open Evitt's Creek to fishing for species other than trout during the regular open season for such species.

A public hearing on these proposals will be conducted by the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission on Monday, November 3, at Salisbury, Md.

One of the proposals, offered by the League of Maryland Sportsmen, Inc., urges the postponement of the expenditure of $45,000 on trout and bass rearing ponds on Bottle Run, until the Beaver Creek Hatchery in Washington County is completed.

Bottle Run has been approved as an ideal site for a rearing station for both bass and trout and sportsmen of Western Maryland feel that it is needed for Allegany and Garrett counties.

The Evitt's Creek proposal while offered by the L.M.S. has been discussed before by Allegany county sportsmen.

The legislative committee of the Western Maryland Wildlife Federation comprises representatives of various clubs in Allegany count. They are:

Fred Crowe and Jonathan Sleeman of the Allegany and Garrett Sportsmen's Association; George Walters of the Eckhart Square Circle Club, who is also president of the federation; Ellsworth Boal and Clyde Michael of the Upper Potomac Rod and Gun Club. Michael is secretary of the federation.

Friday's meeting will be held at the Boal Funeral Home, Church Street, Westernport.

Forty May Start In Cambridgeshire Handicap Today

Mighty Maharatta Is Choice At Newmarket

By BILL MACKLIN

LONDON, Oct. 28—(AP)—Bookmakers will lose a pile of pounds—on top of the weight they've already lost worrying—if one of the favorites wins the nine-furlong Cambridgeshire Handicap tomorrow at Newmarket, the capital of Britain's racing empire.

Forty probable starters promise a cavalry charge start at 8:45 a. m. (EST) in the weight-for-age race, which pays a relatively small prize—$13,808—but is one of the season's most important turf event because of its place in the betting market.

The third and final Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes this year is based on the finish.

It is the second leg of the big national autumn double and many of the favored runners are coupled with the winner of the October 15 Cesarewitch — Whiteway — on bets that could pay tremendous odds.

A London star columnist reported that one professional backer has double bets on Whiteway and Mighty Maharatta which, if successful, will return him $1,200,000.

Mighty Maharatta, a three-year-old for whom the Maharaja of Baroda paid a world record price as a yearling, is the steady favorite. The winner of his last four races, Mighty will carry only 118 pounds.

But the Cambridgeshire, with its huge field, a dozen apprentice jocks, potential bumps and squeezes, is not a "favorite's race." Palais Royal II was the last favorite winner—and that was back in 1928.

Among the longshot aspirants is an American runner—the chestnut filly, Singing Grass, from the British stable of Robert Sterling Clark of New York. A three-year-old, carrying only 97 pounds, she has won twice and been third in her last three outings.

Arcaro To Pilot Loyal Legion In Pimlico Special

Winner-Take-All Race Is Scheduled Friday

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28 (AP)—There was some maneuvering around today in an attempt to block Warren Wright's cagey Calumet outfit from winning a fourth Pimlico Special come Friday, thereby bringing up these questions: Can Eddie Arcaro do it? Will Stymie try it?

Eddie will have a shot at it aboard Walter M. Jeffords' three-year-old Loyal Legion, one of the bright stars in the meeting which closes at nearby Laurel tomorrow.

Trainer Oscar White announced today that Eddie had agreed to come down from New York for the mile and three-sixteenths, $25,000-winner-take-all classic.

Al Snider has been riding the Legion, racking up wins in the $15,000 Maryland and $25,000 Washington Handicaps at Laurel. But he's already committed to wear the Calumet silks on Friday atop Fervent, another three-year-old and second half of Wright's entry in the special.

Armed, of course, is the horse to beat. Doug Dodson will ride Calumet's 6-year-old star as the other half of the entry. If he's first to the wire, it will be Armed's second victory in the special. If either Armed or Fervent come on top, it will be Calumet's fourth. Whirlaway did it in a walkover in 1942, Twilight Tear in 1944 and Armed in 1945.

Then there's the Stymie question. Will Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs pass up the Scarsdale Saturday at Empire-Jamaica for a fling at the Special?

Officials at the Maryland Jockey Club had hoped to have the answer from Trainer Hirsch Jacobs today after he took a look at the weights for the Scarsdale.

Stymie, also a 6-year-old, was assigned 130 pounds for the Long Island go. The old hill toppers figured Jacobs might prefer the weight-for-age special's distance to the Scarsdale's mile and a sixteenth. Six-year-olds carry 126 pounds in the Special, the three-year-olds 120.

If Armed and Stymie do renew their rivalry, there won't be a chance for the Calumet racer to overtake the $816,060 all-time money winning record set by Stymie when he romped off with the Gallant Fox Handicap at Jamaica last Saturday.

Armed's winnings now stand at $761,500 and the Jones Boys—Ben and Jim—have indicated they will probably retire him for the year after the Special, win or lose.

Wildcats To Drill

Fearer Will Head "Y" Sunday School Basketball League

13 Teams Represented, Loop Will Open Dec. 6

Harold Fearer of St. Paul's Lutheran Church was elected president of the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League at a meeting held last night at the "Y."

Jack Kreiling of Zion Reformed Church was elected vice president and Clifton Van Roby, physical director of the Central YMCA was re-elected treasurer.

Thirteen teams were represented at last night's session, the largest opening turnout in the history of the circuit which will open its 19th season on Saturday, December 6. The group included spokesmen for 13 of the 16 teams that were in the league last season and First Baptist Church which was not represented during the 1946-47 race.

All team forfeit fees and player application forms, signed by parents, to make teams and players eligible for the opening date, must be in the hands of the league's secretary-treasurer by November 24.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the YMCA on November 25 at 8 p. m.

RYDER CUP MATCHES TO START SATURDAY

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 28 (INS)—British and American golf aces alike blasted par today in practice rounds for the Ryder Cup matches Saturday and Sunday, but the best American scores were lower than the sharpest British marks recorded.

How much of the difference was due to the bigger American ball and links unfamiliar to the visiting pros will become apparent in the next few days.

Each of the 10 American wizards has played in at least one tournament over the rolling, tree-studded Portland golf links. The Britons had not seen it until yesterday afternoon.

If earnestness is a factor, the invaders are sure to make a good showing in the match as they strive for the first British victory on American soil since the series began in 1927. They are almost pathetically determined to take the cup home.

American pros have won four times and the British twice. This week's match is the first since 1937.

Ellerslie Gridders Seek Third Victory

The Ellerslie Eagles football team will play the South End Boys on Sunday, November 2, at 2 p. m. in Ellerslie.

Ellerslie will be seeking its third straight win of the season.

Waynesburg Buys Land, Plans To Build Stadium

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 28—(AP)—Waynesburg College today announced the purchase of 28 acres of land on Purman Run, just east of the campus, for eventual use as a football stadium.

President Paul R. Stewart said the land was bought from the I. H. Knox estate but did not disclose the price. He said the site provides a natural amphitheater so that after a conduit is built to carry the waters of Purman Run, it will be necessary only to level off the site and build seats on the hillsides to provide the school with a stadium.

Reds Buy Tulsa

CINCINNATI, Oct. 28 (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds baseball club announced today it had purchased the controlling interest in the Tulsa Club of the Texas League. The local National League outfit brought 75 per cent of the stock, it was stated.

Cincinnati took an option on the Tulsa club Oct. 14 and it would have expired tonight.

Powel Crosley, Jr., chairman of the board of directors of the local organization, made the announcement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (INS) — Stymie can be, and probably will be, the first million-dollar baby of the turf.

The six-year-old chestnut son of Equestrian-Stop Watch has now won $816,060 and is within easy striking distance of the million.

Two weeks ago owner Rirsch Jacobs was seriously considering retiring his old campaigner to the stud where he would command at least a $1500 fee.

But now he may decide to let Stymie run. If Stymie shows the least sign of cooperating, he will get the chance to reach that fabulous million-dollar mark.

A little while back Stymie showed very plainly that he was track weary. He had raced too often and his feet hurt. Therefore, it was no surprise to see him sulk.

He even refused to go out on the track and tried his best to kick some of the stable hands into the middle of next week.

So Jacobs took off Stymie's shoes and let him run a few days in the sand before working him. Even then, the old campaigner was unwilling to run and he balked on the way to the post in the $75,000 handicap he won last Saturday.

He tried to kick an assistant starter but once the gate was sprung, he ran easily in his usual spot behind the pack, took command in the stretch and won in hand.

Stymie has run 114 races, winning 31, placing 29 times and running third 24 times.

The old boy certainly has earned his oats plus a few hamburgers for Hirsch Jacobs. He deserves a rest. But if he continues to train kindly, Jacobs may send him after some more big juicy stakes.

Stymie is eligible for the $50,000 Westchester Handicap over the mile and three-sixteenth route at Jamaica Nov. 8.

He also is eligible for The Scarsdale with $25,000 added over the mile and a sixteenth journey at the same track this Saturday. And he could take a crack at the 2 1-16 mile Daingerfield Handicap at Jamaica Nov. 11.

If he could win one or more of those races he could retire for the winter and come back next spring fresh and ready to shoot for the balance of the million.

Everybody knows how Jacobs claimed Stymie from Max Hirsch, trainer for the King Ranch, for $1500. For that reason, some have said that Jacobs is a better judge of horseflesh than Max.

That is pure unadulterated rot. The fact is, Jacobs himself didn't know how good Stymie was at the time and he also entered him in claiming races thereafter.

Indeed, Max Hirsch realized after awhile he had let a good horse get away and was prepared to enter a claim for him one day when a friend stopped him while he was on the way to the racing secretary's office to enter a claim.

The friend kept Max talking too long and he was too late with his claim. And that's why Jacobs still owns Stymie and why King Ranch does not own both Stymie and Assault.

If Jacobs should decide to retire Stymie to the stud, Armed may be the first to reach the million dollar mark. Armed is a gelding and of no use for anything but racing. There is no doubt Warren Wright will keep him going next year.

And we hear that Assault's game leg has responded to firing and he may be back again for another whirl.

It will be interesting to see which will become the turf's first million-dollar horse. Will it be Stymie ($816,060), Armed ($761,500) or Assault ($623,370)?

Leo Durocher Confers With Dodgers' Secretary

BROOKLYN, Oct. 28—(AP)—Leo Durocher visited the Brooklyn Dodgers office today for a "business conference" with Harold Parrott, secretary of the baseball club.

Parrott declared that his talk with the Dodgers' former manager had nothing to do with the question of whether Durocher will pilot the team next season.

"If Leo sees Mr. Rickey (Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers) it will be only to say hello. They have nothing to discuss at this time," Parrott said.

Terps Work Indoors For Mountaineer Game

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 28—(AP)—A sneaker-clad University of Maryland football team moved into the armory to practice plays for use against West Virginia University Saturday, after being rained off the field today.

The largest homecoming crowd ever to see a football contest here is expected for the tilt, and television sets will be installed to accommodate an anticipated overflow audience in the Ritchie Coliseum, adjacent to the stadium.

The meeting will be the fifth between the Terrapins and the Mountaineers. West Virginia has had two victories in the series, and there were ties in 1944 and 1945.

Former Syracuse grid stars, Eddie Jontos and Les Dye, are now head football coaches. Jontos is directing the R. P. I. aggregation, while Dye is mentor at Clarkson Tech.

NFL Is Not Interested In Playoff, Bell Says

But Ingram Insists Public Wants Game

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28 (AP) — Bert Bell is "not interested."

The National Football League is "not interested."

But Admiral Jonas Ingram, commissioner of the All-America Conference, says the public is — and wants a playoff between the two major pro grid circuits.

"I'm going to needle the hell out of the National League until we get the recognition due us and they agree to meet us in a playoff," Ingram was quoted in Los Angeles.

NFL Commissioner Bell bellowed "not interested."

A reporter remarked that Ingram lauded Bell as a "pioneer" in the pro grid field.

"Not interested," was Bell's echoing comment in the telephone receiver.

A year ago the AAC first proposed a playoff between the champions of the two loops, and a month ago suggested all proceeds go to charity.

"Not interested, not interested," Bell cried both times.

"Commissioner Bell," the reporter asked, "Admiral Ingram says the AAC has four teams 'better than anything the National League has.' What about it?

This time dead silence.

"But Mr. Bell," the reported went on, "can't you say why your league won't meet the All-America Conference in a playoff game? Surely . . ."

"Not interested," Bell said dryly, then cut off the telephone connection.

Majors Ban Exhibition Games Prior To March 1

CINCINNATI, Oct. 28—(AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler today ruled that no exhibition games may be played by major league clubs before March 1.

The action follows an agreement reached last year with the players committee that players need not report before March 1 to begin their spring training.

Walter Mulbry, secretary of baseball, who made the announcement, said he thought players will be permitted to report for training earlier than March 1 if they desired but added that point had not been finally determined.

The only time that Syracuse played Manhattan on the gridiron, the Orange won, 144-0, for the largest total in Syracuse history.

Leafs Reject $55,000 For Three Players

CHICAGO, Oct. 28—(INS)—Dejected Bill Tobin, president of the Chicago Blackhawks, revealed today that offers by him totaling $55,000 for three Toronto Maple Leafs farm players had been turned down by the Leafs.

Tobin said he offered $25,000 for defenseman Bob Goldman, and $15,000 apiece for center Gus Bodnar and defenseman Elwyn Morris.

These three players, all of whom have had major league experience, are now with the Pittsburgh Hornets, Toronto farm team in the American Hockey League.

Waynesburg Buys Land, Plans To Build Stadium

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 28—(AP)—Waynesburg College today announced the purchase of 28 acres of land on Purman Run, just east of the campus, for eventual use as a football stadium.

President Paul R. Stewart said the land was bought from the I. H. Knox estate but did not disclose the price. He said the site provides a natural amphitheater so that after a conduit is built to carry the waters of Purman Run, it will be necessary only to level off the site and build seats on the hillsides to provide the school with a stadium.

Reds Buy Tulsa

CINCINNATI, Oct. 28 (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds baseball club announced today it had purchased the controlling interest in the Tulsa Club of the Texas League. The local National League outfit brought 75 per cent of the stock, it was stated.

Cincinnati took an option on the Tulsa club Oct. 14 and it would have expired tonight.

Powel Crosley, Jr., chairman of the board of directors of the local organization, made the announcement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (INS) — Stymie can be, and probably will be, the first million-dollar baby of the turf.

The six-year-old chestnut son of Equestrian-Stop Watch has now won $816,060 and is within easy striking distance of the million.

Two weeks ago owner Rirsch Jacobs was seriously considering retiring his old campaigner to the stud where he would command at least a $1500 fee.

But now he may decide to let Stymie run. If Stymie shows the least sign of cooperating, he will get the chance to reach that fabulous million-dollar mark.

A little while back Stymie showed very plainly that he was track weary. He had raced too often and his feet hurt. Therefore, it was no surprise to see him sulk.

He even refused to go out on the track and tried his best to kick some of the stable hands into the middle of next week.

So Jacobs took off Stymie's shoes and let him run a few days in the sand before working him. Even then, the old campaigner was unwilling to run and he balked on the way to the post in the $75,000 handicap he won last Saturday.

He tried to kick an assistant starter but once the gate was sprung, he ran easily in his usual spot behind the pack, took command in the stretch and won in hand.

Stymie has run 114 races, winning 31, placing 29 times and running third 24 times.

The old boy certainly has earned his oats plus a few hamburgers for Hirsch Jacobs. He deserves a rest. But if he continues to train kindly, Jacobs may send him after some more big juicy stakes.

Stymie is eligible for the $50,000 Westchester Handicap over the mile and three-sixteenth route at Jamaica Nov. 8.

He also is eligible for The Scarsdale with $25,000 added over the mile and a sixteenth journey at the same track this Saturday. And he could take a crack at the 2 1-16 mile Daingerfield Handicap at Jamaica Nov. 11.

If he could win one or more of those races he could retire for the winter and come back next spring fresh and ready to shoot for the balance of the million.

Everybody knows how Jacobs claimed Stymie from Max Hirsch, trainer for the King Ranch, for $1500. For that reason, some have said that Jacobs is a better judge of horseflesh than Max.

That is pure unadulterated rot. The fact is, Jacobs himself didn't know how good Stymie was at the time and he also entered him in claiming races thereafter.

Indeed, Max Hirsch realized after awhile he had let a good horse get away and was prepared to enter a claim for him one day when a friend stopped him while he was on the way to the racing secretary's office to enter a claim.

The friend kept Max talking too long and he was too late with his claim. And that's why Jacobs still owns Stymie and why King Ranch does not own both Stymie and Assault.

If Jacobs should decide to retire Stymie to the stud, Armed may be the first to reach the million dollar mark. Armed is a gelding and of no use for anything but racing. There is no doubt Warren Wright will keep him going next year.

And we hear that Assault's game leg has responded to firing and he may be back again for another whirl.

It will be interesting to see which will become the turf's first million-dollar horse. Will it be Stymie ($816,060), Armed ($761,500) or Assault ($623,370)?

Leo Durocher Confers With Dodgers' Secretary

BROOKLYN, Oct. 28—(AP)—Leo Durocher visited the Brooklyn Dodgers office today for a "business conference" with Harold Parrott, secretary of the baseball club.

Parrott declared that his talk with the Dodgers' former manager had nothing to do with the question of whether Durocher will pilot the team next season.

"If Leo sees Mr. Rickey (Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers) it will be only to say hello. They have nothing to discuss at this time," Parrott said.

Vegetable—storage under proper conditions of temperature, moisture, and air circulation — is quicker, cheaper, and easier than canning, drying, or freezing and is the only satisfactory method of preserving certain vegetables.

TRAUTMAN DECLARES MORGAN FREE AGENT

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 28 (AP) — Vernon Morgan, University of Richmond freshman who early this month was declared ineligible for Southern Conference athletic competition because he signed a professional baseball contract in 1944, was declared a free agent today and university officials indicated that they would request a review of the eligibility question by the conference executive committee.

Action voiding Morgan's contract with the New York Giants, signed when he was 15 years old, came today at Columbus, Ohio, from minor league president George Trautman.

Southern Conference President William C. Couper, who heads the executive committee, said after Trautman's announcement that the committee would reconsider its decision if such action were requested by university officials.

Vegetable—storage under proper conditions of temperature, moisture, and air circulation — is quicker, cheaper, and easier than canning, drying, or freezing and is the only satisfactory method of preserving certain vegetables.

TRAUTMAN DECLARES MORGAN FREE AGENT

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 28 (AP) — Vernon Morgan, University of Richmond freshman who early this month was declared ineligible for Southern Conference athletic competition because he signed a professional baseball contract in 1944, was declared a free agent today and university officials indicated that they would request a review of the eligibility question by the conference executive committee.

Action voiding Morgan's contract with the New York Giants, signed when he was 15 years old, came today at Columbus, Ohio, from minor league president George Trautman.

Southern Conference President William C. Couper, who heads the executive committee, said after Trautman's announcement that the committee would reconsider its decision if such action were requested by university officials.

Frostburg Vets Will Honor Dead Of World War II

Service Planned For This Sunday

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG—Committees from Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, and John R. Fairgrieve Post No. 2462, Veterans of Foreign Wars, met Monday night and made tentative arrangements for a service for the dead of World War II whose bodies will not return.

The site selected for the service, to be held Sunday, November 2, at 2 p. m. is at a small monument in Allegany Cemetery erected in memory of two brothers, S. Sgt. Ralph W. Thomas of the 21st. Bomber Group, U. S. Air Force, who was killed in action January 18, 1943, in the Aleutians and whose body was never recovered, and Lt. Jack F. Thomas of the 319th Bomber Group, who was shot down near the coast of Sicily July 11, 1943, and whose remains presumably rest in the vicinity of Gerbini, Sicily.

The service, open to the public, will consist of appropriate remarks by a speaker to be chosen by the committee, sacred music by the Arion Band and the reading of the names of the dead who were lost during the war and whose bodies were never recovered, a prayer by an Army chaplain and a salute and taps by the Honor Guards of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Sacred Cantata Planned

The senior and junior choirs of First Congregational Church, corner of Bowery and East Loo Streets, will present a sacred cantata, "The Lord's Prayer," today at 8 p. m. in the church auditorium, under direction of Mrs. Samuel McCulloh, director. The piano accompaniments will be played by Mrs. Guy Mallow, and Mrs. J. F. Zimmerman, wife of the pastor, will be the reader.

The principal roles will be sung by Mrs. Emmit Callin and the Misses Doris Lancaster, Cleo Davis, Margaret Whetstone and Phyllis Snyder. Others taking part will be Mrs. Roy Lancaster, Mary Ann McCulloh, Shirley Greening, Lena Steele, LaVern Rank, Gladys McCulloh and Doris Greening. A silver offering will be received.

Following the rendition of the cantata, refreshments will be served in the vestry of the church.

Albert Boyer Dies

Albert Boyer, about 73, died yesterday in Miners Hospital. He had been ill at his home, 27 Linden Street, since March and when his condition became critical Monday he was taken to the hospital where he died a few hours after being admitted. A son of the late Jefferson and Elizabeth Spiker Boyer, he was born at Stoney Creek, Pa., but had spent most of his life here where he was engaged in the butcher business.

He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Mildred Biddington, and three children, Earl Boyer, at home, Floyd, Finzel, and Mrs. Clarence Bone, Cumberland, and three brothers, William, Charles and Edward Boyer, all of Meyersdale, Pa. He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

A funeral service will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the home by Rev. J. H. Liesmann, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Burial will be in Allegany Cemetery, Frostburg.

Frostburg Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keiling, Wright's Crossing, announce the birth of a daughter, Emma Lucretia, Saturday in Miners Hospital. The baby was named after her maternal grandmother, Mrs. William Winner, Midland.

On account of the redecorating work being done at First Methodist Church, the regular meeting of the Van Dyke Bible Class, scheduled for this week, has been postponed.

The weekly rehearsal of the junior choir of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will be held this evening at 7 o'clock. The senior choir rehearsal will be held at 8 o'clock.

Meeting Monday evening, the Men's Brotherhood of St. Paul's Lutheran Church decided to hold a minstrel show in the near future. The show will be given under direction of Harry Crowe, Mt. Savage, who was the interlocutor in the minstrel presented by the Brotherhood in May. James Close, president of the group, will appoint a committee to select the cast and set a date for the show which will probably be presented two evenings in the lecture room of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Lewis, Eckhart, entertained Sunday in honor of the twelfth birthday of their daughter, Norma Mae, with a Halloween party. The Halloween motif was followed with orange and black decorations. Dancing, singing and party games served as diversions.

Frostburg Personals

John J. Mathias, student at Georgetown University, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Mathias, 36 Frost Avenue. Miss Jean Brady, Maplewood, N. J., was a recent visitor at the Mathias home.

Lawrence Feldmann, who resided at the home of Mrs. Leo Sullivan, 5 Standish Street, suffered a paralytic stroke Monday morning at home. He is a patient in Miners Hospital.

Mrs. Charles Hager, Pine Street, a patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, where she underwent an operation, is reported improving.

Mrs. Leona H. Fairey, Orangeville, S. C., was a guest over the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Davis, East Main Street. Mrs. Fairey was the first county demonstration agent in Allegany county.

Mrs. Russell Lancaster, Wood Street, is home from Allegany Hospital, where she underwent a major operation. Her son, Pvt. Emory Dane Lancaster, returned to Fort Jackson, S. C., after a 15-day furlough.

Mrs. Elmer Dumire, Big Savage Mountain, is home from Miners Hospital.

Joseph Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Firmin J. Porter, Lonaconing, is a patient in Miners Hospital where he underwent an appendix operation.

Miss Helen Gunter returned to Pittsburgh after visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Gunter, who is recovering from illness at her home, West Main Street.

Mrs. John Logue and infant daughter, 146 Bowery Street; Mrs. Eugene Llewellyn and infant daughter, of Zihlman, and Mrs. James Tennant and infant daughter, Midlothian, are home from Miners Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. West returned to Alexandria, Va., after spending the weekend with Miss Olive Wilderman and brothers, William and Elmer Wilderman, Centennial Street.

Robert Cooper and Philip Burton, former residents, returned to Wilmington, Del., following a visit with friends.

Mrs. Edward Winner and Mrs. Simone Robbins, Washington, and Miss Peggy Winner, Brownsville, Pa., were guests of Mrs. Margaret Winner and Miss Bernice Winner, Maple Street.

Cloves are dried, unopened flower buds.

Hampshire County School Official Is Appointed To State Position

By THOMAS WILLIAMS

ROMNEY, W. Va.—Miss Maud J. Broyles, supervisor in the Hampshire County schools, has been appointed assistant state supervisor of elementary schools and will leave the county November 1 to begin her duties with the State Department of Education.

Miss Broyles served last year on a special committee to make recommendations to the State Board of Education concerning new textbooks to be adopted, and her appointment comes as no surprise to school officers, due to the high regard the state officials have had for the supervisory program in the county.

County Superintendent of Schools A. Clinton Loy stated that no one had been named to succeed Miss Broyles.

Halloween Birthday Party

Mrs. Ellwood Dornon entertained Saturday afternoon with a Halloween birthday party honoring her son, Joffrey, the occasion being his sixth birthday. Halloween decorations were used throughout the first floor of the Dornon home. Games were played and refreshments were served to the guests and their mothers. Guests included Sondra Rinker, Margaret Harris, Arna Arnold, Peggy Bailey, Dottie Beaman, Libby Dinkle, Beth Ellen and Jules Schwalb, Bobby Cummings, Billy Rogers, George and Jimmy Russell, John Blue, Lewis Spangler, Donny Saville, Gary Wilson and Gene Saville.

Personal Items

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Crosby returned to their home in Washington, after being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Brady Thompson for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cash Hessen have returned from Washington, D. C., where they were called by the illness of Mrs. Hessen's mother.

Mrs. G. E. Nogle and son are visiting Mrs. Nogle's mother, Mrs. G. H. Murray in Cleveland, Ohio.

Benedict Robinson Weds Doris Smith In Mount Savage

By MRS. ROSE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE—Miss Doris Louise Smith, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Cumberland, and Benedict Robinson, son of Mrs. Ruth Robinson, Mt. Savage, and the late Victor Robinson, were married yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Rev. Michael Smyth, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass. Miss Evelyn Brailer was maid of honor and Miss Jean Farrell and Miss Mary DeLozier were senior bridesmaids. Miss Maxine DeLozier was junior bridesmaid. John Francis Wynn served as best man with James Brailer and Robert Conway as ushers.

The bride was attired in a light blue chiffon floor length dress with fitted bodice, full puffed sleeves and wore a shoulder length veil of blue illusion. She carried a shower bouquet of white mums. The maid of honor wore a deep blue gown with matching accessories and carried golden mums. The senior bridesmaids also wore all blue gowns and carried yellow mums. The junior bridesmaid wore a yellow gown cut along identical lines as the other attendants dresses and carried yellow mums.

The altar was decorated in white and golden mums and candelabras of tall lighted white tapers. Sister Dionysia, music instructor at St. Patrick's School, played Mendelsohnn's Wedding March and directed the school choir which sang, "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother"; "Sacred Heart of Jesus, Fount of Love and Mercy"; "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "Hail Holy Queen". The recessional was Lohengrin's Wedding March.

The bride attended Allegany High School and served as a nurses' aid at Allegany Hospital. The bridegroom attended elementary school in Meyersdale and was graduated from Beall's High School, Frostburg. He spent three years serving in the South Pacific during World War II. He is employed by the Mt. Savage Refractories.

A reception in honor of the bridal party was held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brailer.

Route 2 Man Hurt When Car Crashes

Richard Teeter, 22, Route 2, was treated in Memorial Hospital early last night for minor injuries suffered, he told attaches, when the car he was driving ran off the highway on Route 40, at the foot of Martin's Mountain, and ran against a culvert.

Teeter, who was alone in the car when the accident occurred, was able to return home after he was treated for a laceration over the left eyebrow and several abrasions.

John Hager, 15, son of John Hager, 7 Leo Street, Ridgeley, was treated in Allegany Hospital yesterday morning for a right shoulder injury suffered while playing football.

Linda Gipe, 2½, 160 North Centre Street, was treated in Allegany after she burned her left hand on a hot iron.

James T. Gaffney, 26, 730 Columbia Avenue, Washington Redskin star, had a cast applied to a right knee injury in Allegany Hospital yesterday. Gaffney, who was sent to Wilmington, Del., several weeks ago by the Redskins, was injured in a game with Bethlehem, Pa., recently.

Driver Arrested After Accident

Charged with violating two state motor vehicle laws following an accident involving his automobile and a truck yesterday afternoon one mile east of Oldtown on Oldtown road, James Arthur Day, 41, Green Spring, W. Va., will be given a hearing this morning in Trial Magistrates Court.

State Trooper William F. Baker, who investigated, said Day, headed west on Oldtown Road, was in the act of passing another automobile headed in the same direction and hit the oncoming truck driven by Leni H. Cartwright, 62, Oldtown.

Day suffered a laceration of the left hand. His car was demolished. The truck was damaged to the extent of $75 to $100, Trooper Baker said.

Appointments Made For MCR Recruiting

Lt. Edward H. Walker, inspector-instructor of Company D, Fifth Infantry Battalion, Marine Corps Reserve, has announced that officers and enlisted men of the unit have been assigned to recruiting duty for the drive for personnel being conducted by the Marine Reserve.

Officers of the local unit who have been named for volunteer recruiting include Lt. Cornelius J. Bageant, Jr., Lt. John R. Manley, Lt. Howard G. Blank, and Lt. Ralph C. Bowen, Jr.

Temporary appointments to sergeant recruiting include Sgt. Helen V. Kerr, Sgt. Floyd G. Harper, Sgt. George L. McKenzie, and Sgt. Paul A. Steadman.

All appointments will be effective until January 30, 1948, when the current reserve recruiting drive will end. The Marine Corps Reserve hopes to reach authorized strength of 100,000 at the end of this campaign.

Permits To Burn Leaves May Be Secured Soon

Permission to burn leaves and rubbish on one's own property may be secured from the Fire Department soon, Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka said yesterday.

All permits were withheld during the dry weather, he said, because of the danger of fire spreading and endangering property. As soon as dampness from yesterday's rain is gone, he said, permits may be secured.

No permits will be granted, however, for burning leaves on the streets, he said, because of the danger of damage to blacktop surfacing.

Public Schools Will Close October 30, 31

Allegany County High and Elementary Schools will close Thursday and Friday of this week to permit teachers to attend the annual meeting of the Maryland State Teachers' Association in Baltimore October 30, 31 and November 1.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, said he expects 70 per cent of the county teachers to attend the annual convention which will be devoted to problems involving education.

Norma Lee Cosner Becomes Bride Of Vernon L. Hanlin

By MYRTLE PARK

PETERSBURG, W. Va. — Miss Norma Lee Moyne Cosner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cosner, Bismarck, and Vernon L. Hanlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hanlin, Mt. Storm, were married October 15 in the home of the bride.

The couple exchanged vows by candlelight before an altar of autumn leaves and ferns. Rev. D. B. Spaid of Eglon, W. Va. officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Richard Hanlin, Mt. Storm, played "Because" and "Oh Perfect Love" and the traditional wedding march as the bridal party entered.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a medium blue suit with black accessories and pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Harley Cosner, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a grey dress with black accessories and red rosebuds. Harman Hanlin, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Harley Cosner usher.

Mrs. Hanlin was graduated from Bayard High School. Mr. Hanlin served 26 months in the armed forces, 20 of which were spent in the European Theater.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 40 guests. The table was decorated with white and pink tapers and a three tier wedding cake with a miniature bride and bridegroom formed the centerpiece.

After a trip to eastern cities they will reside at Mt. Storm in their newly erected home.

By THOMAS WILLIAMS

ROMNEY, W. Va.—Miss Maud J. Broyles, supervisor in the Hampshire County schools, has been appointed assistant state supervisor of elementary schools and will leave the county November 1 to begin her duties with the State Department of Education.

Miss Broyles served last year on a special committee to make recommendations to the State Board of Education concerning new textbooks to be adopted, and her appointment comes as no surprise to school officers, due to the high regard the state officials have had for the supervisory program in the county.

County Superintendent of Schools A. Clinton Loy stated that no one had been named to succeed Miss Broyles.

Benedict Robinson Weds Doris Smith In Mount Savage

By MRS. ROSE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE—Miss Doris Louise Smith, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Cumberland, and Benedict Robinson, son of Mrs. Ruth Robinson, Mt. Savage, and the late Victor Robinson, were married yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Rev. Michael Smyth, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass. Miss Evelyn Brailer was maid of honor and Miss Jean Farrell and Miss Mary DeLozier were senior bridesmaids. Miss Maxine DeLozier was junior bridesmaid. John Francis Wynn served as best man with James Brailer and Robert Conway as ushers.

The bride was attired in a light blue chiffon floor length dress with fitted bodice, full puffed sleeves and wore a shoulder length veil of blue illusion. She carried a shower bouquet of white mums. The maid of honor wore a deep blue gown with matching accessories and carried golden mums. The senior bridesmaids also wore all blue gowns and carried yellow mums. The junior bridesmaid wore a yellow gown cut along identical lines as the other attendants dresses and carried yellow mums.

The altar was decorated in white and golden mums and candelabras of tall lighted white tapers. Sister Dionysia, music instructor at St. Patrick's School, played Mendelsohnn's Wedding March and directed the school choir which sang, "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother"; "Sacred Heart of Jesus, Fount of Love and Mercy"; "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "Hail Holy Queen". The recessional was Lohengrin's Wedding March.

The bride attended Allegany High School and served as a nurses' aid at Allegany Hospital. The bridegroom attended elementary school in Meyersdale and was graduated from Beall's High School, Frostburg. He spent three years serving in the South Pacific during World War II. He is employed by the Mt. Savage Refractories.

A reception in honor of the bridal party was held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brailer.

Driver Arrested After Accident

Charged with violating two state motor vehicle laws following an accident involving his automobile and a truck yesterday afternoon one mile east of Oldtown on Oldtown road, James Arthur Day, 41, Green Spring, W. Va., will be given a hearing this morning in Trial Magistrates Court.

State Trooper William F. Baker, who investigated, said Day, headed west on Oldtown Road, was in the act of passing another automobile headed in the same direction and hit the oncoming truck driven by Leni H. Cartwright, 62, Oldtown.

Day suffered a laceration of the left hand. His car was demolished. The truck was damaged to the extent of $75 to $100, Trooper Baker said.

Appointments Made For MCR Recruiting

Lt. Edward H. Walker, inspector-instructor of Company D, Fifth Infantry Battalion, Marine Corps Reserve, has announced that officers and enlisted men of the unit have been assigned to recruiting duty for the drive for personnel being conducted by the Marine Reserve.

Officers of the local unit who have been named for volunteer recruiting include Lt. Cornelius J. Bageant, Jr., Lt. John R. Manley, Lt. Howard G. Blank, and Lt. Ralph C. Bowen, Jr.

Temporary appointments to sergeant recruiting include Sgt. Helen V. Kerr, Sgt. Floyd G. Harper, Sgt. George L. McKenzie, and Sgt. Paul A. Steadman.

All appointments will be effective until January 30, 1948, when the current reserve recruiting drive will end. The Marine Corps Reserve hopes to reach authorized strength of 100,000 at the end of this campaign.

Permits To Burn Leaves May Be Secured Soon

Permission to burn leaves and rubbish on one's own property may be secured from the Fire Department soon, Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka said yesterday.

All permits were withheld during the dry weather, he said, because of the danger of fire spreading and endangering property. As soon as dampness from yesterday's rain is gone, he said, permits may be secured.

No permits will be granted, however, for burning leaves on the streets, he said, because of the danger of damage to blacktop surfacing.

Public Schools Will Close October 30, 31

Allegany County High and Elementary Schools will close Thursday and Friday of this week to permit teachers to attend the annual meeting of the Maryland State Teachers' Association in Baltimore October 30, 31 and November 1.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, said he expects 70 per cent of the county teachers to attend the annual convention which will be devoted to problems involving education.

In 1817 Mississippi became the 20th state admitted into the union.

Norma Lee Cosner Becomes Bride Of Vernon L. Hanlin

By MYRTLE PARK

PETERSBURG, W. Va. — Miss Norma Lee Moyne Cosner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cosner, Bismarck, and Vernon L. Hanlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hanlin, Mt. Storm, were married October 15 in the home of the bride.

The couple exchanged vows by candlelight before an altar of autumn leaves and ferns. Rev. D. B. Spaid of Eglon, W. Va. officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Richard Hanlin, Mt. Storm, played "Because" and "Oh Perfect Love" and the traditional wedding march as the bridal party entered.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a medium blue suit with black accessories and pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Harley Cosner, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a grey dress with black accessories and red rosebuds. Harman Hanlin, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Harley Cosner usher.

Mrs. Hanlin was graduated from Bayard High School. Mr. Hanlin served 26 months in the armed forces, 20 of which were spent in the European Theater.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 40 guests. The table was decorated with white and pink tapers and a three tier wedding cake with a miniature bride and bridegroom formed the centerpiece.

After a trip to eastern cities they will reside at Mt. Storm in their newly erected home.

Circuit Court Works All Day On Criminal Appeals

Sentences Affirmed In Majority Cases

In a day-long session, which was not completed until after the Court House closed yesterday, eight Criminal Appeals cases, including one jury trial were disposed of in Circuit Court, with Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson presiding.

James Hose, a roofer who works here, in Hagerstown, and Martinsburg, W. Va., was heard on a charge of being drunk and malicious destruction of property.

Assistant States Attorney Paul M. Fletcher told the Court Hose went to his former wife's home on Euclid Place, to visit his divorced wife, had gotten drunk and set fire to a mattress.

Hose told the Court he has been in jail 34 days since, does not remember much about the incident and said he had been drinking for several days.

He was sentenced to serve a year in the Maryland House of Correction and sentence was suspended on condition that he stay away from the place where his wife lives and send her regularly through juvenile court, $50 per month.

Milton Cuthbertson, who was sentenced to six months in jail on a charge of assault by Magistrate Laughlin, won a suspended sentence on his appeal, but was paroled for one year provided he remain sober and keep the peace.

Wine And Women

James E. Jones, colored, who appealed a juvenile court sentence to the House of Correction appeared in Court and his wife testified that he had "gotten mixed up with booze and bad women" and had failed to pay alimony over a period of time. Jones told the Court he is an interior decorator and earns over $50 per week. He was given a two years suspended sentence in the House of Correction subject to the condition that he stay sober, do his work, and pay alimony regularly through juvenile court. Judge Henderson said the amount of weekly payments, formerly $25, would be determined after a consultation with his employer today. Jones was represented by Estel Kelley, attorney.

Sentences were affirmed in three motor vehicle cases appealed from trial magistrates, when defendants failed to appear. Calvin Thrasher and James Shearer had each been fined $1 for having too many persons in front seats of their cars. Harry Cooper had been fined $1 for reckless driving.

Robert Forebeck, who was fined $150 for driving on a revoked license and $100 for drunken driving, when tried in Trial Magistrates Court here, had appealed, but he failed to appear and sentence of the lower court was affirmed.

Jury Upholds Verdict

Deliberating less than half an hour, a jury returned a verdict against Clyde Crabtree, 31, Oldtown, who appealed a fine and costs of $112.90 imposed when he was arraigned in Trial Magistrates Court here, on drunken and reckless driving charges.

Crabtree was arrested Sunday, September 7, on Baltimore Avenue when his machine collided with the rear of a car operated by John Sinco, Frostburg.

City Police Officers J. Carl Stouffer and James W. Brown testified Crabtree was staggering about the car and was too drunk to talk intelligibly.

Their testimony was supported by Sinco and Clifford Crowe, also of Frostburg, who witnessed the crash. Sinco told the jury Crabtree mumbled "what happened" after the crash and Crowe said: "If I ever saw a drunken driver he was one."

Paul M. Fletcher, assistant state's attorney, made a strong plea before the jury to convict Crabtree in order to warn others that drunken driving will not be tolerated on the highways. Fletcher said drivers who operate cars under the influence of intoxicants are using a "dangerous weapon" and often cause great injury and damage.

The defense counsel, William L. Wilson, Jr., put three friends of Crabtree on the stand. They testified that they had been at the Eagles picnic at Smouse's Beach with Crabtree and that he had only two cans of beer during the day. Defense witnesses were Charles Ginevan, Belmont Amick and Sylvester Malcolm, all of the Oldtown section.

showing that he and another man were arrested when they were found by Keyser police in a parked car with a minor girl.

Wolfe was indicted jointly with Jesse A. Keplinger, but Keplinger's counsel requested a separate trial and the petition was granted by the court. Keplinger is scheduled to be tried this week.

Two brothers, Paul W. Riggleman and James E. Riggleman, Westernport, changed a plea of not guilty to guilty yesterday on charges of malicious assault resulting from an alleged attack on C. A. Miller, near Fort Ashby, in early September.

B. J. Swick, indicted on a charge of larceny of a camera from Edgell Grayson, sport shop operator, also entered a plea of guilty and is being held in Mineral County Jail to await sentence along with the other convicted persons. Rankin said sentence will probably be pronounced next week.

Fires Burn Out

Mineral County authorities said smoldering ashes were in evidence in spots, but explained that foresters had them "well under control."

In Grant County where a new forest fire threatened to destroy hundreds of acres of timber land after breaking out Monday morning, authorities said the blaze was under control even before the rain.

District Forester Lester McClung, Romney, W. Va., said yesterday's rain came only 10 minutes after the last and most severe in a series of forest fires had been brought under control. He said about 3,000 acres of timberland had been consumed in the Buffalo Creek section of Grant County, near Bayard, and that "untold damage" had been done to wild life and private property.

Police Arrest Man On Pistol Theft Charge

Motorist Held As Material Witness

Quick action by State Police last night resulted in the arrest of a young man who allegedly stole a .32 calibre automatic Colt pistol from the service station of Robert Poffenberger at the foot of Green Ridge, Route 40, east of here.

State Trooper William F. Baker and Cpl. Harry Holsinger arrested Gilbert Franklin Hennen, 23, who gave his address as 431 Grand Avenue, and held him for the States Attorney on a larceny charge. Another youth, Russell Godfrey, 21, of 740½ Mongahela Avenue, Glassport, Pa., with whom Hennen was riding, was held as a material witness and both are in the county jail.

Trooper Baker said Poffenberger called the LaVale sub-station early last night and told police a young man had been loafing around his service station and had hitch-hiked a ride in a 1937 Plymouth toward Cumberland. Shortly after the youth left, Poffenberger missed his .32 calibre Colt pistol.

Baker started out Route 40 at once, and about 7 p. m. noticed two young men riding in a 1937 Dodge, toward the city. He stopped them, called Cpl. Holsinger and the two officers held the young men and searched the car. The pistol was recovered in the machine.

Trooper Baker said Godfrey was discharged from the Army Monday and was en route to his home. He picked up Hennen who was thumbing a ride, and the men are apparently unacquainted with each other. At the jail last night Godfrey said, "that's the last time I'll pick up a hitch-hiker."

Hennen is not a resident of Cumberland, although he gave a local address, the News was informed last night. Residents at the address said the young man's home is in Washington, and he has been visiting them here for more than a week. They said he is a veteran and has been unemployed.

Men, Given Second Chance By Court, Again Arrested

Two men, given a second chance in Circuit Court this week by Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson, may face the Court again today or tomorrow, for violation of parole.

Jack Porter, found guilty Monday on a charge of vagrancy was given a suspended sentence by the Court of six months in the House of Correction, on condition he refrain from loitering about the premises of the German Brewery, stay sober and stop loafing.

Late Monday night, city police picked him up near the brewery and charged him with being drunk.

Yesterday, James Hose, roofer who works in Cumberland, Hagerstown and Martinsburg, W. Va., was given a suspended sentence in the House of Correction for one year, when the Court upheld an appeal in a case of malicious destruction of property. The Court suspended sentence providing Hose stay sober and pay his wife alimony regularly.

Last night at 11 o'clock, police were called to the Blue Ridge Bus Terminal, where Hose was lying on a bench, in a badly intoxicated condition, officers said. When taken to Police headquarters, he pleaded "for a break" telling officers, "I just got out, don't put me back," and exhibiting a bus ticket and about $60 cash, claiming he was trying to leave town.

He was confined to the jail for the night.

its study and report before October 1, 1948.

A resolution adopted at the regular session directed creation of a special committee to make the survey, with a provision that no members could be connected, directly or indirectly, with liquor operations.

The liquor board, subsequently named to make the study, held that it was ineligible because of the resolution.

Senate Majority Leader Sothorn (D-Prince George's) at the session yesterday moved that the liquor dispensary proposal be reported unfavorably because it was "highly controversial" and "should not be injected" into the coming session.

Kimble, minority floor leader in the Senate, spoke in protest for 10 minutes, contending that the matter "affects the morals of 90,000 people of my county" and is of "greater importance than increasing the salaries of deputy sheriffs."

He argued that the change was approved by the entire Allegany delegation.

The 1947 dispensary proposal, he said, was "hurriedly drawn and hastily enacted" in the last days of the session while the new plan would provide for a more thorough study of the situation as it pertains to Allegany County.

Kimble said last night that he is "working on" an adoption law for the county as requested by judges of the Fourth Judicial Circuit when they met with the Legislative Council here last summer.

While the special session has been called for the purpose of giving Baltimore broader taxing powers, it was indicated yesterday that the larger counties, if they desired, could obtain these broader powers.

Kimble, without saying whether Allegany County would want the new powers, told the Council that copies of the proposed Baltimore bill should be made available to legislators this week so they could discuss the situation with their county officials.

Senate President Joseph H. Byrnes said every effort would be made to do this.

In ancient times the evil eye was a widespread belief which attributed to certain individuals the power to cause death or injury to other persons simply by looking at them.

Two Youths Are Released On Bond After Inn Fracas

Victim Of Fight Reported "Good"

Charged with assault with intent to kill as the result of a fracas at Rainbow Inn, near Cresaptown, two youths yesterday were released on $200 bond each pending a preliminary hearing. The victim meanwhile was reported in "good" condition in Memorial Hospital.

Charges were preferred against the two youths, identified as Richard Judy, 19, Cresaptown, and Ferman "Sol" Lease, Route 5, yesterday after they were questioned in the office of the State's Attorney on two consecutive days.

Judy was arrested Sunday morning and Lease Sunday night following what police described as a "free-for-all" at Rainbow Inn late Saturday night in which the co-proprietor, Harry Wahl, suffeed a fractured skull.

Bonds were posted for the two youths, who were being held in Allegany County Jail, by Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carney R. Judy, Cresaptown, but the pair was warned that they were not to leave Allegany County and they are subject to appearance for a hearing on demand of County authorities.

State Trooper First Class William F. Baker said he understood the free-for-all started after Judy and Lease appeared at the inn Saturday night and demanded beer.

Wahl, according to police, suffered the fractured skull after he was struck with a blunt instrument during the fracas. Police said they were told the co-owner got a .32 caliber revolver and shot into the ceiling and wall of the building after he was struck, but Wahl denied using a weapon.

As the fight developed other customers joined in, police declared, adding that an inspection of the premises disclosed the place a shambles with broken beer bottles, glass and a pinball machine as well as tables and chairs overturned.

Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., said he was informed when setting bond that Judy and Lease have admitted there was a fight at Rainbow Inn, but deny striking Wahl.

Action Is Urged On Parking Area

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said yesterday he believes the Mayor and Council should take immediate action toward establishing a central parking area at a North George Street lot across from the B. and O. freight station.

City officials and members of the Police Department inspected the site several weeks ago with representatives of the transportation and traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Keegan disclosed that the city had been offered an opportunity to purchase a lot at the corner of Bedford and Centre Streets at a cost of $75,000, as a possible location for a parking area.

He said, however, that a study made by City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer indicated that only 102 automobiles could be accommodated in that location, and that purchase of the lot would not ease the parking problem materially.

City Police Probe $140 Theft Here

City Police last night were still investigating an alleged robbery of $140 from Leroy Starkey, Eckhart, who told police he was "rolled" early yesterday morning as he slept in his car parked near the Lovers Leap Service Station on Route 40 in the Narrows.

Police quoted Starkey as saying he had seven $20 bills when he fell asleep about 4 a. m. He furnished officers with a description of a youthful suspect.

Mrs. Eston Combs, 30 Howard Street, notified police that intruders broke into a coop at the rear of her home Saturday and stole chickens and rabbits. Two other theft attempts were made this week, she told police.

Chief of Police R. Smmett Flynn declared yesterday that Halloween pranks and other acts of vandalism are noticeably decreasing, particularly in the West Side section of the city.

Chief Flynn, however, stressed his warning that youths picked up by officers will be prosecuted in Juvenile Court on delinquency charges.

Jack Porter, this city, paroled Monday morning in Circuit Court after appealing a sentence on a charge of loitering was committed to City Jail for three days yesterday in default of a $3 fine imposed after he was arrested Monday night on a charge of being drunk.

Circuit Court Works All Day On Criminal Appeals

Sentences Affirmed In Majority Cases

In a day-long session, which was not completed until after the Court House closed yesterday, eight Criminal Appeals cases, including one jury trial were disposed of in Circuit Court, with Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson presiding.

James Hose, a roofer who works here, in Hagerstown, and Martinsburg, W. Va., was heard on a charge of being drunk and malicious destruction of property.

Assistant States Attorney Paul M. Fletcher told the Court Hose went to his former wife's home on Euclid Place, to visit his divorced wife, had gotten drunk and set fire to a mattress.

Hose told the Court he has been in jail 34 days since, does not remember much about the incident and said he had been drinking for several days.

He was sentenced to serve a year in the Maryland House of Correction and sentence was suspended on condition that he stay away from the place where his wife lives and send her regularly through juvenile court, $50 per month.

Milton Cuthbertson, who was sentenced to six months in jail on a charge of assault by Magistrate Laughlin, won a suspended sentence on his appeal, but was paroled for one year provided he remain sober and keep the peace.

Wine And Women

James E. Jones, colored, who appealed a juvenile court sentence to the House of Correction appeared in Court and his wife testified that he had "gotten mixed up with booze and bad women" and had failed to pay alimony over a period of time. Jones told the Court he is an interior decorator and earns over $50 per week. He was given a two years suspended sentence in the House of Correction subject to the condition that he stay sober, do his work, and pay alimony regularly through juvenile court. Judge Henderson said the amount of weekly payments, formerly $25, would be determined after a consultation with his employer today. Jones was represented by Estel Kelley, attorney.

Sentences were affirmed in three motor vehicle cases appealed from trial magistrates, when defendants failed to appear. Calvin Thrasher and James Shearer had each been fined $1 for having too many persons in front seats of their cars. Harry Cooper had been fined $1 for reckless driving.

Robert Forebeck, who was fined $150 for driving on a revoked license and $100 for drunken driving, when tried in Trial Magistrates Court here, had appealed, but he failed to appear and sentence of the lower court was affirmed.

Jury Upholds Verdict

Deliberating less than half an hour, a jury returned a verdict against Clyde Crabtree, 31, Oldtown, who appealed a fine and costs of $112.90 imposed when he was arraigned in Trial Magistrates Court here, on drunken and reckless driving charges.

Crabtree was arrested Sunday, September 7, on Baltimore Avenue when his machine collided with the rear of a car operated by John Sinco, Frostburg.

City Police Officers J. Carl Stouffer and James W. Brown testified Crabtree was staggering about the car and was too drunk to talk intelligibly.

Their testimony was supported by Sinco and Clifford Crowe, also of Frostburg, who witnessed the crash. Sinco told the jury Crabtree mumbled "what happened" after the crash and Crowe said: "If I ever saw a drunken driver he was one."

Paul M. Fletcher, assistant state's attorney, made a strong plea before the jury to convict Crabtree in order to warn others that drunken driving will not be tolerated on the highways. Fletcher said drivers who operate cars under the influence of intoxicants are using a "dangerous weapon" and often cause great injury and damage.

The defense counsel, William L. Wilson, Jr., put three friends of Crabtree on the stand. They testified that they had been at the Eagles picnic at Smouse's Beach with Crabtree and that he had only two cans of beer during the day. Defense witnesses were Charles Ginevan, Belmont Amick and Sylvester Malcolm, all of the Oldtown section.

showing that he and another man were arrested when they were found by Keyser police in a parked car with a minor girl.

Wolfe was indicted jointly with Jesse A. Keplinger, but Keplinger's counsel requested a separate trial and the petition was granted by the court. Keplinger is scheduled to be tried this week.

Two brothers, Paul W. Riggleman and James E. Riggleman, Westernport, changed a plea of not guilty to guilty yesterday on charges of malicious assault resulting from an alleged attack on C. A. Miller, near Fort Ashby, in early September.

B. J. Swick, indicted on a charge of larceny of a camera from Edgell Grayson, sport shop operator, also entered a plea of guilty and is being held in Mineral County Jail to await sentence along with the other convicted persons. Rankin said sentence will probably be pronounced next week.

Fires Burn Out

Mineral County authorities said smoldering ashes were in evidence in spots, but explained that foresters had them "well under control."

In Grant County where a new forest fire threatened to destroy hundreds of acres of timber land after breaking out Monday morning, authorities said the blaze was under control even before the rain.

District Forester Lester McClung, Romney, W. Va., said yesterday's rain came only 10 minutes after the last and most severe in a series of forest fires had been brought under control. He said about 3,000 acres of timberland had been consumed in the Buffalo Creek section of Grant County, near Bayard, and that "untold damage" had been done to wild life and private property.

Police Arrest Man On Pistol Theft Charge

Motorist Held As Material Witness

Quick action by State Police last night resulted in the arrest of a young man who allegedly stole a .32 calibre automatic Colt pistol from the service station of Robert Poffenberger at the foot of Green Ridge, Route 40, east of here.

State Trooper William F. Baker and Cpl. Harry Holsinger arrested Gilbert Franklin Hennen, 23, who gave his address as 431 Grand Avenue, and held him for the States Attorney on a larceny charge. Another youth, Russell Godfrey, 21, of 740½ Mongahela Avenue, Glassport, Pa., with whom Hennen was riding, was held as a material witness and both are in the county jail.

Trooper Baker said Poffenberger called the LaVale sub-station early last night and told police a young man had been loafing around his service station and had hitch-hiked a ride in a 1937 Plymouth toward Cumberland. Shortly after the youth left, Poffenberger missed his .32 calibre Colt pistol.

Baker started out Route 40 at once, and about 7 p. m. noticed two young men riding in a 1937 Dodge, toward the city. He stopped them, called Cpl. Holsinger and the two officers held the young men and searched the car. The pistol was recovered in the machine.

Trooper Baker said Godfrey was discharged from the Army Monday and was en route to his home. He picked up Hennen who was thumbing a ride, and the men are apparently unacquainted with each other. At the jail last night Godfrey said, "that's the last time I'll pick up a hitch-hiker."

Hennen is not a resident of Cumberland, although he gave a local address, the News was informed last night. Residents at the address said the young man's home is in Washington, and he has been visiting them here for more than a week. They said he is a veteran and has been unemployed.

Men, Given Second Chance By Court, Again Arrested

Two men, given a second chance in Circuit Court this week by Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge George Henderson, may face the Court again today or tomorrow, for violation of parole.

Jack Porter, found guilty Monday on a charge of vagrancy was given a suspended sentence by the Court of six months in the House of Correction, on condition he refrain from loitering about the premises of the German Brewery, stay sober and stop loafing.

Late Monday night, city police picked him up near the brewery and charged him with being drunk.

Yesterday, James Hose, roofer who works in Cumberland, Hagerstown and Martinsburg, W. Va., was given a suspended sentence in the House of Correction for one year, when the Court upheld an appeal in a case of malicious destruction of property. The Court suspended sentence providing Hose stay sober and pay his wife alimony regularly.

Last night at 11 o'clock, police were called to the Blue Ridge Bus Terminal, where Hose was lying on a bench, in a badly intoxicated condition, officers said. When taken to Police headquarters, he pleaded "for a break" telling officers, "I just got out, don't put me back," and exhibiting a bus ticket and about $60 cash, claiming he was trying to leave town.

He was confined to the jail for the night.

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 28—(INS)—Gloria Jean, the young singer who was bitterly criticized in England when she sang the Lord's Prayer using the phrase "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors," has just signed a movie contract with Columbia.

Louella Parsons

Gloria, who started with Universal when she was a little girl, hasn't made a movie in a long time. When she was signed she was expected to be another Deanna Durbin because of her beautiful voice.

But two singers of operatic caliber are a crowd on any movie lot so perhaps Gloria will have her inning at Columbia. Her contract is for two pictures, the first being "Sweetheart Of the Blues" which Sam Katzman will produce.

Gary Cooper is not going to Paramount. Am told he has already signed a deal with Warners. And don't think Warners aren't searching like crazy to get the right story for Gary.

Yet, it will be his own company, in a deal something like Danny Kaye made.

Susan Hayward, 'tis said, gets the Mary Martin role in "One Touch of Venus." I suppose her singing will be dubbed, but she'll certainly be a lovely Venus.

The reconciliation of Susan and Jess Barker came about so quietly that very few people knew about it.

Lester Cowan is producing "One Touch Of Venus" at Universal-International.

Frank Loesser moved off song writers row Monday when they hung an "Associate Producer" shingle on his office door at MGM.

The tunesmith whose "Ballad Of Rodger Young" won him the medal of honor from President Truman and whose famed "Praise The Lord And Pass the Ammunition" was one of THE most inspirational songs of the war, will help produce as well as score "Neptune's Daughter."

Back in the old silent days "Neptune's Daughter" starred Annette Kellerman and was the story of her life. As I've told you, another glamor girl swimmer, Esther Williams, gets Annette's role with Red Skelton, Betty Garrett and Ricardo Montelban in the line up.

Now that summer stock is over, we're getting something new, winter stock. John Kenley, who ran the summer company at Deer Lake, Pa., is inaugurating a winter try and if his luck holds, other small companies are a cinch to follow.

Peggy Ann Garner stars in "Kiss And Tell" at the Plaza Theater starting late in November for the kick off of winter stock, and Gypsy Rose Lee follows in "Blithe Spirit."

I hope a movie scout catches Peggy Ann and re-discovers her for the movies. For my money she's one of the very best of the juvenile actresses.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:—Freddie McEvoy arrived by plane from France and will be the house guest of the Errol Flynns for the next three weeks. Now chance of his reconciling with Irene Wrightsman, his ex.

Report has it that radio-television executive John Royal and Actress Lenore Corbett will soon marry.

The ex-Mrs. Lou Holtz and Carl Leserman reconciled together at Charlie Farrell's Racquet Club in Palm Springs.

Who was the gorgeous gal my friend Jimmy Durante was dining with at the Kings? That's the $64 question that all diners there were asking.

Robert Mitchum leaves for the east for a two months vacation. I don't know of anyone who deserves it more. He certainly is the busy one.

Lynn Bari and Sid Lult, who have just kissed and made up, will second honeymoon at Sun Valley.

On Saturday, Herbert Kalmus is entertaining at dinner, employees who have been with technicolor 35 years or longer.

"Song Of My Heart," the movie Barney Glaser and Nat Finston made, may be bought by 20th. A bid has been made.

Jay Gould and Marguerite Chapman a new twosome at Slapsy Maxie's.

New Quiz Show Opens Tonight On MBS Network

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The MBS network is having some changes made in its Wednesday night schedule, effective right now.

One of them concerns a new quiz, which is being called RFD America because the tone of the questions is to be agricultural. The time it is to get is 9:30, with Joe Kelly listed as the quizmaster.

The other introduction is more or less an audition of a new dramatic program. It's author is Lulu Volumer, whom earlier listeners will recall as the writer of the old mountain-life series, Moonshine and Honeysuckle. So far the program is listed for only one broadcast at 10 o'clock.

Title is "Shug Grump," named after the principal character, who best can be described as a "grass-roots woman philosopher." If there will be other broadcasts depends upon the response.

Bing Crosby has recorded his version of a Halloween party for ABC at 10. That's the principal reason why he picked Boris Karloff as one of the guests. Another is to be Victor Moore. They are putting on an act that they'd like to bill as the Halloween trio—Moore, Karloff and Crosby.

The Eileen Farrell concert on CBS at 11:30 goes on the air with conducting cooperation of Alfredo Antonini . . . . Jimmy Durante's NBC guest at 10:30 is to be Lucille Ball.

The Pot and the Kettle

Broadly speaking, Jimmy Fidler, "your Hollywood reporter," is against sin and, to somewhat lesser extent, in favor of virtue. About 80 per cent of Fidler's Sunday night broadcasts are concerned with divorce or shattered romances (he deplores them), Hollywood fist fights (he's shocked by them) and scandal of one sort or another of which he invariably disapproves. On the other hand, a marriage which has survived for any length of time wins his unqualified indorsement. He also approves wholeheartedy of actors who treat their aging mothers with civility. His approval of matrimony and motherhood occupies most of the other 20 per cent of his broadcasts.

Jimmy Fidler

Mr. Fidler's moral purposes are as intense as those of a small-town spinster and his methods are indentical. He is, for example, strenuously opposed to Hollywood celebrities publicizing their misdeeds and he voice this disapproval (as well as a detailed account of the misdeeds) over two national networks every Sunday night.

* * *

"Open letter to Mark Stevens," he scolded recently in his high-pitched, rather prissy voice. "Dear Mark: Ever since the termination of your romance with Hedy Lamarr and your reconciliation with your wife, you've been indulging in public self-recrimination. You've declared to reporters that you made a fool of yourself, that you don't deserve a wife like Mrs. Stevens... The point is will you let her forget? Certainly she can't if you continue parading your repentence in the newspapers." Mrs. Stevens, of course, will have even greater difficulty forgetting since Mr. Stevens's repentence was paradad before two or three million radio listeners. The difference between public self-recrimination and public recrimination is too delicate, I guess, to be understood anywhere outside Hollywood.

Fidler persistently scolds his fellow columnists for spreading scandal, unfortunately spreading it just a little further in the process. "Columnists," he said recently, "who've been linking George Raft's name with that of Starlet —— (let's not spread it any further) had better watch their step. (She's) married to a war vet who's attending college in Los Angeles." The word "link" has a special connotation in Hollywood. Fidler wasn't linking the two names or unlinking them. He was merely disapproving the whole thing.

Fidler's intrusions on privacy are sometimes of so intimate a nature as to be astonishing to any one outside the film capital. "Attention Mrs. Brian Aherne," he declared the other night in his mincing tones. "Your husband, who promised to stop flying airplanes, has kept his word but, holy smokes, he's now learning to fly glider planes." Presumably Mrs. Aherne didn't know.

Besides sin, Fidler has been crusading fervidly against Westbrook Pegler (who took a poke at him in a column not long ago) and against Hollywood Communism. His vitriolic campaign against the Soviet Union contrasts rather oddly with the singing commercial on the show, which is set to the tune of "The Song of the Volga Boatmen." Like a lot of gossip columnists Fidler widens his field occasionally to take in world problems.

He takes his pronouncements on the international scene with extraordinary seriousness and phrases them almost as carefully as diplomatic communiques: "Attention, please, to this editorial," he said the other night. "I am not in full accord with Walter Winchell's warnings of war."

Right now, Fidler is conducting his annual poll to determine "the most popular living man, woman or child in America." Since Fidler's listeners, particularly those who write him letters, are hardly representative of the nation, the poll indicates little except the dreamy set of values of the Fidler audience. At this writing, the leaders in the poll are in order: Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, Jackie Robinson, the Rev. Edward Flanagan of Boys' Town, Neb., Eleanor Roosevelt, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Al Jolson, General Douglas MacArthur, President Truman and Fulton Lewis, Jr. Secretary of State George C. Marshall started out in seventh place but he lost ground steadily to Jolson and Robinson and last week slipped off the list entirely. He was replaced by Fulton Lewis, Jr., whose solution to world problems are easier to digest than the Marshall Plan.

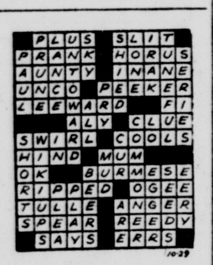

I don't know whether or not Mr. Fidler approves of this list but his stand on gossip is unequivocal. He's against it. Just the other night he sputtered with indignation about a girl who came back from Texas "and with an unprecedented show of bad taste announced the names of the six Texans whom she said had proposed to her."

"In my opinion," said Fidler stormily, "Miss —— with her tattle-taling belongs precisely in the category with men who kiss and tell."

New Quiz Show Opens Tonight On MBS Network

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The MBS network is having some changes made in its Wednesday night schedule, effective right now.

One of them concerns a new quiz, which is being called RFD America because the tone of the questions is to be agricultural. The time it is to get is 9:30, with Joe Kelly listed as the quizmaster.

The other introduction is more or less an audition of a new dramatic program. It's author is Lulu Volumer, whom earlier listeners will recall as the writer of the old mountain-life series, Moonshine and Honeysuckle. So far the program is listed for only one broadcast at 10 o'clock.

Title is "Shug Grump," named after the principal character, who best can be described as a "grass-roots woman philosopher." If there will be other broadcasts depends upon the response.

Bing Crosby has recorded his version of a Halloween party for ABC at 10. That's the principal reason why he picked Boris Karloff as one of the guests. Another is to be Victor Moore. They are putting on an act that they'd like to bill as the Halloween trio—Moore, Karloff and Crosby.

The Eileen Farrell concert on CBS at 11:30 goes on the air with conducting cooperation of Alfredo Antonini . . . . Jimmy Durante's NBC guest at 10:30 is to be Lucille Ball.

In loving memory of our wife and mother, Mrs. Helen Lavin Smith, who died October 29, 1946.

When the evening shades are falling,
And we are sitting alone,
In our hearts there comes a longing,
If you only could come home.
Oft and oft our thoughts do wander
To your grave so near,
Where we laid you dearest wife
and mother
One year ago today.

Sadly missed by her husband & family and her grandson, Hilary Brode, Jr.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our wife and mother, Mrs. Helen Lavin Smith, who died October 29, 1946.

When the evening shades are falling,
And we are sitting alone,
In our hearts there comes a longing,
If you only could come home.
Oft and oft our thoughts do wander
To your grave so near,
Where we laid you dearest wife
and mother
One year ago today.

Sadly missed by her husband & family and her grandson, Hilary Brode, Jr.

Individual Stocks Tilt Moderately Upward As Dealings Continue Slow

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—Individual stocks tilted moderately upward in today's market although many leaders suffered from light selling.

Steels enjoyed a forenoon bulge but failed to follow through. Special issues did well. Dealings picked up now and then but slowdowns were frequent. It was the second full session under the million-share mark since October 9. The day's aggregate of 930,000 shares compared with 850,000 the day before.

Norfolk and Western added 1¾ at 60¼, Union Pacific was up two at 147, and Skelly Oil two at 96, the latter at a 1947 peak. In the "new high" class also were Texas Pacific Coal and Oil, up 1½ at 44½; National Supply five-eighths at 22, International Silver seven-eighths at 63¼ and Anaconda Wire and Cable three-fourths at 65½.

Modest improvement was retained by Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Deere, Sperry, North American, Westinghouse, General Electric, Owens-Illinois, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (NJ), Warren Foundry and National Biscuit.

Pittston Company declared the first dividend on the common since 1931 but the stock dipped 2¼ to 35½. A sharp drop in net depressed Wright Aeronautical 5½ points at 58½. On the off-side were Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Graham-Paige, Continental Motors, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, Great Northern Railway, Northern Pacific and Pepsi-Cola.

In the curb, Elliott Company was up a point on a resumed dividend. Gainers were Noma Electric, American Cities Power, Humble Oil and Salt Dome Oil. Kaiser-Frazer skidded, along with Sonotone, Tilo Roofing and American Gas. Turnover here was 330,000 shares versus 370,000 yesterday.

Total business increased to $5,180,000 from $3,150,000.

United States governments tended lower again in the over-the-counter with the Victory Loan 2½s of December 1967-'72 marked down to 101 21-32 for a loss of 2-32.

FIREMAN'S SUSPENSION CONFIRMED BY BOARD

The 60-day suspension of Thomas B. Jones, 10 South Smallwood Street, a pipeman at West Side Fire Department, was upheld by the Board of Civil Service Commissioners at a recent hearing on Jones' appeal from the suspension, Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan reported yesterday.

In its report to Keegan, the board said Jones was found guilty as charged. The fireman was ordered suspended as of September 4 after he was charged with reporting late for work on September 1, the third time in 15 months, and for failing to report to Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka on why he was late, as is customary, Keegan said.

During testimony taken at the hearing, Chief Hoenicka said Jones reported late for work July 4 and 29, 1946, and that the pipeman was suspended for 10 days on the latter date.

Since Jones was appointed a city fireman January 1, 1925, he has been suspended three times for short periods, and has been dismissed and reinstated on three occasions, according to the fire chief.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Law offices of Clarence Shutter,
Law Building, Cumberland, Maryland.

Jeanne Kayfield, Plaintiff vs. Allen F. Kayfield, Defendant. No. 20364 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce divorcing the plaintiff from the defendant A VINCULO MATRIMONII.

The bill states that the parties were married at Elkton, Maryland, on the 5th day of April, 1942; that two children were born to the parties, Lynda M. aged five years, and Joan A. aged four years, whose custody the plaintiff seeks; that the parties have been separated since the 5th of July, 1944, when the defendant deserted the plaintiff without any just cause or reason, that the desertion has been continuous and uninterrupted since said date, is deliberate and final beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that the plaintiff has resided in Allegany County for more than three years next before the filing of this suit, and the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and his present address or whereabouts unknown to the plaintiff.

It is thereupon this 20th day of October, 1947, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, once a week for four successive weeks before the 21st day of November, 1947, give notice to the non-resident defendant of the object and substance of this suit, warning him to be and appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 8th day of December, 1947, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

ROBERT JACKSON,
Clerk.

Individual Stocks Tilt Moderately Upward As Dealings Continue Slow

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—Individual stocks tilted moderately upward in today's market although many leaders suffered from light selling.

Steels enjoyed a forenoon bulge but failed to follow through. Special issues did well. Dealings picked up now and then but slowdowns were frequent. It was the second full session under the million-share mark since October 9. The day's aggregate of 930,000 shares compared with 850,000 the day before.

Norfolk and Western added 1¾ at 60¼, Union Pacific was up two at 147, and Skelly Oil two at 96, the latter at a 1947 peak. In the "new high" class also were Texas Pacific Coal and Oil, up 1½ at 44½; National Supply five-eighths at 22, International Silver seven-eighths at 63¼ and Anaconda Wire and Cable three-fourths at 65½.

Modest improvement was retained by Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Deere, Sperry, North American, Westinghouse, General Electric, Owens-Illinois, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (NJ), Warren Foundry and National Biscuit.

Pittston Company declared the first dividend on the common since 1931 but the stock dipped 2¼ to 35½. A sharp drop in net depressed Wright Aeronautical 5½ points at 58½. On the off-side were Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Graham-Paige, Continental Motors, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, Great Northern Railway, Northern Pacific and Pepsi-Cola.

In the curb, Elliott Company was up a point on a resumed dividend. Gainers were Noma Electric, American Cities Power, Humble Oil and Salt Dome Oil. Kaiser-Frazer skidded, along with Sonotone, Tilo Roofing and American Gas. Turnover here was 330,000 shares versus 370,000 yesterday.

Total business increased to $5,180,000 from $3,150,000.

United States governments tended lower again in the over-the-counter with the Victory Loan 2½s of December 1967-'72 marked down to 101 21-32 for a loss of 2-32.

FIREMAN'S SUSPENSION CONFIRMED BY BOARD

The 60-day suspension of Thomas B. Jones, 10 South Smallwood Street, a pipeman at West Side Fire Department, was upheld by the Board of Civil Service Commissioners at a recent hearing on Jones' appeal from the suspension, Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan reported yesterday.

In its report to Keegan, the board said Jones was found guilty as charged. The fireman was ordered suspended as of September 4 after he was charged with reporting late for work on September 1, the third time in 15 months, and for failing to report to Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka on why he was late, as is customary, Keegan said.

During testimony taken at the hearing, Chief Hoenicka said Jones reported late for work July 4 and 29, 1946, and that the pipeman was suspended for 10 days on the latter date.

Since Jones was appointed a city fireman January 1, 1925, he has been suspended three times for short periods, and has been dismissed and reinstated on three occasions, according to the fire chief.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Law offices of Clarence Shutter, Law Building, Cumberland, Maryland.

Jeanne Kayfield, Plaintiff vs. Allen F. Kayfield, Defendant. No. 20364 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce divorcing the plaintiff from the defendant A VINCULO MATRIMONII.

The bill states that the parties were married at Elkton, Maryland, on the 5th day of April, 1942; that two children were born to the parties, Lynda M. aged five years, and Joan A. aged four years, whose custody the plaintiff seeks; that the parties have been separated since the 5th of July, 1944, when the defendant deserted the plaintiff without any just cause or reason, that the desertion has been continuous and uninterrupted since said date, is deliberate and final beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that the plaintiff has resided in Allegany County for more than three years next before the filing of this suit, and the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and his present address or whereabouts unknown to the plaintiff.

It is thereupon this 20th day of October, 1947, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, once a week for four successive weeks before the 21st day of November, 1947, give notice to the non-resident defendant of the object and substance of this suit, warning him to be and appear in this court in person or by solicitor on or before the 8th day of December, 1947, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

ROBERT JACKSON, Clerk.

Chest Drive Canvassing To Get Underway Today

Walsh Appeals For Generous Donations

Every community needs charitable and character building organizations, and those agencies in Cumberland are supported by annual Community Chest campaigns, William C. Walsh, former attorney general of the State of Maryland, said last night in a radio broadcast over Station WTBO.

Walsh gave his radio address as the "Keynote" speaker at the "kickoff dinner" of Cumberland's 1947 Community Chest campaign, which was held in the Central YMCA gymnasium.

Approximately 250 members of the campaign organization attended, receiving final instructions before the start of canvassing today. Goal of the drive, which will continue until November 6, is $75,393.51.

"We must have charitable agencies because some people are always less fortunate than others," Walsh said. "Since none of these agencies can be self-supporting, it is necessary to appeal to the public for their support."

Goals Exceeded

The speaker recalled that the Community Chest was organized in January, 1926, and that in the annual fund raising campaigns since that time, Cumberland residents have contributed $1,405,000 to the Chest, exceeding the total goals over the 21-year period by almost $29,000.

Three of the nine present Chest agencies, the YMCA, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, provide character-building organizations for youth which make better citizens, he pointed out.

All of the groups benefit Cumberland citizens in one way or another, and by contributing to the campaign "we all contribute to the well-being of the community in which we live," he said.

Walsh emphasized that the 1947 goal of $75,393.51 must be reached because the agencies will have to operate with the strictest economy even if the entire quota is raised. The figure is over $5,000 less than the total requests submitted by the agencies to the budget committee, he explained.

"Never before have so many of our people had the ability to give," he said. "I urge all Cumberland citizens to contribute as generously as possible."

John T. Fey, general chairman, who presided, urged campaign workers to complete their canvassing promptly. The first report luncheon will be held Friday at 12:15 p. m. at the "Y", and E. M. Brown, campaign director, stressed the importance of turning in reports on time. A corps of 20 auditors is being assembled to handle the returns, he added.

Others Give Talks

Thomas B. Finan, a member of the advance gifts section, emphasized that canvassers must be informed on the purposes of the campaign and on all phases of Community Chest work before asking for contributions.

Others who spoke briefly were Frederic W. Eiler, chairman of the classified section, and O. J. Hale, chairman of the Chest budget committee, who outlined the committee's work in studying fund requests of the nine agencies and preparing the 1947-48 budget.

RIO Wins Western Maryland Election

Engineers and firemen of the Western Maryland Railway voted earlier this month for union representation by the Railroad Industrial Organization, an independent union, according to an announcement made last night.

The engineers and firemen voted by some 100 votes for representation by the Railroad Industrial Organization rather than for representation by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, according to one spokesman who asked not to be identified.

Tax Exemptions Of Clubs To Be Aired Thursday

State Commission To Hear Test Cases Here

The right of Allegany County's Board of Commissioners to grant tax exemptions to fraternal and veterans organizations will be aired Thursday when the State Tax Commission begins hearings in the Allegany County Court House on 16 test cases involving clubs in the county.

The hearings are the result of an appeal taken by Somerville Nicholson, county supervisor of assessments, after the Board of Commissioners unanimously voted to continue granting tax exemptions to Allegany County fraternal and veteran organizations last June.

Legal counsel for each of the 16 organizations, which Nicholson said would be a cross section of county clubs, were expected to present their cases to the state commission beginning at 10 a. m.

Will Test Policy

According to Nicholson the local cases will represent a test of state policy in exempting such organizations from real estate tax, and the decision of the board will have a bearing on all organizations in the state now freed of real estate taxes.

It has been a state custom, Nicholson explained, that fraternal organizations are treated as exempt property, but should the tax commission order collection of the assessments the same procedure will be followed in the other 22 counties and Baltimore City.

All of the income producing real estate of such organizations are presently taxed, he explained, but the buildings or parts of buildings used for lodge purposes exclusively have been exempted.

Nicholson ordered the estimated $1,400,000,000 worth of property owned by clubs returned to the Allegany County Tax books after being advised by Albert W. Ward, secretary of the Tax Commission, to review all clubs in the county "with a view of placing them on the books this year for 1948," since such exemptions are not provided for by state law.

If the commission orders the clubs, property taxed it would represent an additional income to the county of approximately $24,780 annually.

Rogan Will Preside

Joseph H. A. Rogan, Baltimore, chairman of the tax commission will preside at the hearings here along with Owen E. Hitchins, this city and William W. Travers, Salisbury, members of the commission. In addition to these men, Albert W. Ward, secretary, and H. Gerard Muller, Baltimore, chief supervisor of assessments, will attend the hearings.

Out of county "onlookers" expected to attend the hearing include Wilton W. Allen, supervisor of assessments in Montgomery County, and Simeon Clopper, supervisor of assessments in Washington County.

Nicholson listed the schedule of hearings as follows:

Called for 10 a. m. are The Ali Ghan Country Club, Inc.; Ali Ghan

Fires Burn Out As Weary Crews Welcome Rain

800 Acres Burn In Less Than Week

Forest wardens, guards, supervisors and volunteers who fought a score of woods fires in this district since last Wednesday, welcomed the rain early yesterday morning, and all fires in Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties were reported out last night by District Forester William Parr.

More than 800 acres, about 500 of which are in Allegany county, burned over during the past week, with an estimated total damage of about $3,000, according to Parr, who said more than 500 firemen aided in suppressing the flames.

Damage was limited to a few dollars per acre, Parr explained, because most of the fires occurred in brush, undergrowth and scrub areas, and did not get into big timber. Growth, of course, is retarded by fires of this nature, but fortunately no marketable timber except some props and pulp wood were destroyed.

Considerable small game perished in the flames, woodsmen believe, but all flames were brought under control without loss of human life. Several buildings were threatened at some points.

When rain began falling early yesterday morning, all fires in the district were under control, but enough rain fell to wet the ground, extinguish the flames and impede their progress.

Parr said last night that the sun and wind can dry out the woods very quickly, and the danger from fires is not over. Continued caution is urged in the next several weeks, unless there is very heavy rainfall, he explained. Persons in rural and suburban areas are particularly urged to exercise every precaution to burn no brush or debris, and motorists are urged to be careful in throwing matches or cigarets from autos.

The forester also stated that some of the fires in the past few days were of incendiary origin and an investigation is being continued on several fires. One man has been arrested in Garrett county, and other charges are expected to develop.

West Virginia foresters and volunteer fire fighters were back on the idle list last night, as "under control" or "burned out" reports came from all areas that were swept by the woodland blazes for more than a week.

Council Rejects Kimble's Liquor Dispensary Bill

Resolution To Be Brought Up Again

A resolution offered by Sen. Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) for introduction at the special session of the Legislature appointing the Allegany County Liquor Control Board as a committee to study the advisability of a county liquor dispensary and to study the new county liquor law was rejected yesterday by the Legislative Council.

Kimble said, however, that he intends to bring the matter up again when the Council meets Monday to study the Governor's program for the special session.

Rumors that the Allegany County Federation of Fraternal and Military Organizations has been seeking legislation to make sale of alcoholic beverages by bona fide clubs legal on Sunday was confirmed by Sen. Kimble and other members of the Allegany County Delegation who said they had been approached.

Kimble declared, however, that the measure is not of an emergency nature and said he believes there is no possibility that it will be introduced at the special session.

On the other hand, he pointed out that the committee studying the liquor dispensary question and the liquor laws also could delve into this matter.

The Legislative Council had informally agreed at its last session that local "emergency" bills should be in yesterday if they were to be considered at the special session.

The measure Kimble proposed to have drafted would direct that the liquor board, named at the last regular session, he directed to make

Sentence Will Be Passed Next Week

Two Cumberland men yesterday were convicted on charges of stealing an automobile by a Mineral County, W. Va., jury that deliberated less than an hour before returning a verdict.

Prosecuting Attorney Vernon E. Rankin said Eugene Griffith Moore, and Raymond Wills, both of Laing Avenue, this city, were found guilty of stealing the automobile of W. B. Woolf, last July 19, and will probably be sentenced next week.

Both youths were apprehended after what police called a "wild night," during which they allegedly took three cars. The first in Maryland which was driven to Paw Paw, W. Va., and abandoned for another car, which was driven to Keyser and then abandoned when the Woolf car was taken.

Trooper R. R. Karichoff, West Virginia State Police, read a confession signed by Moore after his capture July 20, in which Moore admitted the theft of the three cars.

Robert Wolfe, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a girl under 18 years of age, was also found guilty by a Mineral County jury, after evidence was introduced

Fines In Police Court Expected To Exceed Levy

Flynn Reveals Sum Of $9,240 Collected

The revenue from fines in Police Court, estimated at $10,000 in the annual municipal levy, is expected to be surpassed by at least $5,000 this year, according to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn, who explained yesterday that much of the increase will be derived from traffic fines.

Flynn said reports for the first seven months of the City's fiscal year, which began April 1, show that $9,240 has been collected in fines imposed in Police Court and pointed out that traffic fines almost doubled in September and are close to tripling this month.

Fines in the fiscal month of October, which ended on the 25th, amounted to $1,846, according to Flynn who said that $803 of that amount came from fines imposed on 726 traffic violators, mostly parking violators.

Flynn announced that the fixing of traffic tickets would be stopped shortly after he was appointed chief of police and a noticable increase in revenue from that source showed in the month of September when 505 violators were fined a total of $591 as compared with 232 violations with fines of $251 in August.

In the first seven months of the fiscal year, 2,709 traffic violators were fined $3,083 while other convictions in police court in that period resulted in fines of $6,157.

A breakdown of the number of violations and the total fines are:

| Month | Traffic Violations | Traffic Fines | Other Violations | Other Fines |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| April | 436 | $ 492 | 210 | $ 790 |
| May | 293 | 369 | 193 | 849 |
| June | 306 | 353 | 124 | 487 |
| July | 211 | 224 | 155 | 690 |
| Aug. | 232 | 251 | 241 | 1,041 |
| Sept. | 505 | 591 | 197 | 1,257 |
| Oct. | 726 | 803 | 166 | 1,043 |
| Total | 2,709 | $3,083 | 1,286 | $6,157 |

Flynn said the money is deposited each day and at the end of each month is turned over to the City Treasury.

Suits Filed

Bills of complaint were filed in Equity yesterday in Circuit Court as follows: E. Joy Effland, vs John E. Effland, Jr.; Martha A. Stonnell vs Samuel E. Stonnell; and Virginia Siegmyer, vs Raymond Siegmyer.

Legislature To Act On Three County Measures

Council Endorses Dam Resolution

Maryland's Legislative Council yesterday approved unanimously three bills pertaining to Cumberland and Allegany County for introduction at the special session of the Legislature on November 5, State Sen. Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) said last night.

The approved measures are these:

Regulation of strip mining in Allegany County.

The Council likewise approved unanimously a resolution to petition Congress to appropriate sufficient money to complete the Savage River Dam in Garrett County.

Kimble said it is planned for the Secretary of State to present the resolution in person to congressional leaders to bring to their attention the need for completing the dam for flood control purposes for Keyser and Piedmont, W. Va., and Westernport, Luke and Cumberland, Md.

A local Veteran-Jaycee Committee has prepared a resolution urging completion of the dam as a flood control device, and copies have been sent to numerous labor, civic, fraternal, veteran, professional, business and service groups, and already some 70 of these organizations have returned the resolution with their endorsement.

The salary measure approved by the Legislative Council would make effective at the beginning of the next city administration salary increases of from $1,200 to $2,400 for city commissioners and from $1,500 to $3,600 for the mayor. The bill passed at the regular session called for a referendum on the increases to be held at the same time as the city election next April.

Kimble said he has given the salary increases a "lot of thought" and believes the mayor and council of the "second city in the state are entitled to it."

He added that he does not believe the question of a salary increase should be tied up in a referendum at election time.

While Kimble said he has not yet had time to discuss this change with the Allegany County delegation, he said he hopes they will agree with his proposal to eliminate the referendum.

The strip mining bill, backed by Delegate William H. Geppert, is similar to a measure vetoed by Gov. William Preston Lane, Geppert said, because the title of the bill failed to mention that Garrett County was excluded although the bill itself specifically exempted Garrett County from the regulation.

The new measure does not mention Garrett County.

Revival of the strip mine bill came after the Legislative Council toured Western Maryland during the summer and declared that "something must be done to stop this destruction."

Creation of the sanitary district at LaVale is expected to meet an emergency water and sewage situation in the area, Kimble stated.

A four-man committee representing the LaVale Civic Improvement Association met with the Council last September and established the fact that an emergency situation existed at LaVale.

Headquarters Of Nutrition Unit To Be Transferred

Personnel To Work Out Of Baltimore

Plans are being made to close the administrative and professional office of the United States Public Health Service nutrition unit in the basement of City Hall, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer.

Dr. Frantz said he has been informed by Dr. Robert H. Riley, director of the State Department of Health, that the unit's headquarters will be moved to Baltimore before the first of the year.

The nutrition demonstration unit was established in Cumberland in April, 1946, to conduct surveys in various schools and communities of the county in connection with a federal program to study different economic groups regarding nutritional defects and to set up an educational program on nutrition standards.

Dr. Frantz said he understands the nutrition unit, the first of its kind to be set up in Maryland, will continue its studies not only in this area but in other counties of the state as well, but will henceforth operate out of Baltimore.

Since headquarters were established in Cumberland, the unit has conducted comparative nutrition studies at Columbia and East Side Schools to determine the effect of a good school lunch program.

Studies have also been conducted at elementary schools in Westernport and Luke, and a nutrition survey was held in Kitzmiller, with Garrett County families in that area attending clinics on a voluntary basis for physical examinations, diet records and blood tests.

Dr. Clarence Velat, officer in charge of the unit, has already gone to Baltimore, and Miss Rose Fortuna, public health nurse, will leave today. Nicholas Barbella, staff chemist, expects to remain here until some time next month.

Another member of the unit, Miss Dolores Howley, assistant nurse officer, left last July to assume duties at Bethesda under the recently inaugurated cancer control program of the USPHS.

Dr. Frantz said yesterday he has requested Myers G. Light, commissioner of streets and public property, for permission to use the unit's office in the basement of City Hall for additional clinic and storage quarters, when the space becomes available.

World War I Vet Found Dead In Tenant House

George Martin "Pete" Shoemaker, 56, veteran of World War I, was found dead at about 8:20 o'clock last night in a wash room on the second floor of an apartment building at 604 Virginia Avenue, according to city police.

City Police Detective Thomas J. See, and Patrolman C. W. Thompson investigated and said the man's body was lying on the floor, where it was found by Arthur F. McBride, who resides in the same building.

No evidence of foul play was discovered, police said, and Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner ordered the body removed to Hafer's Funeral Home.

Police said Shoemaker had been employed by Stanley Burke at his Fifth Street tavern, and neighbors believed he worked yesterday. They also stated the building where Shoemaker lived is a tenant house owned by John H. Twigg, 610 Virginia Avenue, and Shoemaker rented a room there which he shared with William Hott.

McBride, who found the body, told police he last saw Shoemaker alive at about 6:10 p. m. yesterday, going through the building.

Shoemaker was a veteran of World War I, and had undergone treatment recently at veterans hospitals, including Newton D. Baker and Aspinwall. Dr. Deming said last night death was due to natural causes. Shoemaker resided here most of his lifetime.

Gen. J. W. Byron To Address Lions

Gen. Joseph W. Byron, Hagerstown businessman and veteran of two World Wars, will address the Cumberland Lions Club on "Can We Have Peace in Our Time" at the meeting at 12:15 p. m. today in Central Y. M. C. A.

Byron, a graduate of West Point, holds the rank of major general in the Officers Reserve Corps and was chief of the Army Exchange Service and director of special services during World War II. He holds the Distinguished Service Medal.

Byron is president of W. D. Byron and Son, Hagerstown tanners; president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Hagerstown; vice president of the Hagerstown Shoe Company, a member of the national executive board of the Boy Scouts of America and a past president of the Hagerstown Rotary Club.

He was chief of the leather shoe section of the War Production Board in 1941 and 1942, and in 1939 was chairman of the leather section of the Army and Navy Munitions Board.

Lynn C. Lashley is chairman of the Lions program committee for the meeting today.

Elliott Is Found Criminally Insane

Admitting after his arrest Monday that he set fire to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Duckworth and a haystack in the Bloomington section and started two small forest fires along the Swanton Road, Lawrence Elliott, 57, of West Virginia, was ordered committed to Springfield State Hospital yesterday as criminally insane, according to Deputy Sheriff Paul Fisher, of Garrett County.

Fisher said Garrett County State's Attorney Walter Dawson ordered a mental examination for Elliott and that the examination was made by Dr. E. I. Badmgardner, Garrett County deputy medical examiner, and Dr. Edward Sollars yesterday.

They found him criminally insane, the deputy said, and Elliott was taken to the state hospital at Sykesville later in the day by Sheriff J. S. Teats.

Earlier this month, Elliott attempted suicide at the Mineral County, W. Va., Jail at Keyser, authorities said, and Fisher stated that Monday night while he was imprisoned at Oakland he drank a small amount of disinfectant and broke several light bulbs, probably with the intention of eating some of the glass.

Elliott told officials, they said, that he started the fire at the house because he thought he was freezing to death.

Local 26 Committees Plan Meetings Today

Meetings for all committeemen of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO will be held today in the union hall to discuss contract changes, labor facts and grievances.

Second shift workers will meet from 1 to 2 p. m. and first and third shift committeemen will meet from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m., according to the announcement by A. E. Johnson, president. All interested members are invited to attend, he added.

Temperature Reading

A maximum temperature of 69 degrees was reported here yesterday, the mercury rising to that mark from an overnight low of 46. By 9:30 last night it had dropped eight degrees to 61. Biggest weather news yesterday, however, was the rain, the first of any consequence to fall this month. Up to 11:30 p. m. a total of .73 of an inch had been measured. More scattered showers and continued mild weather is predicted for today but cooler weather is expected tonight.

School Children Are Investment Of Tax Payers, Dr. Kopp Asserts

Advised that Cumberland Police will co-operate in keeping school children out of pool rooms, bowling alleys and theaters during class hours, Dr. Charles L. Kopp, school superintendent, yesterday declared "tax payers have an investment in each child in school and should aid in seeing that they attend."

Dr. Kopp was commenting on a recent letter addresed to managers of the amusement places by Arthur G. Ramey, public pesonnel supervisor, asking that school children be kept out of the establishments during school hours to aid the educators in combatting unnecessary and illegal absenteeism.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn informed Board of Education officials yesterday that special officers will be assigned to Board of Education inspectors when they check on the amusement places if he is advised of the inspections.

Dr. Kopp explained "we want children to go to school because it fits them to become better citizens. While they are in school, however, they do not always realize the advantages that are being offered. For that reason the state has set up laws making it obligatory for them to attend."

The police officers can be of great assistance to educators, in reporting suspected truancy acts, Dr. Kopp asserted, adding "all citizens as tax payers have a stake in education and children who are not taking advantage of educational opportunities are not benefiting by the funds that are expended in their behalf."

Parents and children are sometimes indifferent, and in many incidents even if the parents are interested, pupils fail to take advantage of the educational system, according to Dr. Kopp. "In such cases," he declared, "laws must be applied in order that the children will be prepared to accept their place in life."

The citizens of the community need to co-operate in creating a desirable attitude toward school attendance, Dr. Kopp emphasized, adding they can help by reporting suspected illegal absenteeism to proper authorities so that action can be taken.

Chief Flynn in a letter to educational officials stated:

"I believe that sending an officer with your inspectors will have more effect on keeping children out of such places during school hours. However, if you have other ideas for enforcing the state laws, I will gladly co-operate."

Mrs. Troxell, 93, Well Known Local Woman Succumbs

Mrs. Alice Isabell French Troxell, 93, widow of Charles S. Troxell, who was prominent in the civic affairs of this city for over half a century, died last night at 7:30 o'clock at her home, 106 Decatur Street.

Mrs. Troxell was in good health and interested in civic and world affairs when she celebrated her 93rd birthday July 12 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl C. Hetzel, with whom she made her home. She had been seriously ill for about a week.

She was a native of Baltimore, a daughter of the late Capt. Robert A. and Mary Elizabeth Wood French, and came to Cumberland with her parents in the first year of the Civil War, when her father, who was employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was transferred here. During the latter years of his railroad career, he was superintendent of the Romney Division.

In 1876 she was married to Charles S. Troxell in St. Paul's Lutheran Church here with Rev. Mr. Holloway officiating.

Since coming to this city, Mrs. Troxell has been a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and took an active part in its activities until failing health forced her to curtail her activities.

She was one of the charter members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Central YMCA and served as its president for 35 years.

Although she has lived a retired life for several years, she retained her keen interest in the contemporary affairs.

Besides Mrs. Hetzel, who was her only child, she is survived by three grandchildren, Mrs. Alice Hetzel Crist, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Charles A. Williams, Panama, and Mrs. F. Bruce Fable, this city, and three great grandchildren.

Friends will be received at the home from 7:30 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Textile Workers Begin Political Action Drive Here

The chief aim of the Political Action Committee drive which has been inaugurated by Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, will be to elect Congressmen who will work in the interests of labor, Joseph J. Barley, chairman, announced yesterday.

Other aims in the drive, he said, will be to bring about the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law, reduction in the cost of living, to achieve a spread in the coverage of the Social Security Law and to repeal the Maryland sales tax.

The drive in the 8,500 member Textile union began last week, he said, adding that the union is beginning to prepare for the 1948 elections.

One of the plans for the present campaign, he said, is the organization of clubs in precincts and districts in order to organize eligible voters in the election.

"Big business believes in political action. It pays off," Barley said in his letter to the membership announcing the opening of the drive. It is time, he added, that every laboring man and his family recognizes that political action is a necessary part of living.

City Group Inspects Roanoke Airport

Mayor Thomas S. Post, accompanied by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and two members of the Municipal Airport Commission, spent yesterday on an inspection tour of the airport in Roanoke, Va.

The commission was represented by T. Donald Shires, secretary, and Thomas Lohr Richards. At a recent meeting the commission decided to inspect various airports in neighboring states, regarding methods of operation.

Handling Of Football Crowds Aided By New Program, Keegan Reports

Football crowds are being handled more adequately at Fort Hill stadium because of a co-operative program worked out between the Board of Education and the Police Department, Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said yesterday.

Following a conference with Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, several weeks ago, Keegan said arrangements were made to appoint older members of the student body to aid city and auxiliary police in handling crowds.

Sgt. John H. Newhouse reported to Keegan yesterday that at the last two Friday night games at Fort Hill stadium, 20 students assisted the four police officers whose services were donated by the city, three other officers paid by the Board of Education, and two auxiliary policemen.

Kopp Praises Officers

Keegan pointed out that interest in high school football is increasing so rapidly that attendance at most of the games so far this season has been as great as that at annual Turkey Day games. He added that at the start of the season only three officers were assigned to the stadium, as compared with 20 officers on duty at the 1946 Thanksgiving Day game.

In a recent letter to Keegan, Superintendent Kopp expressed his appreciation of the improved conditions at the stadium, praising the efforts of Sgt. Newhouse and his staff of officers in keeping the playing field cleared.

Regarding future improvements under the program, Keegan said he plans to suggest to Kopp that a first aid room be set up at the stadium. He said arrangements might be made with the Red Cross to furnish volunteers to stand by in case of need.

Improvements Suggested

Dr. John K. Rozum, city physician, has been present at the games in case of injury to the football players, and police officers are trained in first aid, but a room should be provided where injured persons could be taken for emergency treatment, Keegan said.

The commissioner said he also plans to suggest that floodlights be installed at the stadium entrance and at either end of the stadium wall to aid officers in directing traffic before and after games.

He said Kopp has already taken under consideration a suggestion to

12 Tons Of Paper Collected Here

Today the collection will cover all sections north of Baltimore Street and Baltimore Avenue.

BIRTHS

Memorial Hospital reported the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Teeter, Route 2, a daughter.

Allegany Hospital reported the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Dodrill, 17 West First Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hinea, 317 Magruder Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. William Simons, Bedford Road, a son.

Other births reported here yesterday were:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Carder, Elkins, W. Va., a son, David Allen, October 19. Mrs. Carder is the former Evelyn M. Kerns, Ridgeley, W. Va.

Walsh Appeals For Generous Donations

Every community needs charitable and character building organizations, and those agencies in Cumberland are supported by annual Community Chest campaigns, William C. Walsh, former attorney general of the State of Maryland, said last night in a radio broadcast over Station WTBO.

Walsh gave his radio address as the "Keynote" speaker at the "kickoff dinner" of Cumberland's 1947 Community Chest campaign, which was held in the Central YMCA gymnasium.

Approximately 250 members of the campaign organization attended, receiving final instructions before the start of canvassing today. Goal of the drive, which will continue until November 6, is $75,393.51.

"We must have charitable agencies because some people are always less fortunate than others," Walsh said. "Since none of these agencies can be self-supporting, it is necessary to appeal to the public for their support."

Goals Exceeded

The speaker recalled that the Community Chest was organized in January, 1926, and that in the annual fund raising campaigns since that time, Cumberland residents have contributed $1,405,000 to the Chest, exceeding the total goals over the 21-year period by almost $29,000.

Three of the nine present Chest agencies, the YMCA, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, provide character-building organizations for youth which make better citizens, he pointed out.

All of the groups benefit Cumberland citizens in one way or another, and by contributing to the campaign "we all contribute to the well-being of the community in which we live," he said.

Walsh emphasized that the 1947 goal of $75,393.51 must be reached because the agencies will have to operate with the strictest economy even if the entire quota is raised. The figure is over $5,000 less than the total requests submitted by the agencies to the budget committee, he explained.

"Never before have so many of our people had the ability to give," he said. "I urge all Cumberland citizens to contribute as generously as possible."

John T. Fey, general chairman, who presided, urged campaign workers to complete their canvassing promptly. The first report luncheon will be held Friday at 12:15 p. m. at the "Y", and E. M. Brown, campaign director, stressed the importance of turning in reports on time. A corps of 20 auditors is being assembled to handle the returns, he added.

Others Give Talks

Thomas B. Finan, a member of the advance gifts section, emphasized that canvassers must be informed on the purposes of the campaign and on all phases of Community Chest work before asking for contributions.

Others who spoke briefly were Frederic W. Eiler, chairman of the classified section, and O. J. Hale, chairman of the Chest budget committee, who outlined the committee's work in studying fund requests of the nine agencies and preparing the 1947-48 budget.

RIO Wins Western Maryland Election

Engineers and firemen of the Western Maryland Railway voted earlier this month for union representation by the Railroad Industrial Organization, an independent union, according to an announcement made last night.

The engineers and firemen voted by some 100 votes for representation by the Railroad Industrial Organization rather than for representation by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, according to one spokesman who asked not to be identified.

Engineers and firemen once were affiliated with District 50, United Mine Workers, but withdrew from that organization.

Elmer Davis is president of the Railroad Industrial Organization.

State Commission To Hear Test Cases Here

The right of Allegany County's Board of Commissioners to grant tax exemptions to fraternal and veterans organizations will be aired Thursday when the State Tax Commission begins hearings in the Allegany County Court House on 16 test cases involving clubs in the county.

The hearings are the result of an appeal taken by Somerville Nicholson, county supervisor of assessments, after the Board of Commissioners unanimously voted to continue granting tax exemptions to Allegany County fraternal and veteran organizations last June.

Legal counsel for each of the 16 organizations, which Nicholson said would be a cross section of county clubs, were expected to present their cases to the state commission beginning at 10 a. m.

Will Test Policy

According to Nicholson the local cases will represent a test of state policy in exempting such organizations from real estate tax, and the decision of the board will have a bearing on all organizations in the state now freed of real estate taxes.

It has been a state custom, Nicholson explained, that fraternal organizations are treated as exempt property, but should the tax commission order collection of the assessments the same procedure will be followed in the other 22 counties and Baltimore City.

All of the income producing real estate of such organizations are presently taxed, he explained, but the buildings or parts of buildings used for lodge purposes exclusively have been exempted.

The tax exemption of clubs arose in this county after Nicholson assessed the organizations properties, but the Board of Commissioners ruled that the exemptions would be continued.

Nicholson ordered the estimated $1,400,000,000 worth of property owned by clubs returned to the Allegany County Tax books after being advised by Albert W. Ward, secretary of the Tax Commission, to review all clubs in the county "with a view of placing them on the books this year for 1948," since such exemptions are not provided for by state law.

If the commission orders the clubs, property taxed it would represent an additional income to the county of approximately $24,780 annually.

Rogan Will Preside

Joseph H. A. Rogan, Baltimore, chairman of the tax commission will preside at the hearings here along with Owen E. Hitchins, this city and William W. Travers, Salisbury, members of the commission. In addition to these men, Albert W. Ward, secretary, and H. Gerard Muller, Baltimore, chief supervisor of assessments, will attend the hearings.

Out of county "onlookers" expected to attend the hearing include Wilton W. Allen, supervisor of assessments in Montgomery County, and Simeon Clopper, supervisor of assessments in Washington County.

Nicholson listed the schedule of hearings as follows:

Called for 10 a. m. are The Ali Ghan Country Club, Inc.; Ali Ghan

Fires Burn Out As Weary Crews Welcome Rain

800 Acres Burn In Less Than Week

Forest wardens, guards, supervisors and volunteers who fought a score of woods fires in this district since last Wednesday, welcomed the rain early yesterday morning, and all fires in Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties were reported out last night by District Forester William Parr.

More than 800 acres, about 500 of which are in Allegany county, burned over during the past week, with an estimated total damage of about $3,000, according to Parr, who said more than 500 firemen aided in suppressing the flames.

Damage was limited to a few dollars per acre, Parr explained, because most of the fires occurred in brush, undergrowth and scrub areas, and did not get into big timber. Growth, of course, is retarded by fires of this nature, but fortunately no marketable timber except some props and pulp wood were destroyed.

Considerable small game perished in the flames, woodsmen believe, but all flames were brought under control without loss of human life. Several buildings were threatened at some points.

When rain began falling early yesterday morning, all fires in the district were under control, but enough rain fell to wet the ground, extinguish the flames and impede their progress.

Parr said last night that the sun and wind can dry out the woods very quickly, and the danger from fires is not over. Continued caution is urged in the next several weeks, unless there is very heavy rainfall, he explained. Persons in rural and suburban areas are particularly urged to exercise every precaution to burn no brush or debris, and motorists are urged to be careful in throwing matches or cigarets from autos.

The forester also stated that some of the fires in the past few days were of incendiary origin and an investigation is being continued on several fires. One man has been arrested in Garrett county, and other charges are expected to develop.

West Virginia foresters and volunteer fire fighters were back on the idle list last night, as "under control" or "burned out" reports came from all areas that were swept by the woodland blazes for more than a week.

Council Rejects Kimble's Liquor Dispensary Bill

Resolution To Be Brought Up Again

A resolution offered by Sen. Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) for introduction at the special session of the Legislature appointing the Allegany County Liquor Control Board as a committee to study the advisability of a county liquor dispensary and to study the new county liquor law was rejected yesterday by the Legislative Council.

Kimble said, however, that he intends to bring the matter up again when the Council meets Monday to study the Governor's program for the special session.

Rumors that the Allegany County Federation of Fraternal and Military Organizations has been seeking legislation to make sale of alcoholic beverages by bona fide clubs legal on Sunday was confirmed by Sen. Kimble and other members of the Allegany County Delegation who said they had been approached.

Kimble declared, however, that the measure is not of an emergency nature and said he believes there is no possibility that it will be introduced at the special session.

On the other hand, he pointed out that the committee studying the liquor dispensary question and the liquor laws also could delve into this matter.

The Legislative Council had informally agreed at its last session that local "emergency" bills should be in yesterday if they were to be considered at the special session.

The measure Kimble proposed to have drafted would direct that the liquor board, named at the last regular session, he directed to make

Sentence Will Be Passed Next Week

Two Cumberland men yesterday were convicted on charges of stealing an automobile by a Mineral County, W. Va., jury that deliberated less than an hour before returning a verdict.

Prosecuting Attorney Vernon E. Rankin said Eugene Griffith Moore, and Raymond Wills, both of Laing Avenue, this city, were found guilty of stealing the automobile of W. B. Woolf, last July 19, and will probably be sentenced next week.

Both youths were apprehended after what police called a "wild night," during which they allegedly took three cars. The first in Maryland which was driven to Paw Paw, W. Va., and abandoned for another car, which was driven to Keyser and then abandoned when the Woolf car was taken.

Trooper R. R. Karichoff, West Virginia State Police, read a confession signed by Moore after his capture July 20, in which Moore admitted the theft of the three cars.

Robert Wolfe, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a girl under 18 years of age, was also found guilty by a Mineral County jury, after evidence was introduced

Fines In Police Court Expected To Exceed Levy

Flynn Reveals Sum Of $9,240 Collected

The revenue from fines in Police Court, estimated at $10,000 in the annual municipal levy, is expected to be surpassed by at least $5,000 this year, according to Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn, who explained yesterday that much of the increase will be derived from traffic fines.

Flynn said reports for the first seven months of the City's fiscal year, which began April 1, show that $9,240 has been collected in fines imposed in Police Court and pointed out that traffic fines almost doubled in September and are close to tripling this month.

Fines in the fiscal month of October, which ended on the 25th, amounted to $1,846, according to Flynn who said that $803 of that amount came from fines imposed on 726 traffic violators, mostly parking violators.

Flynn announced that the fixing of traffic tickets would be stopped shortly after he was appointed chief of police and a noticable increase in revenue from that source showed in the month of September when 505 violators were fined a total of $591 as compared with 232 violations with fines of $251 in August.

In the first seven months of the fiscal year, 2,709 traffic violators were fined $3,083 while other convictions in police court in that period resulted in fines of $6,157.

A breakdown of the number of violations and the total fines are:

| Month | Traffic Violations | Fines | Other Violations | Fines |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| April ... | 436 | $ 492 | 210 | $ 790 |
| May ... | 293 | 369 | 193 | 849 |
| June ... | 306 | 353 | 124 | 487 |
| July ... | 211 | 224 | 155 | 690 |
| Aug. ... | 232 | 251 | 241 | 1,041 |
| Sept. ... | 505 | 591 | 197 | 1,257 |
| Oct. ... | 726 | 803 | 166 | 1,043 |
| Total .. | 2,709 | $3,083 | 1,286 | $6,157 |

Flynn said the money is deposited each day and at the end of each month is turned over to the City Treasury.

Suits Filed

Bills of complaint were filed in Equity yesterday in Circuit Court as follows: E. Joy Effland, vs John E. Effland, Jr.; Martha A. Stonnell vs Samuel E. Stonnell; and Virginia Siegmyer, vs Raymond Siegmyer.

Legislature To Act On Three County Measures

Headquarters Of Nutrition Unit To Be Transferred

Personnel To Work Out Of Baltimore

Plans are being made to close the administrative and professional office of the United States Public Health Service nutrition unit in the basement of City Hall, according to Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer.

Dr. Frantz said he has been informed by Dr. Robert H. Riley, director of the State Department of Health, that the unit's headquarters will be moved to Baltimore before the first of the year.

The nutrition demonstration unit was established in Cumberland in April, 1946, to conduct surveys in various schools and communities of the county in connection with a federal program to study different economic groups regarding nutritional defects and to set up an educational program on nutrition standards.

Dr. Frantz said he understands the nutrition unit, the first of its kind to be set up in Maryland, will continue its studies not only in this area but in other counties of the state as well, but will henceforth operate out of Baltimore.

Since headquarters were established in Cumberland, the unit has conducted comparative nutrition studies at Columbia and East Side Schools to determine the effect of a good school lunch program.

Studies have also been conducted at elementary schools in Westernport and Luke, and a nutrition survey was held in Kitzmiller, with Garrett County families in that area attending clinics on a voluntary basis for physical examinations, diet records and blood tests.

Dr. Clarence Velat, officer in charge of the unit, has already gone to Baltimore, and Miss Rose Fortuna, public health nurse, will leave today. Nicholas Barbella, staff chemist, expects to remain here until some time next month.

Another member of the unit, Miss Dolores Howley, assistant nurse officer, left last July to assume duties at Bethesda under the recently inaugurated cancer control program of the USPHS.

Dr. Frantz said yesterday he has requested Myers G. Light, commissioner of streets and public property, for permission to use the unit's office in the basement of City Hall for additional clinic and storage quarters, when the space becomes available.

Council Endorses Dam Resolution

Maryland's Legislative Council yesterday approved unanimously three bills pertaining to Cumberland and Allegany County for introduction at the special session of the Legislature on November 5, State Sen. Robert B. Kimble (R-Allegany) said last night.

The approved measures are these:

Creation of a sanitary district in LaVale to combat a water supply problem.

Regulation of strip mining in Allegany County.

Increased salaries for the mayor and councilmen of Cumberland without making the increase subject to a referendum.

The Council likewise approved unanimously a resolution to petition Congress to appropriate sufficient money to complete the Savage River Dam in Garrett County.

Kimble said it is planned for the Secretary of State to present the resolution in person to congressional leaders to bring to their attention the need for completing the dam for flood control purposes for Keyser and Piedmont, W. Va., and Westernport, Luke and Cumberland, Md.

A local Veteran-Jaycee Committee has prepared a resolution urging completion of the dam as a flood control device, and copies have been sent to numerous labor, civic, fraternal, veteran, professional, business and service groups, and already some 70 of these organizations have returned the resolution with their endorsement.

The salary measure approved by the Legislative Council would make effective at the beginning of the next city administration salary increases of from $1,200 to $2,400 for city commissioners and from $1,500 to $3,600 for the mayor. The bill passed at the regular session called for a referendum on the increases to be held at the same time as the city election next April.

Kimble said he has given the salary increases a "lot of thought" and believes the mayor and council of the "second city in the state are entitled to it."

He added that he does not believe the question of a salary increase should be tied up in a referendum at election time.

While Kimble said he has not yet had time to discuss this change with the Allegany County delegation, he said he hopes they will agree with his proposal to eliminate the referendum.

The strip mining bill, backed by Delegate William H. Geppert, is similar to a measure vetoed by Gov. William Preston Lane, Geppert said, because the title of the bill failed to mention that Garrett County was excluded although the bill itself specifically exempted Garrett County from the regulation.

The new measure does not mention Garrett County.

Revival of the strip mine bill came after the Legislative Council toured Western Maryland during the summer and declared that "something must be done to stop this destruction."

The legislators indicated at the time that they would look with favor upon a bill to regulate strip mining.

Creation of the sanitary district at LaVale is expected to meet an emergency water and sewage situation in the area, Kimble stated.

A four-man committee representing the LaVale Civic Improvement Association met with the Council last September and established the fact that an emergency situation existed at LaVale.

World War I Vet Found Dead In Tenant House

George Martin "Pete" Shoemaker, 56, veteran of World War I, was found dead at about 8:20 o'clock last night in a wash room on the second floor of an apartment building at 604 Virginia Avenue, according to city police.

City Police Detective Thomas J. See, and Patrolman C. W. Thompson investigated and said the man's body was lying on the floor, where it was found by Arthur F. McBride, who resides in the same building.

No evidence of foul play was discovered, police said, and Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner ordered the body removed to Hafer's Funeral Home.

Police said Shoemaker had been employed by Stanley Burke at his Fifth Street tavern, and neighbors believed he worked yesterday. They also stated the building where Shoemaker lived is a tenant house owned by John H. Twigg, 610 Virginia Avenue, and Shoemaker rented a room there which he shared with William Hott.

McBride, who found the body, told police he last saw Shoemaker alive at about 6:10 p. m. yesterday, going through the building.

Shoemaker was a veteran of World War I, and had undergone treatment recently at veterans hospitals, including Newton D. Baker and Aspinwall. Dr. Deming said last night death was due to natural causes. Shoemaker resided here most of his lifetime.

Surviving are one brother, Dewey Shoemaker, local taxi cab driver; one daughter, Mrs. Geraldine Wigfield, 210 Oak Street, one grandson,

Gen. J. W. Byron To Address Lions

Gen. Joseph W. Byron, Hagerstown businessman and veteran of two World Wars, will address the Cumberland Lions Club on "Can We Have Peace in Our Time" at the meeting at 12:15 p. m. today in Central Y. M. C. A.

Byron, a graduate of West Point, holds the rank of major general in the Officers Reserve Corps and was chief of the Army Exchange Service and director of special services during World War II. He holds the Distinguished Service Medal.

Byron is president of W. D. Byron and Son, Hagerstown tanners; president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Hagerstown; vice president of the Hagerstown Shoe Company, a member of the national executive board of the Boy Scouts of America and a past president of the Hagerstown Rotary Club.

He was chief of the leather shoe section of the War Production Board in 1941 and 1942, and in 1939 was chairman of the leather section of the Army and Navy Munitions Board.

Lynn C. Lashley is chairman of the Lions program committee for the meeting today.

Elliott Is Found Criminally Insane

Admitting after his arrest Monday that he set fire to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Duckworth and a haystack in the Bloomington section and started two small forest fires along the Swanton Road, Lawrence Elliott, 57, of West Virginia, was ordered committed to Springfield State Hospital yesterday as criminally insane, according to Deputy Sheriff Paul Fisher, of Garrett County.

Fisher said Garrett County State's Attorney Walter Dawson ordered a mental examination for Elliott and that the examination was made by Dr. E. I. Baumgardner, Garrett County deputy medical examiner, and Dr. Edward Sollars yesterday.

They found him criminally insane, the deputy said, and Elliott was taken to the state hospital at Sykesville later in the day by Sheriff J. S. Teats.

Earlier this month, Elliott attempted suicide at the Mineral County, W. Va., Jail at Keyser, authorities said, and Fisher stated that Monday night while he was imprisoned at Oakland he drank a small amount of disinfectant and broke several light bulbs, probably with the intention of eating some of the glass.

Fisher added, "We got to him before anything happened."

Elliott told officials, they said, that he started the fire at the house because he thought he was freezing to death.

Local 26 Committees Plan Meetings Today

Meetings for all committeemen of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO will be held today in the union hall to discuss contract changes, labor facts and grievances.

Second shift workers will meet from 1 to 2 p. m. and first and third shift committeemen will meet from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m., according to the announcement by A. E. Johnson, president. All interested members are invited to attend, he added.

Temperature Reading

A maximum temperature of 69 degrees was reported here yesterday, the mercury rising to that mark from an overnight low of 46. By 9:30 last night it had dropped eight degrees to 61. Biggest weather news yesterday, however, was the rain, the first of any consequence to fall this month. Up to 11:30 p. m. a total of .73 of an inch had been measured. More scattered showers and continued mild weather is predicted for today but cooler weather is expected tonight.

Mrs. Troxell, 93, Well Known Local Woman Succumbs

Mrs. Alice Isabell French Troxell, 93, widow of Charles S. Troxell, who was prominent in the civic affairs of this city for over half a century, died last night at 7:30 o'clock at her home, 106 Decatur Street.

Mrs. Troxell was in good health and interested in civic and world affairs when she celebrated her 93rd birthday July 12 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl C. Hetzel, with whom she made her home. She had been seriously ill for about a week.

She was a native of Baltimore, a daughter of the late Capt. Robert A. and Mary Elizabeth Wood French, and came to Cumberland with her parents in the first year of the Civil War, when her father, who was employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was transferred here. During the latter years of his railroad career, he was superintendent of the Romney Division.

In 1876 she was married to Charles S. Troxell in St. Paul's Lutheran Church here with Rev. Mr. Holloway officiating.

Since coming to this city, Mrs. Troxell has been a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and took an active part in its activities until failing health forced her to curtail her activities.

She was one of the charter members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Central YMCA and served as its president for 35 years.

Although she has lived a retired life for several years, she retained her keen interest in the contemporary affairs.

Besides Mrs. Hetzel, who was her only child, she is survived by three grandchildren, Mrs. Alice Hetzel Crist, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Charles A. Williams, Panama, and Mrs. F. Bruce Fable, this city, and three great grandchildren.

Friends will be received at the home from 7:30 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Textile Workers Begin Political Action Drive Here

The chief aim of the Political Action Committee drive which has been inaugurated by Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, will be to elect Congressmen who will work in the interests of labor, Joseph J. Barley, chairman, announced yesterday.

Other aims in the drive, he said, will be to bring about the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law, reduction in the cost of living, to achieve a spread in the coverage of the Social Security Law and to repeal the Maryland sales tax.

The drive in the 8,500 member Textile union began last week, he said, adding that the union is beginning to prepare for the 1948 elections.

One of the plans for the present campaign, he said, is the organization of clubs in precincts and districts in order to organize eligible voters in the election.

"Big business believes in political action. It pays off," Barley said in his letter to the membership announcing the opening of the drive. It is time, he added, that every laboring man and his family recognizes that political action is a necessary part of living.

City Group Inspects Roanoke Airport

Mayor Thomas S. Post, accompanied by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson and two members of the Municipal Airport Commission, spent yesterday on an inspection tour of the airport in Roanoke, Va.

The commission was represented by T. Donald Shires, secretary, and Thomas Lohr Richards. At a recent meeting the commission decided to inspect various airports in neighboring states, regarding methods of operation.

School Children Are Investment Of Tax Payers, Dr. Kopp Asserts

Advised that Cumberland Police will co-operate in keeping school children out of pool rooms, bowling alleys and theaters during class hours, Dr. Charles L. Kopp, school superintendent, yesterday declared "tax payers have an investment in each child in school and should aid in seeing that they attend."

Dr. Kopp was commenting on a recent letter addresed to managers of the amusement places by Arthur G. Ramey, public pesonnel supervisor, asking that school children be kept out of the establishments during school hours to aid the educators in combatting unnecessary and illegal absenteeism.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn informed Board of Education officials yesterday that special officers will be assigned to Board of Education inspectors when they check on the amusement places if he is advised of the inspections.

Dr. Kopp explained "we want children to go to school because it fits them to become better citizens. While they are in school, however, they do not always realize the advantages that are being offered. For that reason the state has set up laws making it obligatory for them to attend."

The police officers can be of great assistance to educators, in reporting suspected truancy acts, Dr. Kopp asserted, adding "all citizens as tax payers have a stake in education and children who are not taking advantage of educational opportunities are not benefiting by the funds that are expended in their behalf."

Parents and children are sometimes indifferent, and in many incidents even if the parents are interested, pupils fail to take advantage of the educational system, according to Dr. Kopp. "In such cases," he declared, "laws must be applied in order that the children will be prepared to accept their place in life."

The citizens of the community need to co-operate in creating a desirable attitude toward school attendance, Dr. Kopp emphasized, adding they can help by reporting suspected illegal absenteeism to proper authorities so that action can be taken.

Chief Flynn in a letter to educational officials stated:

"I believe that sending an officer with your inspectors will have more effect on keeping children out of such places during school hours. However, if you have other ideas for enforcing the state laws, I will gladly co-operate."

Handling Of Football Crowds Aided By New Program, Keegan Reports

Football crowds are being handled more adequately at Fort Hill stadium because of a co-operative program worked out between the Board of Education and the Police Department, Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said yesterday.

Following a conference with Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, several weeks ago, Keegan said arrangements were made to appoint older members of the student body to aid city and auxiliary police in handling crowds.

Sgt. John H. Newhouse reported to Keegan yesterday that at the last two Friday night games at Fort Hill stadium, 20 students assisted the four police officers whose services were donated by the city, three other officers paid by the Board of Education, and two auxiliary policemen.

Kopp Praises Officers

Keegan pointed out that interest in high school football is increasing so rapidly that attendance at most of the games so far this season has been as great as that at annual Turkey Day games. He added that at the start of the season only three officers were assigned to the stadium, as compared with 20 officers on duty at the 1946 Thanksgiving Day game.

In a recent letter to Keegan, Superintendent Kopp expressed his appreciation of the improved conditions at the stadium, praising the efforts of Sgt. Newhouse and his staff of officers in keeping the playing field cleared.

Regarding future improvements under the program, Keegan said he plans to suggest to Kopp that a first aid room be set up at the stadium. He said arrangements might be made with the Red Cross to furnish volunteers to stand by in case of need.

Improvements Suggested

Dr. John K. Rozum, city physician, has been present at the games in case of injury to the football players, and police officers are trained in first aid, but a room should be provided where injured persons could be taken for emergency treatment, Keegan said.

The commissioner said he also plans to suggest that floodlights be installed at the stadium entrance and at either end of the stadium wall to aid officers in directing traffic before and after games.

He said Kopp has already taken under consideration a suggestion to

12 Tons Of Paper Collected Here

Twelve tons of wastepaper were collected yesterday on the West Side as the monthly campaign continued, boosting to a total of 16 tons the amount collected to date.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Teeter, Route 2, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Dodrill, 17 West First Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hinea, 317 Magruder Street, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. William Simons, Bedford Road, a son.

Other births reported here yesterday were:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Carder, Elkins, W. Va., a son, David Allen, October 19. Mrs. Carder is the former Evelyn M. Kerns, Ridgeley, W. Va.
